Major John Mallery, U. S. A., Instantly Killed in New York This Morning

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Major John Mallery, U. S. A., retired, jumped from the tenth floor of the Hotel Manhattan today and was instantly killed. He had been suffering from melancholia and was under the care of a nurse. His wife, who was a Miss Thurnau of Alton, S. C., was also ill. Their home was in Newport, R. I., and they had been stopping here for the last two weeks. Major Mallery was 59 years old and a graduate of West Point in the class of 1863. He was born in Pennsylvania and was appointed to the military academy from Alabama.

REPUDIATE REMARKS OF BLEASE

Sweeping Resolution Adopted by Governors' Conference in Richmond Today

RICHMOND, Dec. 6.—A sweeping resolution repudiating the remarks of Gov. Blease of South Carolina in support of Lynch law was adopted by the governors' conference today by a vote of 11 to 4. Governor Blease defending himself, snapped his fingers in the faces of the other governors and declared he cared not one whit what the conference did or left undone.

Second Day of the Pure Food Fair a Success— Prof. Hickey Kept Busy Testing Various Foods

GENERAL VIEW OF FOOD FAIR

The second day of the Domestic Science and Food Fair which is being conducted at the state armory in Westford street by the Middlesex Women's club and the four local militia companies, proved almost as successful as the opening night. There was a good attendance present in the afternoon and evening and all seemed to greatly enjoy the exposition of pure foods and other interesting articles.

This brief address also proved very instructive. Prof. Hickey, the expert chemist, was yesterday afternoon and evening a very busy man. In the afternoon he devoted his attention to the analyzing of baking powders, and a few hundred products in his experiments he showed that many powders were up to the standard, while others contained deleterious substances and were not recommended.

Saturday, there will be free analysis of confectionery, a still hunt for coal tar, dyes, glue, starch, etc. Monday, Dec. 9, the public may bring in bakery goods that are under suspicion, for chemical analysis.

Suit for $10,000 Heard Before Judge McLaughlin in the Superior Court

The case of William J. Ryan against Charles L. Marren et al., an action of tort, which was opened before Judge McLaughlin in the superior court on Wednesday, was given to the jury shortly before noon recess today. The plaintiff claimed that on May 3, 1912 he entered the saloon in Gorham street which is conducted by the defendants and was assaulted by persons in the employ of the defendants and also bitten by a dog, which he claims was set on him. The defendants answer was a general denial.

WHITE SLAVE CHARGE
Boston Man Accused by 16 Year-Old Girl

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—The federal grand jury yesterday afternoon returned an indictment against Arthur Cordova, the Boston café musician, who was arrested several days ago on a charge of violating the white slave traffic act. The girl in the case, mainly upon whose evidence Cordova was indicted, is Miss Bessie B. Taber of New York. Miss Taber, who is but 16 years old, is now at the Massachusetts General hospital, having left there yesterday only long enough to give her evidence against Cordova.

Other indictments returned by the grand jury yesterday were against Joseph Nanni of Charlestown, for having counterfeited half dollars in his possession; Joseph Petrillo and Harry Larns, both of New York, for similar offenses; Ignace Tworok, for passing a counterfeited 25-cent piece at Holyoke; Albert E. Andrews and James W. Otto, for harboring William M. Josely, a deserter from the navy; Wm. C. Draper, a 16-year-old boy who broke into the postoffice at East Norton; Benjamin Costa, for violating the passenger act by bringing an unauthorized number of passengers from the shores on the ship of which he was master; Yee Sing and Moy Nui, Boston Chinese, for unlawfully having opium in their possession; and Samuel Rottenburg of New York and Herbert J. Keith, a South Market street produce dealer, for shipping from New York eggs marked as for mechanical purposes and afterward selling them to a baker for food purposes.

No bills were found against Thomas L. Handrahan of South Boston, a youthful driver of a mail wagon, who was charged with theft from the mails; Charles T. Hart, charged with breaking into the postoffice at South Farnstable; and Joseph Bacon, charged with selling liquor without a federal license at Ludlow.

THE CHRISTMAS CANDIES
Holiday Sweets

For nut wafers put three cupful of white sugar, one cupful of corn syrup and a half cupful of milk into a pan over the fire and stir until it begins to boil. Then let it boil for about ten minutes without stirring, just watching it carefully to see that it does not scorch. Test it in cold water, and as soon as it hardens in the water remove it from the fire and keep stirring vigorously while you add a half cupful of chopped nuts. The best nuts for the purpose are domestic walnuts. As the candy thickens pour it into a buttered tin and mark into squares.

Reliable Chocolate Caramels
Put three cupful of granulated sugar, one cupful of pure syrup, a quarter of a pound of chocolate, one cupful of butter and one cupful of milk into a saucepan and boil together, stirring it frequently until it hardens when tested in ice water. This does not mean that it should be permitted to become brittle, but just of caramel consistency. Then pour into buttered pans and mark into squares as soon as it becomes cool enough. When the caramels are cold enough to retain their shape wrap them in oiled paper.

Molasses Foam
This candy is delicious and very cheap when homemade. Boil equal parts (say one cup each) of sugar and molasses together until the mixture becomes brittle when tested in ice water, then put into this first lemon flavored (just a few drops) and a level teaspoonful of carbonate of soda, and fashioned baking soda. Stir very briskly and be prepared for the candy to foam up over twice the quantity it was before the soda is added; hence the necessity for making it in a big pan and of having your buttered tin at hand to pour it in instantly when it is thoroughly risen. This candy must never be exposed to sudden cold while cooling.

Candy For the Stocking
To make stick candy put three pounds of granulated sugar in a kettle with two teaspoonful of water and a teaspoonful of cream of tartar dissolved in a little warm water. Stir over the fire until the sugar is dissolved. Cover the kettle while the syrup is boiling. Stir carefully. When a few drops will harden in cold water take the candy from the fire and add the coloring and flavoring. Pour out into well buttered plates. When cool pull and make into sticks. If clear candy is desired pour into the plates, when nearly cold and mark it off in squares or flat sticks, which, when cold, may be taken apart.

Decorating Christmas Tree
Perhaps you are tired of ornamenting your Christmas tree year after year with an indiscriminate array of colors. If so, there are many novel ways of getting startling effects which are surprisingly beautiful. Can you picture anything lovelier than a "butterfly tree," all green and lightness and beauty? The dark green of the tree makes a splendid background for these airy creatures, regardless of their size and shape and color. When you have the tree and the sparkling lights, if these lights are electric bulbs the effect is indeed that of fairyland. The butterflies can be made first by cutting a pattern of the butterfly from which they can be fashioned of different colors and materials. Translucent paper which shows different hues when held up to the light is a helpful suggestion. Colored gauzes, over which sponges or silver dust may be sprinkled; tissue paper of gold or silver, and scraps of velvet which may be turned into the larger light moths—these are caught from branch to branch. While candles cast their rays everywhere, slender polished leaves made of glass glisten in the light and white stars and balls dipped in silver dust make this tree a memorable sight.

All packages attached to the branches should be wrapped in soft white paper, and all ornaments should pertain to the symbolism of winter. Trees of gold and white or white and silver have also been found beautiful and not difficult to arrange, as all the ornaments and gifts are kept to the color scheme.

ALDERMAN BARRETT HOME AGAIN

He Talks of Tractors Used to Help Fire Engines to Climb Steep Hills

Alderman Barrett is back from Washington, where for one day, he attended the convention of the National Rivers and Harbors congress, and it is stated that his return is due to a telegram which he received advising him of certain political advertising that should have his attention.

Mr. Barrett did not say that he had received a telegram advising him to come home. "I am not bothering with anything except the water and fire departments," he said, when asked if he was going to say anything about the advertisement in question and having to do with the purchase of a car of lead.

"I did not leave Lowell for Washington and I did not come home any sooner than I intended. I am interested in the subject matter of the convention now being held in Washington and I had the privilege of voicing my sentiments at one of the meetings and I talked with several men who will have to do, finally, with the proposition. That was all I could do and having said my little piece I came home."

"Where did you go when you left Lowell if you did not go direct to Washington?" queried the reporter.

"I went to Springfield and from there to New York," replied Mr. Barrett.

"and," he added, "I was busy every minute."

New Fire Apparatus

Mr. Barrett visited the Knox company's plant in Springfield. The Knox people are a combination hose and chemical for the fire department of Lowell and the machine will be delivered before the first of January. It will cost $2500 and it was one of three that have been ordered by the city. The other two machines will be of a different make. One will be a Seagrave and the other a Robinson. The former is made in Columbus and the other in St. Louis. The Knox machine will be the first to be delivered and the others will arrive a little later.

After leaving Springfield Mr. Barrett went to New York and visited the fire department there. "I had one particular purpose in view in going to New York," said the alderman, "and I am very glad I went. I have made up my mind that horses are too slow a purchase for fire engines, and I am looking for something better."

"Chief Hosmer, I think at the last convention he attended, met Chief Kenyon of the New York fire department and they had a long talk. Mr. Hosmer spoke of the difficulty sometimes experienced with horse-drawn steamers especially where it is necessary to climb hills as is the case in Centralville. Chief Kenyon told him that the New York fire department had overcome that difficulty by using tractors on their engines. Chief Hosmer was very much interested and repeated to me his conversation with Chief Kenyon. The thing appealed to me, too, and I decided that when I found time would investigate. I found that the Chrysler tractor used by the New York fire department and that it was not adopted until all other makes had been used in competition. The New York fire department does not buy anything, of the bat, so to speak. The department is in New York all right, but when it comes to purchasing anything, the department is from Missouri."

Motorizes the Steamer

"The tractor is an automobile minus a wheel or two. The Chrysler tractor has two wheels and there are other makes that have three wheels. They are very powerful, 30 horses or more, and they cost somewhere in the vicinity of $2500. The tractor is attached to the two front wheels of the steamer and when the starts, believe me, there's something doing. We need tractors for the Centralville steamer, the hose tender and the aerial ladder. I went over to Rochester, N. J., where the Chrysler tractor is manufactured and more out of curiosity than anything else. I asked what would be the earliest date they could supply a tractor. Their answer rather staggered me. They told me they would not think of taking an order before April 1."

About Fire Hose

The hose question is a very important question, too, as Chief Hosmer has often times declared, and I looked into the hose question while in New York. I talked with officers of the National Fire Protection Association of America relative to the different grades of hose and I got some very valuable information on that point. The underwriters and hose concerns represented in the association have literature that is mightily interesting. They don't do a thing to some of the hose concerns and we are now calling a spade a spade the National Fire Protection Association is it. There is one thing that the association is very much opposed to and that is the usual guarantee that goes with hose such as is used by the fire department of this city. The association allows that such guarantees do not amount to much and that they do not improve the quality of the hose. If a hose bursts at a fire the guarantee that says it will stand 100 pounds more pressure than the amount of pressure that burst it, is a very worthless piece of paper and the aim of the association is to have the manufacturers make the kind of hose that will stand the test without a guarantee. The bursting of a hose at a fire is a very serious affair and we need a whole lot of new hose right here in this city."

Waterways Outlook Good

After having finished with his talk on fire apparatus, Mr. Barrett told of his day's stay in Washington.

Do you think there is much chance of an appropriation for the deepening of the Merrimack river channel?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, I do," replied Mr. Barrett. "The Massachusetts delegation," he continued, "has made a very favorable impression in Washington. They are standing shoulder to shoulder and are offering very persuasive arguments in favor of the deepening of waterways in this section of the country. I talked with men from the west and south and they did not talk as though they wanted to get the whole loaf. They listened attentively to what the Massachusetts delegation had to say. I feel sure that something will be done on the Merrimack river. I do not imagine the war will be given a very large appropriation in the beginning, but once a start is made there'll be nothing to it."

DIED OF HIS INJURIES

William McHugh Who Fractured His Skull Sunday, Passed Away at St. John's Hospital Last Night

The many friends of William McHugh of 156 Middlesex street, will be pained to learn of his death which occurred last night at St. John's hospital, where he was removed after fracturing his skull by falling at his home.

The accident occurred Sunday afternoon and the injured man was taken to the hospital. In an effort to save his life the physicians performed trepanning through the soft bone of his skull. It seemed to rally well from the operation but within the last few days he weakened and his death last night was not entirely unexpected.

Deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Frederick Lyman of this city and Mrs. White of New York; three sons, James of Jersey City, N. J., Robert of New York and William, linotype operator at The Sun. He was employed at the Klison Machine shop for a number of years and was a prominent member of Court Gen. Shields, P. of A. The body was removed to the home of his daughter, Frederick Lyman, 71 Mammoth road by Undertakers C. H. Molloy & Sons.

BARBERS CELEBRATED

They Observed 25th Anniversary of International Union—Affair Was Held Last Night at 22 Middle Street

The local lodge of the Barbers' union observed the 25th anniversary of the inception of the international union last night, the affair being held at their quarters, 22 Middle street. President Costello presided over the assembly and a very pleasant evening was spent.

A musical and literary program was rendered, those taking part being as follows: Commissioners James E. Donnelly and Lawrence Cummings, Andrew Burns, Joseph John, Y. J. Greer, Frank Lescaud presided at the piano. There were also addresses on unionism by Charles E. Burns, and the officers of the Trades and Labor council. A light luncheon was served.

CONGRESSIONAL APPROPRIATION

Of $50,000,000 Annually for Waterway Improvement is Recommended

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—An annual congressional appropriation of at least $50,000,000 for waterway improvement was recommended in a resolution adopted by the closing session of the ninth annual convention of the national rivers and harbors congress. Another resolution urged the creation by congress of a department of public works of which the corps of army engineers would be a part. The waterway congress also passed a resolution congratulating congress "upon its enactment of immunity through the recently enacted Panama canal law from tolls upon ships engaged in our coastwise trade and upon the protection to waterborne commerce afforded by said law against railroad ownership or control of water lines."

Actual Business Today.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Delegates to the ninth annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors congress after two days of speeches got ready for actual business today. While President Taft and other noted speakers had discussed the broad question of waterway improvement, scores of others attending the meeting had important business to transact.

Chief interest centers today in the reports of committees and the secretary. Vice presidents, one from each state, will be named by the various state delegations and the convention is scheduled to close with a general statement by President Ransdell. The meeting of the woman's national rivers and harbors congress, in session in conjunction with the larger organization, also adjourns today.

FORTY LIVES MAY BE LOST

"Weather Bad and Outlook Dark," Were Last Words From Wrecked Steamer

DELUTH, Minn., Dec. 6.—"The weather is bad; outlook dark;" were the last words heard from the steamer Easton of the Booth line, which is hanging suspended from the rocks 35 miles of this side of Port Arthur, Ont. Fifteen passengers and a crew of 25 are aboard, according to the last information from the scene of the accident. The Booth company here, early this morning, declared that they were standing by and that they had received both passengers and crew. Other and private information denies this and declares that the Easton is in a precarious position. The scene of the wreck is at Thunder bay. All last night a stiff northeast gale raised mountainous waves while snow fell heavily.

A report early this morning was abroad that there had been loss of life and the local wireless station made every effort to substantiate or deny but without success. The weather is clearing.

All the way between Salt Ste. Marie and the American head of the lakes are ships of various burden and cargoes, making their way through rough seas. Most of these are coal laden. Vessels here today were apprehensive about these heavy craft. In the fleet are some of the best known craft on the great lakes.

COLORED MAN HANGED

100 Witnessed Execution of Wesley Miles

PRINCESS ANNE, Md., Dec. 6.—In a grove of pine trees on the county almshouse farm near here Wesley Miles, colored, was legally hanged at dawn today for criminal assault upon the 16-year-old daughter of former Sheriff W. G. Phillips of Somerset county last May.

The execution was witnessed by a crowd of about 100 men and boys who had torn down the board enclosure surrounding the gallows but there was no other interference with the officers of the law.

BAY STATE WATERWAYS DISCUSSED

Effort to Line Up New Englanders Against Appropriations for Aid of Mississippi

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—There was a wide variety of activities yesterday among the Massachusetts delegates to the Rivers and Harbors congress. Their day was concluded with a conference in the New Willard hotel, where Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania sought to "line up" New England against voting for appropriations for the Mississippi river. This attitude of hostility is becoming emphatic. The conference adopted resolutions against diverting rivers and harbors appropriations to schemes of "Irrigation and Conservation."

Two meetings were held in Representative Gardner's room at the capital yesterday morning, which had to do with proposed improvements. The first of these meetings was one of the Merrimack Valley Improvement Association, with ex-representative W. S. McNary, Judge Charles C. Palmer, Lewis A. Hovey, Charles Sutherland and Representative Phelan of Lynn, present.

There was discussion of appropriations which will be asked by congress for that project on the river and harbor bill about to be framed.

Plan for Connecticut

This meeting was followed by another, which members of the special commission on the Connecticut river and Representative George P. Laurence attended. Those present went over the draft of a bill proposed by the Connecticut River company, for taking over the power at Windsor Locks on the Connecticut river, constructing locks and turning these over to the government.

It is claimed that the provisions of this bill are likely to prove satisfactory to all concerned. Senator Burton of Ohio, an influential member of the commerce commission, approves of the idea but is to be shown the bill today. There will be other conferences also today, including some to do with improvements of Boston harbor, all with a view to acquainting members of the rivers and harbors committee of congress with projects in which Massachusetts is interested.

Representative Peters yesterday offered a bill for a survey by army engineers to determine the feasibility of a continuous waterway, inland where ever possible, between Boston and some suitable point on the coast of Maine. The bill also would extend the survey now being made from Boston south to Beaufort, N. C. under the act of 1908. It is proposed that the army engineers shall report on the probable expense of constructing these canals, and to make recommendations as to the necessity for the establishment for commercial and military purposes.

Railroads Need Waterways

Senator Poindexter of Washington, in an address before the Rivers and Harbors congress, declared that the time had come for the development of every resource in this country and emphasized waterway development as one of the country's most important. He asserted that the railways need waterway transportation aid, not so as to have competition but because the rail lines cannot handle the trade. He spoke also of the importance of carrying through to completion river improvement work on which large sums already had been spent so that the returns on the investment would not be delayed.

The private enterprise and control never would give proper water terminal facilities was a declaration of George Norris, director of the wharves, docks and ferries of Philadelphia. He advocated public ownership of water frontage.

Harold F. McCormick, vice-president and treasurer of the International Harvester company, expressed the opinion that, as with the Panama canal, a large bond issue should be created for the purpose of improving on a large scale the waterways of the country.

F. W. Donnelly of Trenton, N. J., advocated that the interstate commerce commission be given jurisdiction over the inland and intracoastal waterways and the coastwise shipping of the country.

Secretary of War Slinson scored the promiscuous granting of valuable water rights to private interests.

"The benefits of this country should be the benefits from these resources," he declared. "I am greatly interested

Friday and Saturday Free Pants Day

To create interest--to arouse interest--to make you come into my store, so that you can see just exactly what this man Mitchell, the Tailor, has for goods, I make this offer.

A lot of people have no idea of the kind of goods I carry. If I can only get them to take the trouble to investigate, they would make good customers for me. If you have never seen what I sell for $12.50, suits and overcoats, you can't know and I can't interest you. Once you see my goods and know what I can do, why, I always have a chance to sell you when you do happen to need clothing.

Therefore, I make my Free Pants offer. Leave your order Friday or Saturday for a Suit or Overcoat and pick out something for a pair of trousers absolutely free of charge.

The only condition I impose is that you leave your order for either a Suit or Overcoat and get a Free Receipt for the Pant before you leave the store. I won't charge you one cent extra on the Suit, because I absolutely give the Pant free of all charge. But you are not entitled to the Pant unless you come from this advertisement and say so. If the Pant is worth while taking, it is worth asking for. Pick out what you want, get measured and before you go out say, "I read The Sun and I want a Free Pant."

In the question of building levees on the Mississippi river, I thoroughly believe this should be a national question. It was brought to my attention by the war department went to the relief of hundreds. The control of the Mississippi comes nearer to us than the work at Panama."

Ask Aid for Levees

Liberal appropriations for Mississippi river levees were urged before the house committee on rivers and harbors today by a large delegation from the rivers and harbors congress. The committee was hearing arguments preliminary to making its final draft of the river and harbor bill, the total of which may reach $20,000,000.

The delegation argued that the Mississippi valley agricultural districts had put up $60,000,000 for levees against $25,000,000 contributed by the federal government. They asked to have the government contribute $2 for every $1 paid in by the taxpayers along the river.

Although expressing his deep sympathy with the movement looking to the improvement of the water ways of the Mississippi valley, President Taft in addressing the White House a delegation from the lakes to the Gulf association, referred to what he termed the "formidable difficulties" in the way of carrying out the project. The president declared, however, that if the members would "press and press, the solution in a satisfactory form will be had."

To the more than one hundred delegates the president expressed his thanks for expressing to him "that delicate compliment which comes from the intimation by your petition that I have the power to confer on you the benefit you seek and this in view of the fact that the sceptre of any power I may have had is soon to pass from me."

PASSED WORTHLESS CHECKS ON LOWELL BANK

Woman Believed to be One of the Cleverest Bogus Check Workers That Ever Operated in New England

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—A woman, believed one of the cleverest bogus check workers that ever operated in New England, is being sought by the police of Boston, Salem, Lowell, and other cities throughout New England. She is apparently about 35 years of age and has conducted her operations under the name of "Mrs. C. H. Hart, Natick, N. W. C. A."

It was learned yesterday that her latest victims were two prominent Salem merchants and other disclosures from Salem victims are expected shortly, as it has been the woman's custom to make a clean-up in each city before moving on.

Dressed in black, she entered the coal offices of George W. Pickering and ordered a ton and a half of coal to be sent to "15 South Pine street." She paid the bill with a $15 check on the Savings bank of Lowell, signing the same as "Mrs. C. H. Hart." It was later learned that there is no "15 South Pine street" in Salem. Later she entered the clothing store of Tabbot & Co., and made purchases amounting to $25, paying with a $35 check on the Savings Bank of Lowell.

The Lowell bank notified the Salem authorities that the checks were worthless and that similar checks had been coming in to the bank from all over New England, every one of them from a "Mrs. C. H. Hart."

The woman's operations have extended throughout many cities and towns. She was nearly apprehended in Nashua, N. H., but escaped.

TRUST ALLEGED
Springfield Coal Consumers' League Holds Meeting—To Buy Direct From Mines

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 6.—The Springfield Coal Consumers' league, organized to defeat high prices for coal, was addressed today by Pres. John J. Clark and Sec. William Hayhurst of the association, the meeting being held on Beacon lawn of the armory.

Pres. Clark contended that Springfield dealers have organized a trust which has the power to fix the price of coal beyond the reach of the laboring classes. Sec. Hayhurst followed, stating that he had bought two tons of coal at $6.50 a ton, which is $3 under the price for coal asked by local dealers, who are charging about $9 a ton. He said the league has decided to buy coal direct from the mines and that the organization intends to enroll 1000 members in Springfield. Membership cards were distributed.

Donovan Silent About Hoxford

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—James Donovan of Malden, president of the James Donovan Shipper company of Everett, which was yesterday petitioned into bankruptcy in the United States district court, declared last night that if it had not been for recent "unfortunate occurrences" he would have been able to meet all obligations and settle with the creditors of the company in full.

"Only a Frog," Says Witness

St. Louis, Dec. 6.—Two implement dealers testified yesterday afternoon at the hearing of the government's suit to dissolve the International Harvester Company that they had been forced to return car lot shipments of independent companies' machinery in order to obtain more supplies from the International.

William H. Green of Creighton, Neb., who testified this morning that his supply of International machines had been taken from him because of his anti-trust views on cross-examination this afternoon was asked why he was inclined to so-called trusts. "I considered I was only a frog in a tub," Green replied, "and had to jump when the International got after me to protect myself or it would drive me into bankruptcy."

TO PRESERVE NATIONAL SAFETY

United States Must Have Bigger Navy, Says Secretary Meyer in Annual Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The United States must have a bigger navy and must be prepared to meet any chance of war in the opinion of Secretary Meyer of the navy department, if it is to preserve its national safety. In his annual report, made public today, Secretary Meyer pleads for three new battleships this year, and declares that this country soon will fall from second to fourth place in the relative standing of naval powers, if it continues the policy of building only two ships each year.

International peace has been brought no nearer, the secretary declares, so far as a limitation of armaments is concerned. To guard its coast and protect its commercial activities, the United States needs a permanent navy of 41 capital ships—battleships and battle cruisers—according to Secretary Meyer. The present strength of the navy in battleships is about 33, but four ships will soon be retired as obsolete.

Secretary Meyer's report is a recital of the development of the navy during the year, with few recommendations beyond those contained in his former reports. He gives chief emphasis to his recommendation that the navy be increased according to a program that will keep the nation in its present position among the world powers, and the suggestion that congress remove the limit upon the amount of money that can be spent for aviation and permit the navy to compete with the like establishments of other nations in developing aerial methods of defense. For the coming year the secretary of the navy urges that congress appropriate money for three battleships of the Dreadnaught class and for two battle cruisers, sixteen destroyers, six submarines, two gunboats, and a fleet of auxiliaries to include transports, supply ships, tugs, tenders and a drydock. The navy general board recommends four battleships; and Secretary Meyer points out that even though this number should be authorized it would mean no real increase in the navy, as four ships are soon to be retired because they will have passed the age of 25 years.

Secretary Meyer expresses skepticism as to the abolition of war in the near future. Wars come with little or no warning, he says, and only by the possession of an efficient fleet of adequate size will the country be safe from attack and free to work out its own destiny in peace and without hindrance.

"The history of all times, including the present, shows the futility and danger of trusting to the good will and fair dealing, and even to the most solemnly binding treaties between nations for the protection of a nation's sovereign rights and interests," he says, "and without doubt the time is ripe when a comparatively unarmed and helpless nation may be reasonably free from attack by ambitious, well-armed powers, especially in a commercial age, such as the present. The economical system of a great commercial nation is so delicately balanced that even a threat of war is very disturbing and harmful while a war with any other great power would cause incalculable damage."

"To avoid war and insure peace the country must be prepared for war. No person of intelligence who has studied international policies can be blind to the fact that the possession of great wealth, resources and population does not carry with it immunity from attack should the nation's interests clash with those of another better prepared."

The opening of the Panama canal will in no sense double the American fleet, according to Secretary Meyer. While it will increase its efficiency by facilitating its passage from one coast to the other, this condition has been fully considered in calculating the naval program. Without the canal, says Secretary Meyer, experts figure that the United States would need a fleet double that of a country whose coast line is continuous.

The secretary estimates that a total of 11 battleships, with a proportional number of other fighting and auxiliary vessels, is the least that would place this country on a safe basis in its relations with other world powers. This fleet should be secured as soon as practicable, he said, and its strength should be maintained by replacing obsolete vessels with new ones by a uniform annual program. While the navy department would welcome more torpedo boats and submarines, the secretary expressed the belief that until more of the old battleships are replaced it is wisest to build battleships than smaller vessels.

As to the need of battle cruisers, the secretary says of the first line of defense, Secretary Meyer quotes the naval general board:

"The United States has no vessels of this type. They have a military value not possible to obtain from other types or combinations of types. To further neglect their necessity is to deliberately weaken our naval strength. The paramount need of the navy is however for battleships, and the board does not recommend any modification of the building program by which preference in building is given to battle cruisers or other fleet units, and auxiliaries, which will interfere with the ultimate battleship strength."

Battle practice has brought the existing fleet to a state of complete readiness for instant service, says Secretary Meyer in commenting on the navy's condition. "Reserve as well as active vessels are kept in condition for any contingency, and the navy's gunners have during the year made records that more than sustain the high standards of the service."

Acrobatic equipment is entirely inadequate at the present time according to Secretary Meyer. He points out that while the United States spent only $140,000 for this purpose last year, Japan spent $600,000 and five European nations spent individual sums ranging from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000, the latter being the expenditure of France. Secretary Meyer says there should be no limitation upon the progressive development of naval aviation.

He recommends the creation of a naval reserve of about 50,000 men, and 25,000 to be secured from the honorably discharged men of the navy, the naval militia and various mechanical trades of civil life; the other 25,000 from among sailors of the merchant marine.

The application of the eight-hour law to all shipyards says Secretary Meyer will probably cause an increase in the appropriation necessary to build ships of a given type. As to small American navy yards Secretary Meyer makes no definite recommendations for their abolition, but suggests that if the American fleet is to spend part of its time on the Pacific coast after the Panama canal opens some of the navy yards on the eastern coast will automatically close from lack of work. As to the first class yards he adopts the recommendation of the general board that all their channels be dredged to a depth of at least forty feet and a minimum width of 750 feet.

Trapped at Lincoln Hall Last Night by Men and Women From the Maritime Provinces

Lincoln hall was the scene, last night, of the first annual concert and ball by the Maritime Provinces club. The hall was prettily decorated in pink and white, the colors of the club, and a big basket of crimson, white and gold roses was suspended from the central chandelier.

There was a large attendance and everybody had a good time. There was music by Kuffner's orchestra and the dance order of 15 numbers was thoroughly enjoyed.

The officers of the club, who formed the reception committee, are as follows: President, Wm. A. Kelley; vice-presidents, Patrick Ruote and John Burton; recording secretary, James W. Hogan; financial secretary, A. McDonald; treasurer, Arthur Trainor; James Gordon, chairman; Joseph MacJone, H. S. Curran, Thomas McFarlane, John Mallon, Peter McGuire, G. H. Myers, James Brady, John Bent and Charles Trainor.

The officers and committee in charge of the arrangements for this dance, were as follows: General manager, William A. Kelley; assistant general manager, James W. Hogan; floor director, Henry J. Hogan; assistant floor director, Michael A'Hearn; chief of staff, Peter H. Hogan; aids, John McDonald, Charles Trainor, James Brady, Joseph A'Hearn, William A'Hearn, William Lester, Ralph Harrison, James Warden, Ernest Hillman, John Ruote, Frank Carragher, John Burton, Joseph McGuire, Arthur Trainor, William Lark, William Brady, Ambrose Freeman and E. L. Lark; secretary, A. McDonald; treasurer, Arthur Trainor.

GAMBLERS TO TESTIFY

Goff and Whitman Agree on Plan for Getting More Graft Evidence Against New York Police

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Gamblers awaiting trial in this city are to be brought before the special grand jury which inquired into the murder of Herman Rosenthal, and be requested to testify regarding alleged business connections with members of the police department, according to an agreement understood to have been reached at a conference yesterday between Supreme Court Justice Goff and District Attorney Whitman.

The gamblers will be asked to give the names of the landlords of the buildings where gambling resorts have been in operation and to furnish other information relating to vice conditions. If the state in this way gets evidence in warrant, proceedings will be begun against several high police officials suspected of having tribute, as well as against many real estate owners whose premises are declared to be used for gambling purposes.

In return for any valuable testimony certain men now charged with conducting gambling houses would be granted immunity.

Gambling trials on the court of general sessions calendar will, under the reported agreement, be transferred to the extraordinary terms of the supreme court, where Charles Becker and the four gang men were convicted and sentenced for murder. Justice Goff sits in this term.

You Can Have Strong Nerves

If you are a nervous sufferer and are willing to help yourself there is no reason to become discouraged.

Good, pure blood, fresh air, nourishing food and a fair observance of the laws of health are all that you need to restore the strength and health of your nerves. Live up to these conditions and the nerves, brain, stomach, kidney, heart and liver will keep in perfect working order. It is not new nerve tissue that is needed, but plenty of nourishment. Anything that you can do to build up your general health will strengthen your nerves. You will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People the greatest help. Free from any harmful or habit-forming drug, they start to work at once cleansing and enriching the blood, strengthening the stomach and carrying nourishment to every nerve, tissue and tiny cell throughout the body. Why not choose health now by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a thorough trial?

Mrs. P. G. Gardner, of No. 3 Seely street, Adrian, Mich., says: "I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after I had given up all hope of ever having my strength back again. I became run down through overwork and worry. I was in bed and helpless for two weeks. My limbs from my knees down felt numb and I had no use of them. I had terrible pains in the top of my head and creeping sensations in the back of the neck. All summer and fall I doctored. We gave up house-keeping and boarded, as I thought I would gain faster, yet many mornings I could not go to breakfast for I would wake up feeling so faint and light-headed. Then I made up my mind to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began with them and gradually increased the dose until I was taking three pills after each meal. I used the pills until my nerves were steady, my appetite and sleep good and I felt entirely well. My daughter has since taken the pills for thin blood and poor color with good results."

Write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are highly recommended for neurasthenia or nervous debility, neuralgia, sciatica, nervous headaches and St. Vitus' dance.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

READ HOW THE ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY IS COMPELLED TO HELP PAY FOR YOUR HATS and TRIMMINGS

(Copy of Letter Received by Us)

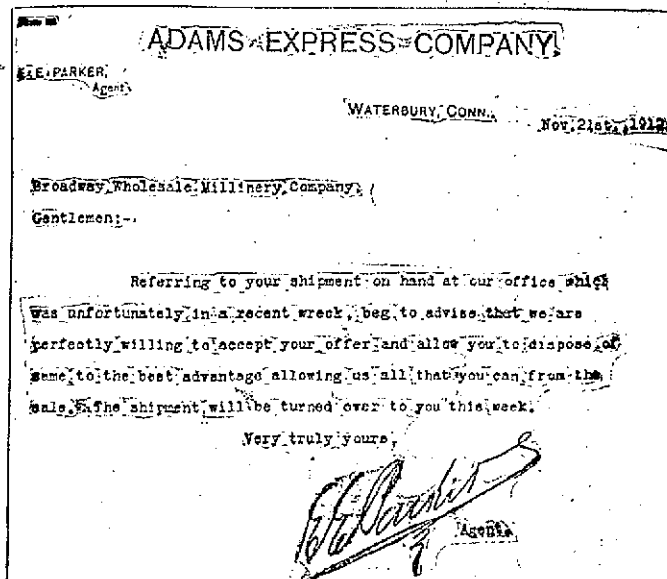

OPEN

SATURDAYS TILL 10 P. M.

NOTHING EVER HAPPENED LIKE THIS BEFORE

Unfortunately FOR THE EXPRESS COMPANY one of our largest shipments en route to us was caught in one of the recent NEW HAVEN & HARTFORD RAILROAD WRECKS. The crates and boxes were smashed to splinters and hats tossed about. THEY SETTLED FOR THE ENTIRE SHIPMENT AT OUR TERMS. Only a few hats were damaged—but the entire hat and trimming stock obtains the benefit of the enormous reduction we demanded and OBTAINED!

THE EXPRESS COMPANY'S LOSS IS YOUR GAIN

There was nothing to be done on the part of the ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY but to stand the loss. BEAR IN MIND THE STOCK OF HATS AND TRIMMINGS is still in first class condition and the most of the damage was done to the packing cases and boxes. But as the express had to settle in full, you are now able to buy an extra hat or so for the winter at a big reduction!

GOVERNOR C. L. BLEASE

Of Carolina Will Not
Punish Lynchers

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 6.—Governor Cole L. Blease of South Carolina takes a radical stand concerning the lynching of negroes for "the usual crime." In addressing the convention of governors here he said: "I have said all over the state of South Carolina, and I say it again now, that I will never order out the militia to shoot down their neighbors and protect a black brute who commits a crime against a white woman. Therefore, in South Carolina, let it be understood that when a negro assaults a white woman all that is needed is that they get the right man, and they who get him will neither need nor receive a trial."

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Herbert P. Smith and Miss Margaret M. Miller were united in marriage Wednesday evening at their new home, 200 French street, by Rev. J. M. Craig. A reception for their relatives was held immediately after the ceremony, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Stevenson, 42 Twelfth street. They will be at home to friends at 200 French street after January 1.

Tomorrow afternoon the Indians will play football with the Lowell Machine Shop at the Holt farm. Many friends of the late S. June Sanborn attended her funeral yesterday afternoon at the funeral rooms of Undertakers J. E. Currier Co., 33 Prescott street. The services were at 2 o'clock and were well attended. The services were conducted by Rev. Charles Ellis, pastor of the Central Baptist church. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. Burial was in the family lot in the Edison cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Ellis read the committal service.

Mrs. Sargent at St. John's hospital, Lowell, is convalescent.

The first social dance was given by the Holly club of West Chelmsford last evening in Marshall's hall. As this is their first annual dance quite a large party of dancers was present and a very good time was enjoyed. The Colonial orchestra furnished music. The general manager was Miss Mary Anderson.

TO PREPARE

and Rottenberg In- Uni+ dicted on Charge

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Herbert J. Keith, treasurer of H. J. Keith & Co., 72 So. Market street, dealers in eggs, and Samuel Rottenberg of New York were indicted yesterday by the federal grand jury on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government in the shipment of 60 cases of eggs from New York to Boston. The indictment was returned in the United States district court before Judge Morton. The accused deal in frozen and dried eggs. The eggs, it is alleged, were adulterated, putrid, decomposed, and contained filthy and malodorous matter.

It is alleged the accused deceived the pure food inspectors by marking the boxes in such a manner as to convey the impression that the eggs were to be used for tanning purposes and not for food. This was done, it is alleged, so that the food inspectors would not examine the contents. The eggs were shipped Nov. 28.

It is claimed the yolks were separated from the whites of the eggs, and the yolks were then prepared and sold as yolks and the white part sent to the tanneries.

Johnson Paid Minister $5
CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—The Rev. William Bailey, 81 years old, evangelist and member of the Olivet Baptist church, who presided over the checkered up-dials of English Jack Johnson and Lucile Cameron Tuesday, yesterday declared that the roll of bills handed to him with a flourish by the bridegroom contained not $100, as was rumored amid the banquet that followed—but the customary $5.

THE OWLS ARE HOOTING

OFFICERS NOMINATED TO BE ELECTED NEXT MEETING

Political Birds Mingled with the Owl Species and Hooted as Skillfully as Though Native to the Nest

Elks hall was crowded last night and the enthusiasm was unbounded. It was a big meeting of the Owls. It was big in every sense, for it seemed as though every Owl in Lowell must have been hooting during the evening. A royal welcome was given to all and good fellowship prevailed during the whole evening. A generous collation was served and cigars were passed.

A program of musical and literary numbers were rendered and the birds were delightfully entertained every moment of the time.

The business of the evening included a class initiation and the nomination of candidates for the various offices of the nest for 1913.

The following candidates were placed in nomination: President, J. W. Bowers; vice president, J. E. McCallum; invocator, D. A. Hartnett; recording secretary, J. H. Rogers; treasurer, J. A. Bailey; sentinel, William Ezzel; warden, W. E. Bowles; picket, William Hollingsworth; trustees, three each, R. J. Flynn and J. Leathorn, physicians, Dr. Wesley Sawyer, H. R. Plunkett and M. A. Tighe; sick and relief committee, P. R. Monahan and J. D. Willman.

The election will take place at the next regular meeting of the nest, which will be held Thursday evening, Dec. 19, and the installation on Thursday evening, Jan. 2, 1913.

President Charles W. Richards received a splendid endorsement in a unanimous nomination for a second term, but declined, as he feels that he cannot attend to the duties of the office for another year.

A letter of regret from Bro. Hon. James E. O'Donnell was read. The mayor is absent from the city attending the National Rivers and Harbors congress which is now being held in Washington, D. C. His honor is a member of the Lowell nest.

The concert program which consisted of many numbers was most successfully carried out under the direction of Trustmaster J. E. McCallum. It was as follows: Songs, Commissioner James E. Donnelly, James McManus and J. Y. Myers; recitation, J. E. Donnelly, J. H. Rogers, J. E. McCallum, J. Y. Myers. An original poem entitled "Our Degree Staff" by J. E. McCallum was recited by the "young men." Short addresses on fraternalism and matters pertaining to evidence were made by Senator-elect Henry J. Draper, Commissioner George H. Brown, Past President Edward M. Brown, Trustmaster J. A. Bailey, Pres. C. W. Richards and Richard J. Flynn, chairman of the board of trustees.

Bro. Joseph Kivley and Harold B. Plunkett, M. D. were the accompanists for the evening.

Bro. John E. McCallum was the toastmaster and did his part well. Trustmaster J. E. Flynn had charge of the commissary department.

Past President Edward M. Brown has been honored by Mayor James O'Donnell by an appointment as a delegate to the National Rivers and Harbors congress now being held at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Bowers' appointment was confirmed by the Mass. Real Estate Exchange of Boston under whose auspices the Mass. delegates went to Washington. Mr. Bowers was unable to attend owing to previous business engagements.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—That Boston may expect little if any relief from the present shortage of coal during December, and may even find itself still more sorely pressed, was the declaration of one of the city's largest dealers last night.

Figures just completed show that more than $1,000 less coal was delivered to the city during last November than a year ago, and the shortage, according to the dealer, is actually bad, if not worse, for this month.

LOWELL MAN MISSING FROM HOME

Away From Lowell

ROBERT SHANKS

Robert Shanks, a well known young man of this city, and a former chauffeur in the employ of the Conway Transfer Co., has been missing from home for the past five months, and his family are at a loss to know where he is. The young man who has a wife and two children, left home last July and has not been seen or heard from since. It was at first believed that he had gone to Detroit, Mich., but inquiries in the latter city disclosed the fact that he has not been to Detroit, or at least has been seen there.

Mr. Shanks, who is 27 years of age, was living at 30 Perkins street, and was working as chauffeur for the Conway Transfer Company. On last July 2, he left home in the morning with his dinner pail, saying he was going to work. A short time later in the forenoon his employer sent someone to Shanks' home to find out what the trouble was as he had not reported at work. The wife at the time did not pay much attention to what she thought her husband might have taken a day off and waited until the evening, but then she realized that he had gone away.

Mr. Shanks during the year of 1910 had worked in the E. M. F. automobile factory in Detroit and it was believed he had come back to his old place, and accordingly a number of letters were sent to his former boarding house in the western city and also to the factory where he had previously been employed, but the replies were that Shanks had not been seen in Detroit.

Mrs. Shanks then went to Lebanon, N. H., where the couple had lived before coming to Lowell, but there again nothing had been seen of Shanks.

The wife said the husband was always complaining that his wages were rather small to support a family, and she is of the opinion that he is working somewhere out of town. She now makes her home with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Mercier, in Lilley avenue, while her oldest child is living with the grandmother, Mrs. Pitts in Suffolk street. When Shanks left home he wore his working clothes which consisted of a brown cap, gray trousers, black shirt and dark coat. He is a smooth faced man and of medium build. He had about $20 in his pocket when he left Lowell.

Asks $50,000 For Injuries
BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Elizabeth F. Killian of Somerville, for the injuries mental and physical she suffered by the wreck of the Quincy express on Aug. 8 in South Boston, which killed eight people, filed suit yesterday against the New Haven railroad for $50,000. Her husband, John J. Killian, filed a suit for "consequential" damages for $25,000.

Miss Bessie Yoakum, Daughter of R. R. Pres., Shoots Wild Hogs

MISS BESSIE YOAKUM

KINGSVILLE, Tex., Dec. 6.—Deserted by her guide in the face of a pack of enraged javalinas, or wild Mexican hogs, Miss Bessie E. Yoakum, daughter of Benjamin F. Yoakum, head of the St. Louis and San Francisco and other railroad systems, proved her courage and saved her life by slaying five of the animals. Miss Yoakum has been in this vicinity for several days on a deer hunt. She is an expert shot, fearless in the chase and is often separated from others of the party to seek game with only the aid of a Mexican guide. It was on one of these lonely expeditions that she imperiled her life and proved her courage. After a ride of two hours through the wild country suddenly on the pack of javalinas. They were on the lookout for the animals, as their ferocity is well known, and when several of the beasts rushed from the thicket toward Miss Yoakum and her guide the latter became panic stricken, leaped from his horse, dropped his gun and dashed for a tree. At the same moment Miss Yoakum also leaped from her horse and fired while the first wild hog was a score of yards away. Miss Yoakum killed two more of them with as many shots. Then her rifle failed her, and she ran for the gun the guide had dropped. With this rifle she killed two more of the hogs and then sent random shots into the underbrush, into which the remaining animals had fled.

Red Cross Seals
Secretary Breen of the Knights of Columbus has caught the spirit of the Red Cross in using the stamps upon all mail matter sent out to members. Today he sent out several hundred envelopes addressed to members and on the back of each was a Red Cross seal. If every society in Lowell adopted this course the result would be a large sale of the seals and a goodly sum realized for the fight against tuberculosis to which this money is applied. The Lowell Guild is the local agency for the stamps and they are for sale at all drug and department stores. They should be freely used with the approach of the Christmas time to help along the work of the Women's Guild in fighting the White Plague. The local fraternities can do a great deal by following Secretary Breen's example.

FINED FOR ASSAULT AND BATTERY

Two Paid for Fights in Police Court Today—Mary Ann Won Her Case

Two assault and battery events which required the medium of an interpreter to present the evidence to the court occupied a long period in the police court session this morning.

The principal trial and that which at least bore the distinction of taking up the most time was that of Mike Zigaldo and Walter Szybok, who faced a charge of too forcibly impressing their opinions on one John Wesley last Saturday night. Somewhere or other the word knife cropped into the testimony and the spectators looked interested. They were disappointed, however, when each and every witness denied seeing any knife in the hands of the alleged assaulters.

Mike Zigaldo pleaded guilty to the charge, and Szybok said not guilty. Each team had a few witnesses. A barroom, bartender, drinks, etc., figured prominently in the statements. It seems that the defendants were in a saloon on the night in question and the complainant happened to stroll into the same place. They quarreled, it was alleged, and Zigaldo struck Wesley. The former said that he merely gave him a significant slap on the side of the face. Still one of the witnesses claimed to have had a vision of blood flowing profusely from the neck of the complainant. Attorney George Allard represented the defense, while Joseph Laughlin appeared on behalf of the government. Judge Enright acquitted Szybok and ordered Zigaldo to pay a fine of $7.

Accounts of Mary Ann
According to the testimony of one Mary Ann Riegl, she had been the victim of a blow from the unmerciful hand of John Szybok and thereby incurred a fine. Mary Ann said that her brother had gotten into trouble at a barroom on Merrimack street and that she had gone to look for him. In the pursuit of this noble resolve she took her stand outside the barroom in question and made from the doorway inquiries as to the whereabouts and condition of her brother. Szybok, she alleged, came out of the saloon, and for some reason or other struck her. Lawyer Allard appeared for the defendant, John.

Now, Mary Ann had a witness, and the latter stated that he had seen the defendant strike the lady. Hearing this, Mary vigorously nodded assent and gave vent to expressions either of satisfaction or in attempts to add something to the statements of the witness, until she was finally warned to cease lest she tire herself all out. Others said that the plaintiff had been stopping everyone that passed or came out of the saloon, to make troublesome inquiries of them. The defendant himself agreed to this and alleged that he had been one of the unfortunate ones whom she had accosted.

After the smoke of the battle cleared away, the judge found John to be in the wrong and reduced his financial importance by a $5 spot. Thus it was that Mary Ann won her case.

Stubborn Child
Laura Pickard was in court this morning to answer to a charge which alleged her to be a stubborn child. The defendant pleaded not guilty and the trial was suspended until Wednesday morning.

Scandalous Behavior
John H. Moore had imbibed too freely, said a complaint, and had attacked his wife, tearing her clothes, abusing and threatening her. It did not take long to find the man guilty and he was placed under $100 bonds to keep the peace.

Mary Heaps and William Monahan were each sentenced to serve four months in jail for a drunk. Thomas F. McCabe was sent to the state farm. Thomas Keating received permission to board and room at the jail for five months, and Frank Foster paid the court $6.

EXCELLENT TALENT SECURED
For the Recital To Be Held by the Choral Society Which is Now Holding Rehearsals

Lowell music lovers are displaying a great deal of interest in the Choral society which is now holding its rehearsals in the new hall of the Y. M. C. A. building. New members are added at every session and at the present time the membership roll has reached 150. It is the intention of those who are interested in the organization to bring the membership up to 300 and undoubtedly their efforts will be realized in the near future. The committee having the concert details in charge has secured the following talent as soloists: Miss Marie Stoddard of New York, soprano; Miss Rose Bryant of New York, contralto; Lambert Murphy, of New York, tenor; Charles N. Granville of New York, baritone. These with the grand chorus of the society, supported by the Boston Festival orchestra, will present two works of high merit, viz: "The Swan and the Lily Lark," by Goring Thomas, and "The First Walpurgis Night," by Mendelssohn, and as an interlude between the two works a select program by the solo artists and the orchestra will be inserted.

Italy Warns Greece

ROME, Dec. 6.—The persistence of Greece in bombarding Avlona is causing serious dissatisfaction at Rome. The Italian minister at Athens has been instructed to notify the Greek government that Italy and Austria will never allow any state to occupy Avlona, or even the peninsula of Linguetta or Saseno island, or to transform them into naval and military bases.

GOVERNOR WILSON'S COTTAGE

in Which He and His Family
Enjoy Vacation

(Hamilton Cor. N. Y. Evening Post)

The life at the governor's villa has been exceedingly peaceful. It is not the seclusion of an Oyster Bay or a Beverly, where the house is protected by a belt of private grounds. William Dean Howells, Mark Twain and sundry other literary folk have remarked that Bermuda is more like Italy than like America. And the neighborhood where the governor lives is especially so. His house is at close quarters with a dozen others on a tiny peninsula. Most of the houses are a solid white with brilliantly whitewashed roofs. But some have been painted an ochre; they stand by the water's edge and their yellow walls and rust-green shutters are reflected on the calm surface of the cove. They are picturesque dilapidated, these ochre houses, and are inhabited by negroes. But what makes the peninsula seem almost like a bit of Italy, after the islands and the exquisite coloring of the bay have been taken into consideration, is that nearly everything—the crooked lanes going up and down the walls along the lane and around the yards, overhung by the red eaves, the china berry and the hibiscus—nearly everything that men have created here is white or gray. And the reason for this is (without going into a dissertation on building and public works in Bermuda) is that everything is built out of white coral, which is not the ivory like substance of which beads are manufactured, but of soft, whitish sand of the general consistency of maple sugar.

"Glencove" is the name of the governor's house. It belongs to Captain Young, a retired mariner, who is now in the customs service in Hamilton. The Youngs live in a basement division of the house, but they lease the rest to a Mrs. Peck, an American woman. Mrs. Peck, being an old friend of the Wilson family, and not being in Bermuda at present, sublet the cottage furnished. The proprietor of the general store in Vagat says that his uncle, Joseph T. Dorell, who was exiled here from Civil war days to the administration of Grover Cleveland, lived all that time in the very cottage the president-elect is occupying now.

The house is of the bungalow type, and has a piazza across the front, facing south across the cove toward the Water hills. From one end of the piazza one can look westward through the labyrinth of coral islands, which disfigure the entrance to Hamilton harbor. There is a square aperture, a frame for the picture at this end of the piazza, and the governor stands there lost in amazement at the brilliant crystal blue of the water, which is colored beyond all possibility of imagining it, indeed is the despair of the artists, whose boxes, the governor says, do not contain elements of a sufficient brilliancy to reproduce it.

As one enters the house there is a hall in the centre, a parlor on the left, with windows commanding the bay, and a dining room on the right. There is nothing of the bungalow or the craftsman about the furniture, which is a tasteful mixture of old mahogany and granite newer pieces. A piano stands at one end of the parlor and a fireplace at the other. The walls are white, but pieces of chintz with bright colored, antique patterns, are hung in the larger spaces and lend a sprightly air to the rooms. None of the rooms is big. The governor with some guests has his own chamber leads off from the hall through a door and down a miniature winding staircase of half a dozen steps.

In the rear is a spacious kitchen, and behind that the water supply reservoir. All the drinking water in Bermuda is caught from those dazzling white roofs (the sanitary law requires that they shall be whitewashed at least twice a year). There are some other chambers on the rear of the house and some separate buildings which are used by the servants.

The governor's household consists of Mrs. Wilson, two daughters, Jessie and Eleanor, and three servants whom the governor brought from New Jersey. The governor's stenographer and the secret service man have quarters elsewhere.

An early morning is the best time of day in Bermuda—although it is hard to improve on the bright moonlight nights of the present fortnight—the Wilson family rise early. Usually the governor has called immediately after breakfast from the correspondents, but there is no fixed appointment. Each day this week the family has gone out about the middle of the morning. The walks about the island are fascinating. Not the least delightful feature of this pastime is that there are no sidewalks—except in Hamilton. Pedestrians and people in carriages and people on bicycles all use the same thoroughfare. But such a thoroughfare! Roads of coral, miraculously smooth, inviting the bicyclist on irresistibly over one hill after another. The governor and his daughters have hired bicycles. They are all enthusiastic riders. But when they want Mrs. Wilson to go, they either walk or telephone over to Hamilton for a carriage.

Ordered to Cart Back Lumber
WOONSOCKET, R. I., Dec. 6.—The Woonsocket lumber company which had been carting lumber from points along the Southern New England railroad's extension between Woonsocket and Providence to Savilleville for storage has been told to hold itself in readiness to carry out the instructions to cart back the lumber to the points along the line from whence it had been taken during the past month. People here construe this step as an indication that the Grand Trunk will resume building the Providence-Palmer line. The orders to the lumber cart to the O'Brien Construction Co., contractors in charge of Grand Trunk work in Rhode Island.

MORE DOCTORS OF HEALTH NEEDED

Than Doctors of Medicine, Says
Dr. Dresslar of United States
Bureau of Education

"We need more doctors of public health than more doctors of medicine," says Dr. P. B. Dresslar in a bulletin: "The duty of the state in medical inspection of schools," just issued by the United States bureau of education. Dr. Dresslar pleads earnestly for the kind of medical inspection that seeks to promote health rather than that which hunts for ill-health. "Our system of paying doctors to do something for us when we are sick ought to be largely discarded for the Chinese system of paying them to keep us from getting sick."

Dr. Dresslar justifies the state's intervention in the health of its citizens on broad grounds of public policy. He feels that the community has as much right to demand good health in its children as it has to demand that they attend school; as much right to preserve the community against the contagion of disease and bodily neglect as against the contagion of ignorance. The chief asset of any state is physical stamina, guided by wholesome habits, and broad minded intellectual power, and Dr. Dresslar contends that medical inspection and health supervision are indispensable agencies for conserving this asset.

In answer to the question: Has medical inspection a new organized proved useful? Dr. Dresslar shows conclusively that medical inspection has called attention to a startling way to the danger of school conditions in transmitting disease; it has already lessened actual illness and consequently secured better school attendance; and best of all, medical inspection in the hands of carefully trained men with the right spirit has proved to be an educational agent of great value by stimulating parents to give more attention to food, clothing, sleeping rooms and general home sanitation, and by disseminating better ideals of hygienic living.

It is in this increased knowledge by the people as a whole concerning the personal care of health that Dr. Dresslar finds the greatest ultimate good of medical inspection. He notes that great numbers of our people are still in gross ignorance and superstition regarding health and disease, since many of them constantly attribute to a divine Providence deaths from diseases directly due to filth. "Our chief duty lies in removing the causes which contribute to physical unsoundness and disease. As long as we hold our children in schools where they must breathe impure air, bend over insanitary school desks, work at books when they need physical exercise, just so long shall we be paying for our own errors."

Dr. Dresslar concludes that we need health officers whose chief delight is in finding and developing beautiful cases of physical perfection rather than in finding some obscure and rare disease; health officers whose philosophy is based on the gospel of physical vigor, on the sanctity of personal purity and the godliness of clean living; "doctors of health" in very truth, who will be concerned with exhibiting, not a long list of the physically defective and diseased, but a large list of healthy, well developed children.

MANAGER PIEPER BUSY

Lawrence Leader Filling
in the "Gaps"

LAWRENCE, Dec. 6.—Manager Louis P. Pieper of the Lawrence team has signed several new players. He has secured Clifford Jewell, a pitcher, who bails from Newark, N. J. Jewell was recommended by Capt. Billy Luyster, who has been watching Jewell work for the past few years. The new pitcher is right handed. Another twirler signed is A. J. Belliveau of Leominster, who has played the outfield and pitched for Leominster. Manager Pieper has signed a first sacker by the name of Frank Anderson. He lives in Greenwood. Manager Pieper has been watching his work in games that he played with Wakefield. Pitcher Billy Harrington, who Lynn last season, writes to the local manager, saying that Anderson looks fast enough for league ball. The terms of Shortstop Fred Honer of South Groveland have also been accepted. Other players signed to date are: Chick Cargle, Pitcher; Philipe, Catcher; Mosher and Infielder; Laubscher. No contracts have been sent out to the old players, as yet. Manager Pieper will attend the meeting of the National and International leagues in New York next week.

MANAGER JOHN M'GRAW

Made President of the
New York Giants

Each passing day brings a new aspect in the prospective control of the New York Giants caused by the sudden, though not wholly unexpected death of President John T. Brush. The latest angle is that Johnny McGraw himself, the veteran manager who has been the Connie Mack and Hugh Bennett of the National league, rolled into one, is to be president. The New York source of this tip is authority also for the statement that McGraw will be manager as well. If McGraw is made president and agrees to be president-manager, he will be a very busy man. Incidentally this will be the first time since baseball was in its infancy that the president of a club has been its own manager. McGraw, who has been the manager of the New York Giants since 1902, is the son-in-law of the late Giant club president and as such qualified as the man of the family, declares emphatically that he will retain the reins of the club, also that McGraw will not be interfered with in any way in the handling of the team.

ENGLISH RESULTS

BOLTON WANDERERS DEFEATED
MANCHESTER UNITED 2 to 1

Leicester Fosse Wins From Fulham By 9 to 1 Score—No Game Between Hull City and Barnsley

The results of the football games in the first and second divisions played Saturday in England were as follows:

First Division Games

Bolton Wanderers 2, Manchester United 1. Sheffield Wednesday 0, Cardiff City 0.

Chelsea 3, Derby County 1. Liverpool 2, Aston Villa 0.

Manchester City 1, Everton 0. Newcastle United 3, Middlesbrough 1.

Oldham Athletic 4, Tottenham Hotspur 1. Sheffield United 2, Notts County 0.

West Bromwich Albion 2, Sunderland 1. Woolwich Arsenal 0, Blackburn Rovers 1.

Second Division Games

Birmingham 3, Blackpool 2. Burnley 3, Bradford 0.

Clapton Orient 1, Bury 2. Hull City-Barnsley (no game).

Sheff. Forest 1, Leeds City 2. Preston North End 1, Wolverhampton Wanderers 1.

Ball Players Overpampered

"The modern ball player—particularly of pitcher—is too much petted and pampered," says "King" Burt. "Those who are inclined to be wild can work off and gain control. It is better for the pitcher and saves money for the club owner."

"They never complained of a sore arm or a bruised finger. Seldom did a club carry more than one catcher, the second string, backstop, always being a cheap and inferior man."

"Of course there are more ball players now and more competition, but there is more of a disposition to spoil and pamper players."

"There isn't much new in modern baseball. We worked the 'squeeze' play many, many years ago."

"Modern baseball hasn't developed any great speed. Ball players stole more bases in the old days. They have cut down the possibility of stealing somewhat, but they haven't increased the speed of any players."

"Mathewson, Marquard, Walsh and Johnson are great pitchers, but they are no greater than Clarkson or Rusie or Kid Nichols or any of the others, and they haven't invented anything new in the assortment of curves to fool the batters."

"Ball players have learned one good lesson—and at a bitter cost. It is no longer possible to booze and dissipate and get to the top. That is one good thing about competition. It was impossible to replace the stars of twenty years ago, and they did what they pleased. Now the fear that a younger man may usurp the star's place holds the latter to a strict and temperate life."

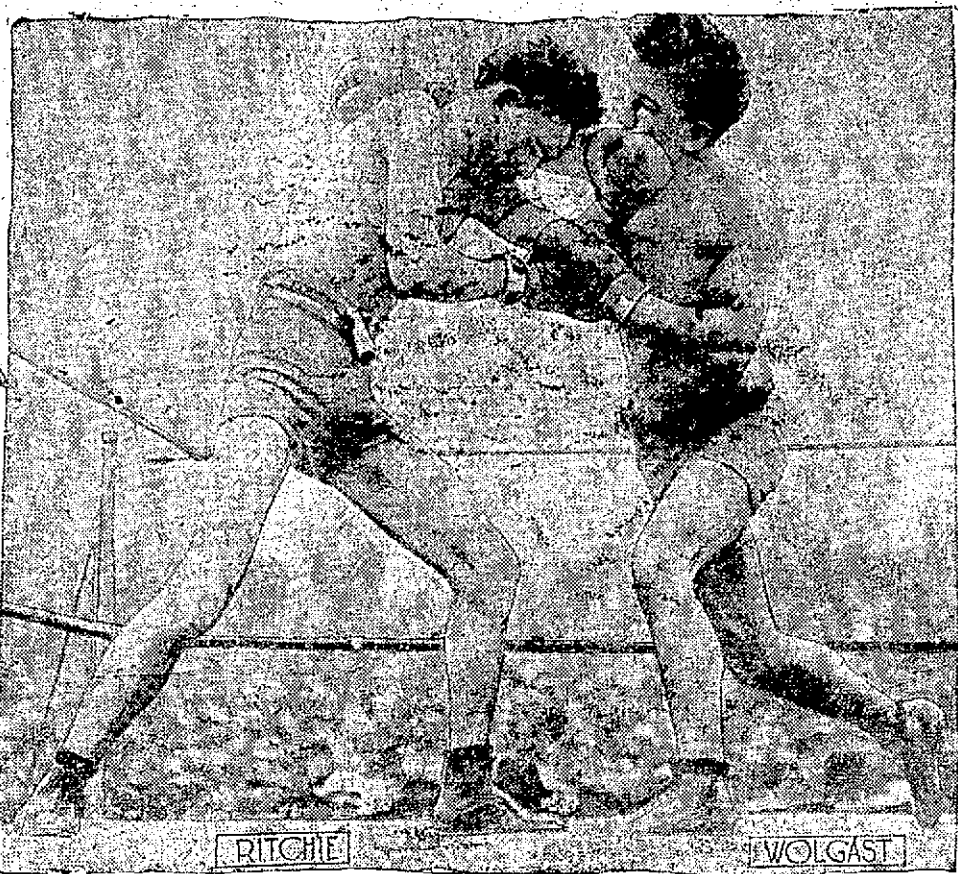

"There is no other game like it under the sun. Nothing compares with baseball in the attractions of true, red blooded Americans."

At All Druggists

Ritchie, the New Lightweight Champion of the World, Will Not Defend Title for Some Time

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—While Ritchie, who won the lightweight championship of the world from Ad Wolgast Thanksgiving day, is a well behaved, clean living boy who deserves success. When Ritchie boxed four rounds with Wolgast in Frisco last spring he took the former champion's measure in sizing up his hitting and learning his style. He predicted then that if he ever got another chance at Wolgast he would beat him with straight right hand punches to the jaw. The detailed account of the recent battle would seem to indicate that Ritchie in the sixteenth round had Wolgast beaten by these tactics before the latter lost on what appears to have been an intentional foul. Ritchie has earned a right to reap easy money for the next six months, and he cannot be justly scored if he turns down all challenges. Of course Wolgast wants a return match and has named Washington's birthday as the date, but Ritchie isn't in a hurry. Ritchie, it is possible, will voluntarily raise the lightweight limit to 135 pounds either at ringside or scaling three or four hours before the contest. This will let Packey McFarland, Jack Britton, Matt Wells and Freddie Welsh in at their best weights and will abolish the arbitrary rule fixed by Battling Nelson which made Joe Gans do less than 133 and was perpetuated by Wolgast. Ritchie, by the way, used to be McFarland's sparring partner, and a year ago when practically unknown he was shaded by Welsh in twenty rounds at Vernon, Cal. Under the management of Billy Nolan Ritchie should make a fortune. Picture shows scene in sixteenth round shortly before Wolgast fouled Ritchie.

COACHES ON SIDE LINES

Play Important Part in Football Games

How many lovers of our great college game of football ever stopped to consider what an important part it is possible for a coach to play and is played by some coaches on the side lines? Yes, coaching of any sort coming from one not actually in the game is a direct violation of the rules and is considered by lovers of fair play to be unsportsmanlike, but when a coach works up a secret end with his quarterback or captain, what can be done? Thus, inasmuch as these things are an integral part of the coaching somewhere in every football section, it is interesting to look into the many and varied methods used in conveying such valuable information.

The method which would first present itself to one who gave it thought no doubt is the old water boy trick, which in its day appeared to be very good. Nowadays, with alert officials, the water boys (usually men who have been around schools so long that they appear to be fixtures) have a hard time imparting instructions without being detected. So it is that long since coaches who practice such have thought out different methods.

Next to the water boy stunt the use of the cigar probably antedates any other. Did it ever occur to you that the slant of the cigar in the coach's mouth or its appearance in one hand or the other had a peculiar and valuable meaning to the quarterback? The writer remembers a game where the score stood 6-3 against a certain large university team, which was playing a supposedly inferior eleven, and time to play was short. The ball was in possession of the team owning the small end of the score on the twenty-five yard line, with eight yards to gain and the last down called. An anxious moment existed and a "what is best to do" look appeared on the face of the quarterback. The coach of that team appeared to be very calm, and the cigar, which had been resting at a 45 degree upward angle, was changed to a like degree downward and then removed by the right hand, which slowly pointed the region of the ear, apparently to rout some little itching. A place kick formation was immediately taken by the team and a successful forward pass worked from it, which resulted in a touchdown and victory. The cigar had sent its wireless message, and it meant victory.

Of course the most common method in vogue is that of gesticulations and positions of hands and feet which are not at all peculiar, but simply those which might be assumed by most any spectator. Would it be surprising to you to know that when a coach you have seen stands with his right hand in his coat pocket his quarterback is to play a right end run, and if his right hand is in the trousers pocket a right tackle buck is to be run, and vice versa, or if the arms happen to be crossed a split buck is to follow, or if the legs are in a like position a punt is in order, or if the hat is tilted back and to the right a forward pass to the right end is the thing to try, and so on until almost every line of attack and defense is covered by some apparently innocent move?

One might relate such instances by the hour and give the good and bad results which were the outcome of what the coach thought rather than the plans of the quarterback and captain, who are not supposed to be as cool headed as the instructor upon the side lines. Thus the public is face to face with the cold fact that if one wishes to take any unfair advantage of his adversary he generally can find a way to do it.

THE PRINCETON ELEVEN

Will Have Veteran for Every Position in 1913

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 6.—Princeton will enter the 1913 football season with a veteran for every position on the team except center and right tackle, a situation unprecedented in history. Nine of the 13 football veterans now in college are eligible for next season and there is a possibility that this number will be increased to eleven if John Logan and Tom Sawyer of Rockland, Me. the decision in his battle with Terry Martin of Philadelphia.

The men were to have gone 12 rounds, but as Sawyer persisted in hitting low, Referee Jim Burke was obliged to stop the contest in the eighth round and give the award to Martin.

Martin looked to be the better man of the two and had a good lead at the finish. Sawyer did all his work at fighting, and after being cautioned by the referee about hitting low, he repeated the offense and was disqualified.

In the preliminaries Young Tommy Burns of Andover knocked out Young Kyle of Lawrence in two rounds, and Terry O'Rourke stopped Kid Sullivan in the seventh session. Both of the latter lads are Lawrence boxers.

GOVERNOR WILSON'S COTTAGE

Pen Picture of Domicile of Coral in Which He and His Family Enjoy Vacation

(Hamilton Cor. N. Y. Evening Post)
The life at the governor's villa has been exceedingly peaceful. It is not the seclusion of an Oyster Bay or a Beverly, where the house is protected by a belt of private grounds. William Dean Howells, Mark Twain and many other literary folk have remarked that Bermuda is more like Italy than like America. And the neighborhood where the governor lives is especially so. His house is at close quarters with a dozen others on a tiny peninsula. Most of the houses are a solid white with brilliantly white-washed roofs. But some have been stained on ochre, they stand by the water's edge and their yellow walls and rust-green shutters are reflected on the calm surface of the cove. They are picturesque dilapidated, these ochre houses, and are inhabited by negroes. But what makes the peninsula seem almost like a bit of Italy, is the ochre and the exquisite coloring of the bay have been taken into consideration, is that nearly everything—the houses, the crooked lanes going up and down the walls along the bay and around the cove, everything by the sea, the chairs, the tables, the beds, the nearly everything that man has created here is white or gray. And the reason for this (without going into a long dissertation on building and public works in Bermuda) is that everything is built out of white coral, which is not the common limestone of which houses are manufactured, but of soft, whitish stone of the general consistency of maple sugar.

"Glen Cove" is the name of the governor's house. It belongs to Captain Young, a retired mariner, who is now in the customs service in Hamilton. The Youngs live in a basement division of the house, but they lease the rest to a Mrs. Peck, an American woman. Mrs. Peck, being an old friend of the Wilson family, and not being in Bermuda at present, sublets the cottage furnished. The proprietor of the general store in Paret says that his uncle, Josiah T. Darrell, who was consul here from Civil war days to the administration of Grover Cleveland, lived all that time in the very cottage the president-elect is occupying now.

The house is of the bungalow type, and has a piazza across the front, facing south across the cove toward the Paret hills. From one end of the piazza one can look westward through the labyrinth of coral islands, which dispute the entrance to Hamilton harbor. There is a square aperture, a frame for the picture at this end of the piazza, and the governor stands there lost in amazement at the brilliant striated blue of the water, which is colored beyond all possibility of imagination. It, indeed is the despair of the artists, whose boxes, so the governor says, do not contain pigments of a sufficient brilliancy to reproduce it. As one enters the house there is a hall in the centre, a parlor on the left, with windows commanding the bay, and a dining room on the right. There is nothing of the bungalow or the craftsman about the furniture, which is a tasteful mixture of old mahogany and ornate newer pieces. A piano stands at one end of the parlor and a fireplace at the other. The walls are white, but pieces of chintz with bright colored, antique patterns, are hung in the larger spaces and lend a sprightly air to the rooms. None of the rooms is big. The governor with some glees shows how his own chamber leads off from the hall through a door and down a miniature winding staircase of half a dozen steps.

In the rear is a spacious kitchen, and behind that the water supply reservoir. All the drinking water in Bermuda is caught from those dazzling white roofs (the sanitary law requires that they shall be white-washed at least twice a year). There are some other chambers on the rear of the house and some smaller buildings which are used by the servants.

The governor's household consists of Mrs. Wilson, two daughters, Jessie and Eleanor, and three servants whom the governor brought from New Jersey. The governor's stenographer and the secret service man have quarters elsewhere.

As early morning is the best time of day in Bermuda—although it is hard to improve on the bright moonlight nights of the present fortnight—the Wilson family rise early. Usually the governor has calls immediately after breakfast from the correspondents, but there is no fixed appointment. Each day this week the family has gone out about the middle of the morning. The walks about the island are fascinating. Not the least delightful feature of this pastime is that there are no sidewalks—except in Hamilton. Pedestrians and people in carriages and people on bicycles all use the same thoroughfare. But such a thoroughfare! Roads of coral, impossibly smooth, inviting the bicyclist on fearfully over one hill after another. The governor and his daughters have hired bicycles. They are all enthusiastic riders. But when they want Mrs. Wilson to go, too, they either walk or telephone over to Hamilton for a carriage.

Leading down from the back lawn, where the linen is spread out to bleach, is a little stairway cut in the coral. It takes one to a tiny landing at the water's edge; and here the family go in bathing in water so clear that the bottom positively cannot have any seaweed from the outer world. In front of the house hang some rowboats, and the harbor is full of attractive sloops that can be hired at a moderate price.

"AS WE JOURNEY THROUGH LIFE LET US LIVE BY THE WAY."

Pictures reflect the refining influence of the home and are constant reminders of noble ideals and beautiful thoughts of the great masters of art and literature.

Those who do not cherish the beautiful and artistic life in vain. Great men and noble women who mold the destiny of nations find time during a busy career to adorn their homes with beautiful pictures that are a constant source of help and inspiration. As they journeyed through life they lived by the way. We have many examples which will reach of a modest purse.

Ordered to Cart Back Lumber
WOONSOCKET, R. I., Dec. 6.—The Woonsocket carting company which had been carting lumber from points along the Southern New England railroad's extension between Woonsocket and Providence to Saylesville for storage has been told to hold itself in readiness to carry out the instructions to cart back the lumber to the points along the line from whence it had been taken during the past month. People here construe this step as an indication that the Grand Trunk will resume building the Providence-Palmer line. The orders to the carting came from the O'Brien Construction Co., contractors in charge of Grand Trunk work in Rhode Island.

MORE DOCTORS OF HEALTH NEEDED

Than Doctors of Medicine, Says Dr. Dresslar of United States Bureau of Education

"We need more doctors of public health than mere doctors of medicine," says Dr. F. B. Dresslar in a bulletin: "The duty of the state in medical inspection of schools." Just issued by the United States bureau of education. Dr. Dresslar pleads earnestly for the kind of medical inspection that seeks to promote health rather than that which hunts for ill-health. "Our system of paying doctors to do something for us when we are sick ought to be largely discarded for the Chinese system of paying them to keep us from getting sick."

Dr. Dresslar justifies the state's intervention in the health of its citizens on broad grounds of public policy. He feels that the community has as much right to demand good health in its children as it has to demand that they attend school; as much right to preserve the community against the contagion of disease and bodily neglect as against the contagion of ignorance. He feels that the community has as much right to demand good health in its children as it has to demand that they attend school; as much right to preserve the community against the contagion of disease and bodily neglect as against the contagion of ignorance.

In answer to the question: Has medical inspection as now organized proved useful? Dr. Dresslar shows conclusively that medical inspection has called attention in a startling way to the danger of school conditions in transmitting disease. It has already secured better school attendance; and best of all, medical inspection in the hands of carefully trained men with the right spirit has proved to be an educational agent of great value, by stimulating parents to give more attention to food, clothing, sleeping rooms and general home sanitation, and by disseminating better ideals of hygienic living.

It is in this increased knowledge by the people as a whole concerning the personal care of health that Dr. Dresslar finds the greatest ultimate good of medical inspection. He notes that great numbers of our people are still in gross ignorance and superstition regarding health and disease, since many of them constantly attribute to a divine Providence deaths from diseases directly due to filth. "Our chief duty in coming to the cause which contribute to physical unsoundness and disease. As long as we herd our children in schools where they must breathe impure air, bend over insanitary school desks, work at books when they need physical exercise, just so long shall we be paying for our own errors."

Dr. Dresslar concludes that we need health officers whose chief delight is in finding and developing beautiful cases of physical perfection rather than in finding some obscure and rare disease; health officers whose philosophy is based on the gospel of physical vigor, on the sanctity of personal purity and the goodness of clean living; "doctors of health" in very truth, who will be concerned with exhibiting, not a long list of the physically defective and diseased, but a large list of healthy, well developed children.

MANAGER PIEPER BUSY

Lawrence Leader Filling
in the "Gaps"

LAWRENCE, Dec. 6.—Manager Louisa P. Pieper of the Lawrence team has signed several new players. He has secured Clifford Jewell, a pitcher, who hails from Newark, N. J. Jewell was recommended by Capt. Billy Lyster, who has been watching Jewell work for the past few years. The new pitcher is right handed. Another twirler signed is A. J. Belliveau of Leominster, who has played the outfield and pitched for Leominster.

Manager Pieper has signed a first sacker by the name of Frank Anderson. He lives in Greenwood. Manager Pieper has been watching his work in games that he played with Wakefield. Pitcher Billy Harrington, with Lynn last season, writes to the local manager, saying that Anderson looks fast enough for league ball. The terms of Shortstop Fred Borer of South Groveland have also been accepted.

Other players signed to date are: Chic Cargo, Pitcher Phillips, Catcher Mosher and Infielder Laubscher. No contracts have been sent out to the old players, as yet.

Manager Pieper will attend the meeting of the National and International leagues in New York next week.

MANAGER JOHN M'GRAW

New York Giants

Each passing day brings a new aspect in the prospective control of the New York Giants caused by the sudden death of President John T. Brush. The latest angle is that Johnnie McGraw himself, the former manager, who has been the "Connie Mack" of the National League, is expected to be the manager of the team. McGraw will be manager as well. If McGraw is made president and agrees to be president-manager, he will be a very busy man. Incidentally this will be the first time since baseball was a club has been his own manager. Harry N. Hempstead, a young man who has no desire to enter the baseball through to have this distinction forced upon him because he is the son-in-law of the late Giant club president and as such qualified as the "man of the hour," declines emphatically that the Brush family will retain the club, also that McGraw will not be interfered with in any way in the handling of the team.

Ball Players Overpowered

"The modern ball player—particularly the pitcher—is too much petted and pampered," says "King Kid" McPhee, one of the greatest ball players the game ever knew and the idol of Cincinnati fans of fifteen or twenty years ago.

"In our day we never thought it worth while to carry more than eleven or twelve players. Our pitchers never complained if it was necessary to work every other day. Old Charley Radbourne worked every day a greater part of the season. The pitchers pitched themselves out, and the wear and tear was just as hard then as it is now. In fact, the games were longer and they actually had to pitch more balls. They pitched for strikeouts and put all they had—or have now—on the ball.

"Pitchers won't be right if they don't work often. Four or five at most are plenty for a minor league club. Those who are inclined to be wild can work often and gain control. It is better for the pitcher and saves money for the club owner.

"They never complained of a sore arm or a bruised finger. Seldom did a club carry more than one catcher, the second string backstop always being a cheap and inferior man.

"Of course there are more ball players now and many of them are good, but there is more of a disposition to spoil and pamper players.

"There isn't much new in modern baseball. We worked the 'squeeze' play many, many years ago.

"Modern baseball hasn't developed any great speed. Ball players stole more bases in the old days. They have cut down the notability of stealing somewhat, but they haven't increased the speed of any players.

"Mathewson, Marquard, Walsh and Johnson are great pitchers, but they are no greater than Clarkson or Rusie or Kid Nichols or Radbourne, and they haven't invented anything new in the assortment of curves to fool the batters.

"Ball players have learned one good lesson—and at a bitter cost. It is no longer possible to booze and dispart and get to the top. That is one good thing about competition. It was impossible to replace the stars of twenty years ago, and they did what they pleased. Now the fact that a young man may usurp the star's place holds the latter to a strict and temperate life.

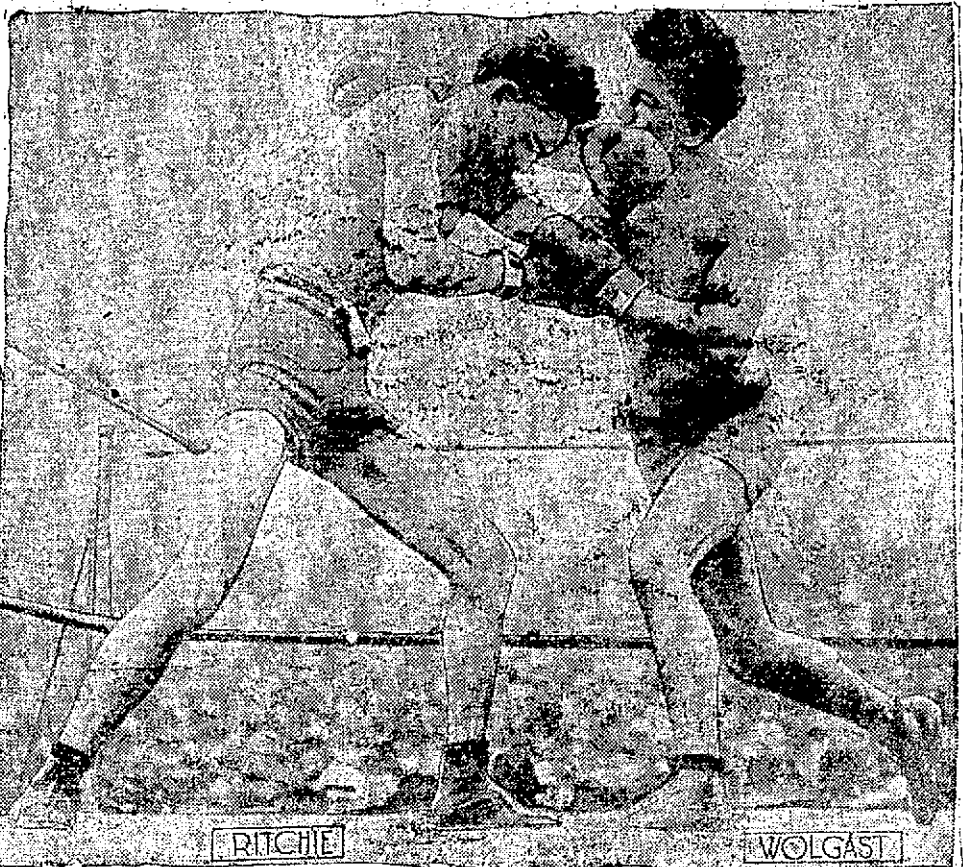

"There is no other game like it under the sun. Nothing compares with baseball in the affections of true, red blooded Americans."

Ritchie, the New Lightweight Champion of the World, Will Not Defend Title for Some Time

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Willie Ritchie, who won the lightweight championship of the world from Ad Wolgast Thanksgiving day, is a well behaved, clean living boy who deserves success. When Ritchie boxed four rounds with Wolgast in Frisco last spring he took the former champion's measure in sizing up his hitting and learning his style. He predicted then that if he ever got another chance at Wolgast he would beat him with straight right hand punches to the jaw. The detailed account of the recent battle would seem to indicate that Ritchie

COACHES ON SIDE LINES

Play Important Part in Football Games

How many lovers of our great college game of football ever stopped to consider what an important part it is possible for a coach to play and is played by some coaches on the side lines? Yes, coaching of any sort coming from one not actually in the game is a direct violation of the rules and is considered by referees of fair play to be unsportsmanlike, but when a coach works up a secret code with his quarterback or captain, what can be done? Thus, inasmuch as these things are an integral part of the coaching somewhere in every football section, it is interesting to look into the many varied methods used in conveying such valuable information.

The method which would first present itself to one who gave it thought, no doubt is the old water boy trick, which in its day appeared to be very good. Nowadays, with alert officials,

THE PRINCETON ELEVEN

Will Have Veteran for Every Position in 1913

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 5.—Princeton will enter the 1913 football season with a veteran for every position on the team except center and right tackle, a situation unprecedented in history. Nine of the 15 football veterans now in college are eligible for next season and there is a possibility that this number will be increased to eleven if John Logan and David, the two seniors in college, Peniston, Penfield, Bluthenthal, Andrews, Dunlap and Wright are the only football stars who will graduate next spring.

TOM SAWYER LOST

Was Defeated by Martin at Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Dec. 6.—Foul tactics in the main event at the Unity Cycle Club here last evening cost Tom Sawyer of Rockland, Me., the decision in his battle with Terry Martin of Philadelphia.

The men were to have gone 12 rounds, but as Sawyer persisted in hitting low, Referee Jim Burke was obliged to stop the contest in the eighth round and give the award to Martin.

Martin looked to be the better man of the two and had a good lead at the finish. Sawyer did all his work in fighting, and after being cautioned by the referee about hitting low, he repeated the offense and was disqualified.

In the preliminaries Young Tommy Burns of Andover knocked out Young Kyle of Lawrence in two rounds, and Terry O'Rourke stopped Ed Sullivan in the seventh session. Both of the latter lads are Lawrence boys.

A REPUBLICAN CONFESSION

We predicted a day or two ago, that republican leaders in advocating immediate reform of the currency would belie their former statements and charge up to the present currency system the pious of the past twenty years. Now comes the report of Secretary MacVeagh of the treasury doing that very thing. Other leaders have mildly stated what MacVeagh here emphasizes, to wit, that the present system promotes and develops panics and that the federal government in permitting this system to exist is responsible for the commercial, industrial and social disasters which flow from panics and attack directly or indirectly every home in the nation.

Mr. MacVeagh enumerates some of the reforms which he holds necessary to overcome present evils. First and foremost, he lays down as the prime essentials of our national currency, "never failing reserves, and never failing currency and the perfect elasticity and flexibility of both," together with the permanent organization and organized cooperation of the banks which are now suffering and causing the nation to suffer by reason of their unorganized state; a central agency, independent banking units, utilization and fluidity of bank assets, scientific development of exchanges, domestic and foreign; and, finally, that the United States treasury go out of the banking business.

As to the qualities our currency should possess Mr. MacVeagh is right, but as to the means of securing these qualities, those who are opposed to Wall street control will disagree with him. He favors a central agency which is but another name for Aldrich's central bank, and if the treasury department relinquishes its control and supervision of the banks then the latter would exercise the function of issuing an asset currency which is deemed a dangerous source of inflation. Thus Wall street would be enabled to control the business of the country. The present system of currency has proved adequate to move a great harvest; but not to withstand gigantic gambling operations in Wall street at the same time.

There is no doubt as to the need of currency reform. It is a great problem with which the republican party has experimented since 1872, and today a republican official is authority for the statement that it is but a breeder of disastrous panics, which is true.

The problem is thus put forward for settlement by the democratic administration; but the money power will fight every attempt to curtail its influence or its control of the financial affairs of the country. Thus the problem is more difficult than that of the tariff and to radically change both about the same time would be quite hazardous.

THE WHIPPING POST

Governor Baldwin of Connecticut would have the whipping post restored for the punishment of certain criminals. For the wife beater, the burglar who uses torture to compel people to give up their money, the wretch who violates childlike innocence and some other criminals, Governor Baldwin says the whipping post should be revived and we do not know but he is right. If a man steals a horse he is sure of punishment, if caught, but if he commits murder, he stands a fairly good chance of escape. The use of the whipping post instead of prolonged imprisonment would be preferable in some cases in the opinion of Governor Baldwin.

Judge Hadley when on the bench in the Lowell police court, often found cases of such depravity that he felt the whipping post alone could affect the desired change. A sentence to jail, to the reformatory or any penal institution has no terrors for the habitual criminal, the wife beater or the degenerate.

FALL RIVER CONTESTS

The city of Fall River had some hot contests to decide last Tuesday. The republicans elected the mayor, four aldermen-at-large; a six of the nine ward aldermen, while the democrats secured control of the school board for the first time in the history of the city. The democrats claimed they had been unfairly treated by the school board in the past and they probably were; but it remains to be seen now whether they will adopt a policy of narrowness or set an example of conducting the business of the public schools upon merit, in order to secure the best educational results for all the people.

NO MORE FREE LUNCHES

What a glorious thing is the referendum as applied in Los Angeles, where the people have decided by an emphatic majority against the free lunches in saloons. Now, suppose the saloonists stand upon their constitutional rights to give away their lunches or their beer or their money, what effect will the mandate of the people have? To be sure the licensing power can take away a man's license if he refuses to follow the prescribed regulations, but this particular application of the referendum seems to be a degradation of a high prerogative of direct legislation.

THE PURE FOOD FAIR

The pure food fair now in progress in the armory should afford the people an opportunity to learn something about the method by which to distinguish pure food from that which is adulterated. The course of lectures is quite instructive to those who hear them, and as for the exhibits they are quite as good as some that have been displayed in the pure food fair in Boston and other cities. The local exhibits are quite creditable, the merchants showing a commendable spirit in trying to help the movement along.

MUST NOT MARRY FOREIGNERS

The Kaiser issues an edict forbidding German diplomats to marry foreign women. Just as soon as any German in the diplomatic service marries a foreigner, he is dropped from the service on the ground that his marriage is an indication that he does not wish to remain longer in the service. This is a revival of Bismarck's stern decree in regard to the diplomatic service. The Germans, as a rule, do not make a specialty of seeking foreign belles in marriage.

ENFORCING THE WIRELESS ACT

It is refreshing to find the United States government enforcing the laws for safety of passengers on trans-Atlantic liners. The captain of the Numidian at New York was arrested on the charge that his ship was not complying with the act of congress specifying the wireless equipment for ocean liners. This will cause other liners also to look to their wireless outfit.

President Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford is getting some hard knocks from the New York and Boston papers on account of the proposed alliance with the Grand Trunk. President Mellen had many projects on hand for the improvement of his own lines before this proposition came up and in all probability before the investigation is over he will find it to his advantage to proceed with these, letting the Grand Trunk take care of itself.

The whole of Massachusetts will say amen to the statement of Mayor Fitzgerald, that the United States government should own the coal mines. The present extortions practiced by the coal operators or somebody for them should bring about a change that would make a repetition impossible.

The Interstate Commerce commission is to investigate the exorbitant price of coal. This body has the power to reduce the price, and it will earn the gratitude of the entire nation if it lowers the price and makes some provisions by which the annual hold-up will be prevented.

When the constitution is changed to allow the popular election of U. S. senators the electoral college by which the will of the majority in this country is often overruled should be abolished. The president and vice president should also be elected by popular vote.

Very few have any sympathy for the men and women who lost vast sums on the book swindle. Had they been asked to expend their money for some charitable purpose, they would have promptly refused to contribute.

"Muscular Christianity" as illustrated in boxing bouts is the latest form of amusement at a Hempstead, L. I. church club. The despatch does not state whether the umpire opened the bouts with prayer.

Seen and Heard

James Oliver Curwood, author of "The Flower of the North," tells the following story about the men to be found in the country about Hudson Bay, where the scene of his story is laid:

"I was at Prince Albert," he says, "sitting on the veranda of the Hotel Windsor Hotel, facing the Saskatchewan. During the few days previous a number of furs, traps, and half-breed canoes had come down from the north. One of these men had not been down to the river of civilization for seven years. Three of the others had not been down in two, and this was the annual trip of the other three—for there were just 13 of us sitting there together."

"We were smoking and talking when a young woman turned up the narrow walk leading to the veranda. Immediately every voice was hushed, and as the woman came up the steps I saw 12 roughly clad men of the wilderness stare their feet in a man each holding his cap in his hand. Thus they stood silent and with bowed heads, until the young woman had passed into the hotel. It was the most beautiful tribute to womanhood I had ever seen. And I, the man of civilization, was the only one who remained sitting, with my hat still on my head."

The distinction of being the first clergyman to travel by aeroplane to minister to a dying man, says the New York Sun, falls to Fr. Andral, a French priest serving with the troops in Morocco.

He was taken to the hospital at Laghouat when a young aeronaut, Lieut. Gregard, entered his room and asked him if it were possible for him to come with him by aeroplane in order to give the sacrament to a dying officer who had been shot by the enemy.

The two were heartily cheered by the soldiers when they descended in the French camp.

The wounded man when told he must die had said: "To die is nothing; but to die without the consolations of religion is sad." Lieut. Gregard had

SIMPLE WAY

TO BANISH HEMORRHOIDS

DISTRESS QUICKLY RELIEVED AND THIS MOST PERSISTENT DISEASE CONQUERED

Why should you suffer longer, when at every drugstore of consequence in Lowell and vicinity you can secure a physician's home treatment for Hemorrhoids or Piles that has been wonderfully successful in practice and that is highly recommended by physicians and pharmacists?

This effective process is known as ENGLISH HEMORRHOID TREATMENT and the instructions are so easy to follow that the disease can be privately and quickly be overcome, right in your own home.

The ENGLISH HEMORRHOID TREATMENT consists of three separate formulae, all put up in one package. In one box you will find suppositories, in another an ointment, and in still another a box of tablets to be taken internally. Extra boxes of each can be obtained at 50 cents.

Each of these formulae serves its purpose perfectly and the result is prompt relief, followed by complete disappearance of the distressing disease or your money back.

Dear to mind that the ENGLISH HEMORRHOID TREATMENT is a complete one; it has been used for years in the practice of many physicians with remarkable success and is now offered direct to sufferers by pharmacists who know its value.

bent down and whispered that he would fetch a priest by aeroplane. The dying man was still alive when the priest arrived. He made his confession and received communion and a few minutes afterward died.

SILLY WILLIE

Willie the silly was eager to fight. He longed to get into a row. He boasted and blustered by day and by night.

He wished to gain glory somehow. When he found a big boy who was ragged and thin And sickly and awkward and meek, With a wild wallop Willie the silly sailed in.

And gave him a slap on the cheek. Then Willie the silly half bursting with pride Went onward still looking for gore; Like the beast that has tasted of blood, Willie sighed For a chance to be fighting some more.

He found a small boy who was full of dismay. A wail who was scared half to death. And Willie the silly went smashing away. Depriving the other of breath.

So Willie the silly forgot to be coy. And he stepped upon smaller boys' toes. He imagined that he was the cleverest boy That ever had battered a nose.

But it happened one day as he strutted along That a boy with strong muscles was met. Now Willie the silly things fighting is wrong. And his nose has a scab on it yet.

It's important to win, but if we're to hold The places we gain at the top There's a thing that is better than pride or than gold. And that is to know when to stop.

home at Indianapolis. The poet says he knew Kretschmar well and still is his friend. The latter is a literary gentleman. Kretschmar killed Jones on Feb. 2, 1902. At the trial he pleaded self-defense. A jury fixed his sentence at 18 years in the penitentiary. Just before he entered the prison he tried to take his life by cutting his throat. Riley's letter to Governor Hadley is as follows: "Word has just reached me that everywhere the friends of Herman Kretschmar are making an earnest effort to secure, by petition, Kretschmar's release from the Missouri state penitentiary. As one who knew him well, who admired him greatly, who was ever won to him by his endearing personality and who is still proud to call him friend, I wish to add my plea to those already presented. "If he was to be made a warning to others, has not the lesson been fully driven home? If the protection of society was contemplated, can there now be any fear of danger from one whose good record and good friends alike plead for clemency? "And so, my dear governor, I ask that the poor fragments of my friend's unhappy life be given into his own keeping, believing in a sincerity that he will weld them into a golden whole, to his own peace, and to the benediction of him who grants them. "With great respect, believe me, faithfully yours, "James Whitcomb Riley."

While there I could not produce my best results consistently, although at times I ran faster in Johannesburg than I ever ran in my life. Without a doubt in that city, which is 6000 feet above the sea level, a man can run two yards faster in a hundred than he can run in Europe or America, which is probably due to the more rarefied air. I should imagine the same results could be obtained in Denver or some of our western cities of high altitude and dry air."

President Taft's Second Message to Congress Deals With Fiscal, Judicial, Military and Insular Affairs

Sending a second message to congress on fiscal, judicial, military and insular affairs, President Taft explains that, as the message of Dec. 3 was confined to foreign relations and as a full discussion of all the transactions of the government requires more space than one message of reasonable length affords, "I have therefore adopted the course of sending three or four messages during the first ten days of the session so as to include reference to more important matters that should be brought to the attention of congress."

The president finds the country in a period of successful business, with a year of bumper crops. For the last three years the government has saved much by sensible economy. He finds the crying need of the country is a proper banking and currency system and says that customs duties should be revised downward. He strongly urges congress to make the necessary appropriation for strengthening our foreign possessions at the earliest possible day. In recognition of his work on the Panama canal President Taft recommends the promotion of Colonel Goethals to the rank of major general.

The president says reduced expenditures in the navy mean reduced military strength and deems that the increase should be at least two battleships a year and battle cruisers, gunboats and torpedo destroyers and submarines in proper proportion.

He commends the calm, orderly way in which the trusts are being proceeded against and says a steady, consistent course, without any radical legislation changing the present governmental policies, is going to offer a solution to the problem. The country's business first engages the president's attention.

Business Conditions.
The condition of the country with reference to business could hardly be better. While the four years of the administration now drawing to a close have not developed great speculative expansion or a wide field of new investment, the recovery and progress made from the depressing conditions following the panic of 1907 have been steady, and the improvement has been clear and easily traced in the statistics. The business of the country is now on a solid basis. Credits are not unduly extended, and every phase of the situation seems in a state of preparedness for a period of unexampled prosperity.

Manufacturing concerns are running at their full capacity, and the demand for labor was never so constant and growing. The foreign trade of the country for this year will exceed $4,000,000,000, while the balance in our favor—that of the excess of exports over imports—will exceed $500,000,000.

It is a year of bumper crops. The total money value of farm products will exceed $9,500,000,000. It is a year when the bushel or unit price of agricultural products has gradually fallen, and yet the total value of the entire crop is greater by over $1,000,000,000 than we have known in our history.

Condition of the Treasury.
The condition of the treasury is very satisfactory. The total interest bearing debt is $963,777,770, of which $134,631,980 constitutes the Panama canal loan. The noninterest bearing debt is $738,301,234.93, including $346,631,016 of greenbacks. We have in the treasury $150,000,000 in gold coin as a reserve against the outstanding greenbacks; and in addition we have a cash balance in the treasury as a general fund of $167,152,478.99, or an increase of $26,975,552 over the general fund last year.

Receipts and Expenditures.
For three years the expenditures of the government have decreased under the influence of an effort to economize. This year presents an apparent exception. The estimate by the secretary of the treasury of the ordinary receipts, exclusive of postal revenues, for the year ending June 30, 1914, indicates that they will amount to $710,000,000. The sum of the estimates of the expenditures for that same year, exclusive of Panama canal disbursements and postal disbursements payable from postal revenues, is $732,000,000, indicating a deficit of $22,000,000.

For the year ending June 30, 1913, similarly estimated receipts were $687,000,000, while the total corresponding estimate of expenditures for that year, submitted through the secretary of the treasury to congress, amounted to $666,000,000. This shows an increase of $21,000,000 in the estimates for 1914 over the total estimates of 1913. This is due to an increase of $25,000,000 in the estimate for rivers and harbors for the next year on projects and surveys authorized by congress; to an increase under the new pension bill of $32,500,000, and to an increase in the estimates for expenses of the navy department of $24,000,000.

Banking and Currency System.
A time when panics seem far removed is the best time for us to prepare our financial system to withstand a storm. The most crying need of this country is a proper banking and currency system. The existing one is inadequate, and every one who has studied the question admits it. It is the business of the national government to provide a medium, automatically contracting and expanding in volume, to meet the needs of trade. Our present system lacks the indispensable quality of elasticity.

The only part of our monetary medium that has elasticity is the banknote currency. The peculiar provision of the law requiring national banks to maintain reserves to meet the call of the depositors operates to increase the money stringency when it arises rather than to expand the supply of currency and relieve it. It operates upon each bank and furnishes a motive for the withdrawal of currency from the channels of trade by each bank to save itself and offers no inducement whatever for the use of the reserve to expand the supply of currency to meet the exceptional demand.

After the panic of 1907 congress realized that the present system was not adapted to the country's needs and that under it panics were possible that might properly be avoided by legislative provision. Accordingly a monetary commission was appointed which made a report in February, 1912. The system which they recommended involved a National Reserve association, which was, in certain of its faculties and functions, a bank, and which was given through its governing authorities the power, by issuing circulating notes for approved commercial paper, by fixing discounts, and by other methods of transfer of currency, to expand the supply of the monetary medium where it was most needed to prevent the export or hoarding of gold and generally to exercise such supervision over the supply of money in every part of the country as to prevent a stringency and a panic.

Certain it is, however, that the objections which were made in the past history of this country to a central bank as furnishing a monopoly of financial power to private individuals, would not apply to an association whose ownership and control is so widely distributed and is divided between all the banks of the country, state and national, on the one hand, and the chief executive through three department heads and his comptroller of the currency on the other.

There is no class in the community more interested in a safe and sane banking and currency system, one which will prevent panics and automatically furnish in each trade center the currency needed in the carrying on of the business at that center, than the wage earner. There is no class in the community whose experience better qualifies them to make suggestions as to the sufficiency of a currency and banking system than the bankers and business men.

Ought we therefore to ignore their recommendations and reject their financial judgment as to the proper method of reforming our financial system merely because of the suspicion which exists against them in the minds of many of our fellow citizens? Is it not the duty of congress to take up the plan suggested, examine it from all standpoints, give impartial consideration to the testimony of those whose experience ought to fit them to give the best advice on the subject, and then to adopt some plan which will secure the benefits desired?

A banking and currency system seems far away from the wage earner and the farmer, but the fact is that they are vitally interested in a safe system of currency which shall graduate its volume to the amount needed and which shall prevent times of artificial stringency that frighten capital, stop employment, prevent the meeting of the payroll, destroy local markets and produce penury and want.

The Tariff.

I have regarded it as my duty in former messages to the congress to urge the revision of the tariff upon principles of protection. It was my judgment that the customs duties ought to be revised downward, but that the reduction ought not to be below a rate which would represent the difference in the cost of production between the article in question at home and abroad, and for this and other reasons I vetoed several bills which were presented to me in the last session of this congress. Now that a new congress has been elected on a platform of a tariff for revenue only rather than a protective tariff, and it is to revise the tariff on that basis, it is needless for me to occupy the time of this congress with arguments or recommendations in favor of a protective tariff.

Army Reorganization.

Our small army now consists of 33,809 men, excluding the 5,000 Philippine scouts. Leaving out of consideration the coast artillery force, whose position is fixed in our various sea coast defenses, and the present garrisons of our various insular possessions, we have today within the continental United States a mobile army of only about 35,000 men. This little force must be still further drawn upon to supply the new garrisons for the great naval base which is being established at Pearl harbor, in the Hawaiian Islands, and to protect the locks now rapidly approaching completion at Panama.

The forces remaining in the United States are now scattered in nearly fifty posts, situated for a variety of historical reasons in twenty-four states. These posts contain only fractions of regiments, averaging less than 700 men each. In time of peace it has been our historical policy to administer these units separately by a geographical organization. In other words, our army in time of peace has never been a united organization, but merely scattered groups of companies, battalions and regiments, and the first task in time of war has been to create out of these scattered units an army fit for effective team work and cooperation.

A comprehensive plan of army reorganization was prepared by the war college division of the general staff.

Under the influence of this study definite and effective steps have been taken toward army reorganization so far as such reorganization lies within the executive power. Hitherto there has been no difference of policy in the treatment of the organization of our foreign garrisons from those of troops within the United States. The difference of situation is vital, and the foreign garrison should be prepared to defend itself at an instant's notice against a foe who may command the sea. Unlike the troops in the United States, it cannot count upon reinforcements or recruitment. It is an outpost upon which will fall the brunt of the first attack in case of war.

The historical policy of the United States of carrying its regiments during time of peace at half strength has no application to our foreign garrisons. During the past year this defect has been remedied as to the Philippines garrison. The former garrison of twelve reduced regiments has been replaced by a garrison of six regiments at full strength, giving fully the same number of riflemen at an estimated economy in cost of maintenance of over $1,000,000 per year. This garrison is to be permanent. Its regimental units, instead of being transferred periodically back and forth from the United States, will remain in the islands. The officers and men composing these units will, however, serve a regular tropical detail, as usual, thus involving no greater hardship upon the personnel and greatly increasing the effectiveness of the garrison.

A similar policy is proposed for the Hawaiian and Panama garrisons as fast as the barracks for them are completed. I strongly urge upon congress that the necessary appropriations for this purpose should be promptly made. It is, in my opinion, of first importance that these national outposts, upon which a successful home defense will primarily depend, should be finished and placed in effective condition at the earliest possible day.

The Home Army.

Simultaneously with the foregoing steps the war department has been proceeding with the reorganization of the army at home. The formerly disconnected units are being united into a tactical organization of three divisions, each consisting of two or three brigades of infantry and, so far as practicable, a proper proportion of divisional cavalry and artillery. Of course the extent to which this reform can be carried by the executive is practically limited to a paper organization. The scattered units can be brought under a proper organization, but they will remain physically scattered until congress supplies the necessary funds for grouping them in more concentrated posts.

Regular Army Reserve.

One of the most important reforms accomplished during the past year has been the legislation enacted in the army appropriation bill of last summer, providing for a regular army reserve. Hitherto our national policy has assumed that at the outbreak of war our regiments would be immediately raised to full strength. But our laws have provided no means by which this could be accomplished or by which the losses of the regiments when once sent to the front could be repaired. In this respect we have neglected the lessons learned by other nations.

The new law provides that the soldier, after serving four years with colors, shall pass into a reserve for three years. At his option he may go to the reserve at the end of three years, remaining there for four years. While in the reserve he can be called and only in such case will receive a stated amount of pay for all of the period in which he has been a member of the reserve. The legislation is imperfect, in my opinion, in certain particulars, but it is a most important step in the right direction, and I earnestly hope that it will be carefully studied and perfected by congress.

The National Guard.

Under existing law the national guard constitutes, after the regular army, the first line of national defense. Its organization, discipline, training and equipment under recent legislation have been assimilated, as far as possible, to those of the regular army, and its practical efficiency under the effect of this training has very greatly increased. Our citizen soldiers under present conditions have reached a stage of development beyond which they cannot reasonably be asked to go without further direct assistance in the form of pay from the federal government. On the other hand, such pay from the national treasury would not be justified unless it produced a proper equivalent in additional efficiency on the part of the national guard.

The organized militia today cannot be ordered outside of the limits of the United States and thus cannot lawfully be used for general military purposes. The officers and men are ambious and eager to make themselves thus available and to become an efficient national reserve of citizen soldiery. They are the only force of trained men other than the regular army upon which we can rely. The so called militia pay bill in the form agreed on between the authorities of the war department and the representatives of the national guard, in my opinion, adequately meets these conditions and offers a proper return for the pay which it is proposed to give to the national guard.

I believe that its enactment into law would be a very long step toward providing this nation with a first line of citizen soldiery; upon which its main reliance must depend in case of any national emergency. Plans for the organization of the national guard into tactical divisions on the same lines as those adopted for the regular army are being formulated by the war college division of the general staff.

Porto Rico.

Porto Rico continues to show notable progress, both commercially and in the spread of education. Its external commerce has increased 17 per cent over the preceding year, bringing the total value up to $92,631,886, or more than five times the value of the commerce of the island in 1901. During the year 190,687 pupils were enrolled in the public schools as against 145,825 for the preceding year and as compared with 26,000 for the first year of American administration.

The failure thus far to grant American citizenship continues to be the only ground of dissatisfaction. The bill conferring such citizenship has passed the house of representatives and is now awaiting the action of the senate. I am heartily in favor of the passage of this bill. I believe that the demand for citizenship is just and that it is amply earned by sustained loyalty on the part of the inhabitants of the island. But it should be remembered that the demand must be, and in the minds of most Porto Ricans is, entirely dissociated from any thought of statehood.

The Philippines.

A bill is pending in congress which revolutionizes the carefully worked out scheme of government under which the Philippine Islands are now governed and which proposes to render them virtually autonomous at once and absolutely independent in eight years. Such a proposal can only be founded on the assumption that we have now discharged our trusteeship to the Filipino people and our responsibility for them to the world and that they are now prepared for self government as well as national sovereignty. A thorough and unbiased knowledge of the facts clearly shows that these assumptions are absolutely without justification.

As to this I believe that there is no substantial difference of opinion among any of those who have had the responsibility of facing Philippine problems in the administration of the islands, and I believe that no one to whom the future of this people is a responsible concern can countenance a policy fraught with the direst consequences to those on whose behalf it is ostensibly urged.

In the Philippine Islands we have embarked upon an experiment unprecedented in dealing with dependent peoples. We are developing there conditions exclusively for their own welfare. We found an archipelago containing twenty-four tribes and races, speaking a great variety of languages and with a population over 80 per cent of which could neither read nor write. Through the unifying forces of a common education, of commercial and economic development and of gradual participation in local self government we are endeavoring to evolve a homogeneous people fit to determine, when the time arrives, their own destiny. We are seeking to arouse a national spirit and not, as under the older colonial theory, to suppress such a spirit. The character of the work we have been doing is keenly recognized in the orient, and our success thus far followed with not a little envy by those who, initiating the same policy, find themselves hampered by conditions grown up in earlier days and under different theories of administration. But our work is far from done.

Our duty to the Filipinos is far from discharged. Over half a million Filipino students are now in the Philippine schools helping to mold the men of the future into a homogeneous people, but there still remain more than a million Filipino children of school age yet to be reached. Freed from American control the integrating forces of a common education and a common language will cease and the educational system now well started will slip back into inefficiency and disorder. An enormous increase in the commercial development of the islands has been made since they were virtually granted full access to our markets three years ago, with every prospect of increasing development and diversified industries. Freed from American control such development is bound to decline.

The ideal which has been kept in mind in our political guidance of the islands has been real popular self government and not mere paper independence. I am happy to say that the Filipinos have done well enough in the places they have filled and in the discharge of the political power with which they have been intrusted to warrant the belief that they can be educated and trained to complete self government. But the present satisfactory results are due to constant support and supervision at every step by Americans.

If the task we have undertaken is higher than that assumed by other nations, its accomplishment must demand even more patience. We must not forget that we found the Filipinos wholly untrained in government. Up to our advent all other experience sought to repress rather than encourage political power. It takes long time and much experience to ingrain political habits of steadiness and efficiency. Popular self government ultimately must rest upon common habits of thought and upon a reasonably developed public opinion.

A present declaration even of future independence would retard progress by the dissension and disorder it would arouse. On our part it would be a disingenuous attempt, under the guise of conferring a benefit on them, to relieve ourselves from the heavy and difficult burden which thus far we have been bravely and consistently sustaining. It would be a disguised policy of scuttling. It would make the helpless Filipino the football of oriental politics, under the protection of a guaranty of their independence, which we would be powerless to enforce.

Regulation of Water Power.

There are pending before congress a large number of bills proposing to grant privileges of erecting dams for the purpose of creating water power on our navigable rivers. The pendency of these bills has brought out an important defect in the existing general dam act. That act does not, in my opinion, grant sufficient power to the federal government in dealing with the construction of such dams to exact protective conditions in the interest of navigation. It does not permit the federal government, as a condition of its permit, to require that a part of the value thus created shall be applied to the further general improvement and protection of the stream. I believe this to be one of the most important matters of internal improvement now confronting the government.

In my opinion constructive statesmanship requires that legislation should be enacted which will permit the development of navigation in these great rivers to go hand in hand with the utilization of this byproduct of water power, created in the course of the same improvement, and that the general dam act should be so amended as to make this possible.

I deem it highly important that the nation should adopt a consistent and harmonious treatment of these water power projects, which will preserve for this purpose their value to the government, whose right it is to grant the permit. Any other policy is equivalent to throwing away a most valuable national asset.

The Panama Canal.

During the past year the work of construction upon the canal has progressed most satisfactorily. About 87 per cent of the excavation work has been completed, and more than 93 per cent of the concrete for all the locks is in place. In view of the great interest which has been manifested as to some slides in the Culebra cut I am glad to say that the report of Colonel Goethals should allay any apprehension on this point. It is gratifying to note that none of the slides which occurred during this year would have interfered with the passage of the ships had the canal in fact been in operation, and when the slope pressures will have been finally adjusted and the growth of vegetation will minimize erosion in the banks of the cut the slide problem will be practically solved and an ample stability assured for the Culebra cut.

Although the official date of the opening has been set for Jan. 1, 1914, the canal will in fact, from present indications, be opened for shipping during the latter half of 1913. No fixed date can as yet be set, but shipping interests will be advised as soon as assurances can be given that vessels can pass through without unnecessary delay.

Recognizing the administrative problem in the management of the canal, congress in the act of Aug. 24, 1912, has made admirable provisions for executive responsibility in the control of the canal and the government of the canal zone. The problem of most efficient organization is receiving careful consideration, so that a scheme of organization and control best adapted to the conditions of the canal may be formulated and put in operation as expeditiously as possible. Acting under the authority conferred on me by congress I have by executive proclamation promulgated the following schedule of tolls for ships passing through the canal, based upon the thorough report of Emory R. Johnson, special commissioner on traffic and tolls:

First.—On merchant vessels carrying passengers or cargo, $1.20 per net vessel ton—each 100 cubic feet of actual earning capacity.

Second.—On vessels in ballast without passengers or cargo, 40 per cent less than the rate of toll for vessels with passengers or cargo.

Third.—Upon naval vessels other than transports, collars, hospital ships and supply ships, 50 cents per displacement ton.

Fourth.—Upon army and navy transports, collars, hospital ships and supply ships, $1.20 per net ton, the vessels to be measured by the same rules as are employed in determining the net tonnage of merchant vessels.

Rules for the determination of the tonnage upon which toll charges are based are now in course of preparation and will be promulgated in due season.

Panama Canal Treaty.

The proclamation which I have issued in respect to the Panama canal tolls is in accord with the Panama canal act passed by this congress Aug. 24, 1912. We have been advised that the British government has prepared a protest against the act and its enforcement in so far as it relieves from the payment of tolls American ships engaged in the American coastwise trade on the ground that it violates British rights under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty concerning the Panama canal. When the protest is presented it will be promptly considered and an effort made to reach a satisfactory adjustment of any differences there may be between the two governments.

Promotion For Colonel Goethals.

As the completion of the canal grows nearer and as the wonderful executive work of Colonel Goethals becomes more conspicuous in the eyes of the country and of the world it seems to me wise and proper to make provision by law for such reward to him as may be commensurate with the service that he has rendered to his country. I suggest that this reward take the form of an appointment of Colonel Goethals as a major general in the army of the United States and that the law authorizing such appointment be accompanied with a provision permitting his designation as chief of engineers upon the retirement of the present incumbent of that office.

Navy Department.

The navy of the United States is in a greater state of efficiency and is more powerful than it has ever been before, but in the emulation which exists between different countries in respect to the increase of naval and military armaments this condition is not a permanent one. In view of the many improvements and increases by foreign governments the slightest halt on our part in respect to new construction throws us back and reduces us from a naval power of the first rank and places us among the navies of the second rank. In the past fifteen years the navy has expanded rapidly and yet far less rapidly than our country.

From now on reduced expenditures in the navy mean reduced military strength. The world's history has shown the importance of sea power both for adequate defense and for the support of important and definite policies.

I had the pleasure of attending this autumn a mobilization of the Atlantic fleet and was glad to observe and note the preparedness of the fleet for instant action. The review brought before the president and the secretary of the navy a greater and more powerful collection of vessels than had ever been gathered in American waters. The condition of the fleet and of the officers and enlisted men and of the equipment of the vessels entitled those in authority to the greatest credit.

I again commend to congress the giving of legislative sanction to the appointment of the naval aide to the secretary of the navy. These aids and the council of aids appointed by the secretary of the navy to assist him in the conduct of his department have proved to be of the highest utility. They have furnished an executive committee of the most skilled naval experts, who have co-ordinated the action of the various bureaus in the navy and by their advice have enabled the secretary to give an administration at the same time economical and most efficient.

Never before has the United States had a navy that compared in efficiency with its present one, but never before have the requirements with respect to naval warfare been higher and more exacting than now. A year ago congress refused to appropriate for more than one battleship. In this I think a great mistake of policy was made, and I urgently recommend that this congress make up for the mistake of the last session by appropriations authorizing the construction of three battleships, in addition to destroyers, fuel ships and the other auxiliary vessels as shown in the building program of the general board. We are confronted by a condition in respect to the navies of the world which requires us, if we would maintain our navy as an insurance of peace, to augment our naval force by at least two battleships a year and by battle cruisers, gunboats, torpedo destroyers and submarine boats in a proper proportion. We have no desire for war. We would go as far as any nation in the world to avoid war, but we are a world power.

Department of Justice.

This department has been very active in the enforcement of the law. It has been better organized and with a larger force than ever before in the history of the government. The prosecutions which have been successfully concluded and which are now pending testify to the effectiveness of the departmental work.

The prosecution of trusts under the Sherman anti-trust law has gone on without restraint or diminution, and decrees similar to those entered in the Standard Oil and the tobacco cases have been entered in other suits, like the suits against the powder trust and the bathtub trust. I am very strongly convinced that a steady, consistent course in this regard, with a continuation of supreme court decisions upon new phases of the trust question not already finally decided, is going to offer a solution of this much discussed and troublesome issue in a quiet, calm and judicial way without any radical legislation changing the governmental policy in regard to combinations now denounced by the Sherman anti-trust law.

I have already recommended as an aid in this matter legislation which would declare unlawful certain well known phases of unfair competition in interstate trade, and I have also advocated voluntary national incorporation for the larger industrial enterprises, with provision for a closer supervision by the bureau of corporations or a board appointed for the purpose, so as to make more certain compliance with the anti-trust law on the one hand and to give greater security to the stockholders against possible prosecutions on the other.

I believe, however, that the orderly course of litigation in the courts and the regular prosecution of trusts charged with the violation of the antitrust law is producing among business men a clearer and clearer perception of the line of distinction between business that is to be encouraged and business that is to be condemned, and that in this quiet way the question of trusts can be settled and competition retained as an economic force to secure reasonableness in prices and freedom and independence in trade.

Reform of Court Procedure.

I am glad to bring to the attention of congress the fact that the supreme court has radically altered the equity rules governing the procedure on the equity side of all federal courts, and though, as these changes have not been yet put in practice so as to enable us to state from actual results what the reform will accomplish, they are of such a character that we can reasonably prophesy that they will greatly reduce the time and cost of litigation in such courts. The court has adopted many of the shorter methods of the present English procedure, and while it may take a little while for the profession to accustom itself to these methods, it is certain greatly to facilitate litigation. The action of the supreme court has been so drastic and so full of appreciation of the necessity for a great reform in court procedure that I have no hesitation in following up this action with a recommendation which I foreshadowed in my message of three years ago, that the sections of the statute governing the procedure in the federal courts on the common law side should be so amended as to give to the supreme court the same right to make rules of procedure in common law as they have since the beginning of the court exercised in equity.

I do not doubt that a full consideration of the subject will enable the court while giving effect to the substantial differences in right and remedy between the system of common law and the system of equity so to unite the two procedures into the form of one civil action and to shorten the procedure in such civil action as to furnish a model to all the state courts exercising concurrent jurisdiction with the federal courts of first instance.

Under the statute now in force the common law procedure in each federal court is made to conform to the procedure in the state in which the court is held. In these days, when we should be making progress in court procedure, such a conformity statute makes the federal method too dependent upon the action of state legislatures. I can but think it a great opportunity for congress to intrust to the highest tribunal in this country, evidently imbued with a strong spirit in favor of a reform of procedure, the power to frame a model code of procedure, which, while preserving all that is valuable and necessary of the rights and remedies at common law and in equity, shall lessen the burden of the poor litigant to a minimum in the expedition and cheapness with which his cause can be fought or defended through federal courts to final judgment.

Workman's Compensation Act.

The workman's compensation act reported by the special commission appointed by congress and the executive, which passed the senate and is now pending in the house, the passage of which I have in previous messages urged upon congress, I venture again to call to its attention. The opposition to it which developed in the senate, but which was overcome by a majority in that body, seemed to me to grow out rather of a misapprehension of its effect than of opposition to its principle.

I say again that I think no act can have a better effect directly upon the relations between the employer and employee than this act applying to railroads and common carriers of an interstate character, and I am sure that the passage of the act would greatly relieve the courts of the heaviest burden of litigation that they have and would enable them to dispatch other business with a speed never before attained in courts of justice in this country.

GIRL ELOPER ASKS AID

Boston Girl Appealed to N. Y. Police Chief

Refuses to Quit Her Husband on Mother's Offer to Supply Funds for her Return to Boston

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—How the magnetic spell exercised over her by a Revere beach professional high diver remained unbroken despite a fond mother's bitter opposition and his apparent worthlessness, inability to provide a home and subsequent desertion was revealed yesterday when the former Miss Catherine Manduit, of 146 Charles street, West end, appealed for aid to the chief of police of Watertown, N. Y.

The girl arrived in that city Wednesday accompanied by the man she secretly married in Boston last August, having left Boston a week ago to join him at Syracuse. Leaving home she was provided with funds more than enough to last her for the week and to pay her return fare to Boston.

To Chief of Police Baxter, of Watertown, she declared she was without friends and without a dollar and asked that a wire be hurried for relief. Wednesday night Chief Baxter received a message from the girl's mother saying that she would wire enough money for transportation and Pullman accommodations for her daughter if she would leave the man and return home. This the girl refused to do and stated that she would stay with her husband at any cost.

Worried over her daughter's plight, Mrs. Manduit sought the advice of a lawyer and yesterday he forwarded sufficient funds for her return to Boston to Chief Baxter, instructing him that they were to be given to the girl only if she gave up her husband. Late last night the girl's mother, when seen at her home said she would freely forgive her daughter if she would return home, but stated that under no consideration would she aid her if her husband remained with her.

He, Mrs. Manduit said, was unprincipled and was endeavoring to live on what he could obtain from the family. Friends of the family say the girl, who is now 22 years old, first met the man when he was a high diver at Revere beach, more than a year ago. He was then known as Frank Tossorovich, and shortly after meeting the girl he was away from her continuously up to last August. It is said that he had been sent to prison for a year.

During this time a correspondence was kept up and when he reappeared they were secretly married. Later they went to New York on funds provided by the girl's mother and shortly after he is said to have enlisted in the army, leaving the girl unprovided for. She was thought to have come to a realization of his worthlessness and last week asked for funds to go to Watertown to institute divorce proceedings.

At Watertown according to dispatches her husband was known as C. Madeline. He was well dressed and on joining his wife said he was a vaudeville performer but that he would accept any kind of employment. The girl, attired in a large picture hat and wearing a neat tailored suit trimmed with ermine, created a bit of excitement when she pleaded for aid.

A collection was taken up by the police and the girl and her husband were quartered at the Watertown House. The former Miss Manduit admitted that she had married against the will of her mother but emphatically refused to leave her husband.

Informed for Using Bad Checks
BOSTON, Dec. 6.—James H. Murray, the Norwood house painter who pleaded guilty to two counts of cashing worthless checks, drawn on the Norwood bank and signed by himself, was sentenced yesterday to 10 months in the house of correction in Dedham by Judge Emory Grover of the Dedham district court.

Vernon Cameron, Norwood, who was with Murray at the time the checks were cashed, also pleaded guilty and was put on probation for one year.

SEPARATED 17 YEARS

Boston Fire Chief Sues for Divorce

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—District Chief Edwin A. Perkins, one of the most popular and efficient officers in the Boston fire department, and in charge of the 6th district, South Boston, has brought suit for divorce, alleging desertion.

Against Mabel D. Perkins, also living in this city.

The district chief and his wife have been separated for 17 years, and in his suit filed yesterday at the court house, the lieutenant sets forth that his wife deserted him on Oct. 1, 1895. They were married on Sept. 7, 1882, and lived in the South and West ends while the fire fighter was winning his chevrons in the department, which he entered as a call man on May 17, 1878.

When seen at his quarters at Fourth and Dorchester streets last night Chief Perkins at first refused to talk about the case, but finally made this brief statement:

"The separation sought will be mutual and agreeable to both parties, and will not be contested. I don't think it is necessary to say anything further than that."

In view of the fact that the couple have been living apart so many years, hardly any one seen last night in the South Boston district knew that the district chief was a married man, although he has been in charge of district 6 since March 22, 1901.

District Chief Perkins was born in Canton, N. H., on May 1, 1858. He came to Boston in 1863, and after leaving school learned the carpenter's trade, which he followed until he joined the fire department. He has won his way to his present office step by step by means of efficiency and personal bravery, and has had many narrow escapes from death at fires in 36 years of service. He lives at 8 Linden street, South Boston.

Adams Express Co. Suffers Loss

In one of the recent weeks of the New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co., in the vicinity of Waterbury, a special shipment of millinery from the headquarters of the Broadway Wholesale Millinery Co. was badly damaged, and as the goods were being carried by the Adams Express Co. they were compelled to take the entire loss. They have made a prompt settlement with the Broadway Wholesale Millinery Co. in full and the shipment now goes on sale at a mere fraction of actual wholesale value. Of course the Express company takes the loss, and the selling which is to commence tomorrow morning, according to the announcement of the Broadway Wholesale Millinery Co., should prove to be one of the biggest bargain events in the history of sales in Lowell. This well known concern's local salesrooms are prominently located at 138 Merrimack street, up one flight.

Civil Service Examinations
The civil service commission announces that competitive examinations for positions in the classified service will be held as follows during month of January, 1913:

Jan. 13: Clerks, messengers, class 3.
Jan. 17: Janitors and engineers of public buildings, class 24.
Jan. 17: Business in the service of Lowell employed in positions where, by law they are required to hold first and second class licenses, class 26.
Jan. 17: Foremen of laborers, inspectors of work, class 22.
Jan. 20: Policemen, class 15.
Jan. 22: Firemen, class 21.

Blankets for the above listed examinations may be obtained by applying to James H. Carmichael, secretary of the board of civil service examinations for Lowell and when filled out should be filed with him at once.

Applications for Lowell civil engineering service will be examined Jan. 1st, 1913, in Boston.

GRACE CHURCH SUPPER RATES FOR COMMUTERS

The Men Proved Agree-Recommended by State
able Hosts Railroad Board

The men of Grace church showed themselves to be excellent chefs and waiters last night when they prepared and served a delicious turkey supper to a large number of people.

Last night was men's night at the church, and the supper and entertainment were given under their direction. It has always been the custom at the church for the men to give one supper and entertainment each year. The ladies have charge of the suppers given during the year with the exception of this one. The men were all dressed in white aprons and appeared to be expert waiters. Dr. Wiley himself could not have complained of the meal.

Those who were in charge of the dining room were Dr. G. Forrest Martin and John W. Stolt. The waiters were as follows: Henry H. Harris, Arthur Abbott, William M. Sherwell, James Stuart Murphy, Frederick W. Parham, Arthur J. Dion, Clarence Moore, Charles Perham, Chas. N. Woodward, Alanson Gray, Fred W. Maxwell, Dr. C. E. Harris, William E. Potter, Perry D. Thompson, A. W. Alley, F. H. Safford, J. B. Sutton, Chas. S. Tewksbury, Frank B. Kenney, H. W. Morse and Charles H. Hanson. As a waiting combination this probably excels anything ever brought together in Lowell.

It is estimated that 300 sat down. At 7:45 o'clock the young ladies of the Pawtucket Congregational church presented "A Modern Sewing Society," a one-act entertainment in which there was much humor. The cast was as follows: President, Miss Laura Bellamy; Mrs. Wise, Mrs. L. A. Ayer; Mrs. Short, Miss Ida Cummings; Mrs. Truthful, Mrs. R. E. Dodge; Mrs. Knowall, Mrs. A. S. Park; Mrs. Brown, Miss Hortense Taber; Mrs. Gossip, Miss Helen Mansfield; Mrs. Green, Miss Helen Mansfield; Miss Per, Mrs. J. V. B. Coburn; Miss Simple, Miss Ida McKinley; Miss Flatter, Miss Luella Conley; Miss Chatter, Miss Amelia Racicot; Mrs. Jones, a visitor, Miss Etta Henderson; and "Miss Small," the new teacher, Miss Helen Mansfield.

Additional entertainment was furnished by John Dalton, tenor, who gave several numbers and who was roundly applauded, and Dr. James Kelly of Somerville, whose Scotch songs in costume constituted one of the evening's biggest hits. The evening's biggest hit, the new teacher, Miss Helen Mansfield.

General charge of the entertainment.

NEVER SUSPECTED KIDNEY TROUBLE—GAINED FIFTY POUNDS IN WEIGHT

Some time ago I was suffering from what I supposed was rheumatism. I became so bad that I could hardly get on my feet from a sitting position. I ran down in weight from 135 to 145 pounds. I tried different kinds of medicine but received little or no help. I saw Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root highly recommended for kidney trouble but I never had any idea that my kidneys were affected. I thought I would try a fifty-cent bottle of Swamp-Root and see what the effect would be. I commenced taking it according to directions and in a few days I saw that it was helping me. I used the fifty-cent bottle and then bought three more dollar bottles and they completely cured me. I have gone back to my original weight—135 pounds—and I am a thorough advocate of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as I believe it to be a remarkable preparation for what it is recommended to do.

WILLIAM H. PARTCH, New Haven, Ct.
Personally appeared before me this 4th day of September, 1909, Wm. H. Partch, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

THE 45TH ANNIVERSARY

Div. I, A. O. H., Held Smoke Talk Last Night

Hibernian hall was the scene of a festive event last night when Division I of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held the last meeting of its 45th year. A large gathering of members was present at the business meeting and smoke talk and a delightful program was prepared for the evening's entertainment. The business session opened shortly after 8 o'clock and at this a number of new members were initiated. President Daniel Hogan was in the chair as the presiding officer. The evening was held in the form of a smoke talk, and there were many enthusiastic speeches, after which refreshments were served. President Hogan acted as toastmaster, and members of the municipal council and school board delivered addresses. The principal numbers were furnished by the well known 20th Century Bachelor club of this city, and through their efforts these present were royally entertained. The following program was well rendered: Song, "Don't Be Ashamed You're Irish," Ed Shea; Song, "The Land of My Golden Dreams," John J. Dalton; "Old Rose," John Devlin; "Deddie-Dum-Dum," Walter Davis; song, James Roane; song, Henry Curry; "I'm the Guy," William Marren; song, James E. Connelly; and "The Star Spangled Banner" by the entire company. Richard J. Noonan was accompanied by the evening. Sheehan's orchestra furnished music during part of the evening.

The officers of Division I are: President, Daniel F. Hogan; vice president, Michael P. Casey; recording secretary, George Stewart; financial secretary, James Sheehan; treasurer, Thomas McCann.

St. John's, No. Chelmsford
A tridium in honor of the Immaculate Conception opened last evening in St. John's church, No. Chelmsford, with a large congregation in attendance. Rosary and instructions were given followed by benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The services will be held this evening at the same hour as also the services in honor of the Sacred Heart.

Skull Fractured
SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 6.—A man believed to be John Boland, connected with a private detective agency of New York and Chicago, was found last night with his skull fractured in a cafe near upper Third avenue. The police have been unable to find anyone who knows anything of Boland or his business here. At the city hospital it was said his injuries were serious.

Guilt of Violating Neutrality Laws
BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Dec. 6.—Miguel Quiroga, who acted as secretary to Gen. Bernardino Reyes, when the latter was in San Antonio preparing to launch an expedition into Mexico last year, was found guilty in the federal district court yesterday of violating the neutrality laws. Sentence will be passed today. Quiroga is indicted with a number of his countrymen last January.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS WOMEN MAKE MISTAKE

That Children Can Make in Spare Time In Not Caring for Clothes in Time

A four leafed clover teapole holder is something any child of seven or eight years of age and over could make for mother's Christmas present. It may be cut from velvet and bound about the edges with silk or ribbon. The holder should be neatly lined with silk and between the velvet and silk a layer of wadding should be placed to give sufficient thickness.

A Set of Cheesecloth Dusters
This gift may be made from a yard of cheesecloth in several different shades. Brier stitch the edges of the cloth and applique an initial in the corner. Blue, green and pink combined in a set makes a nice, cheerful present. A loop fastened to the corner of the duster makes it easy to hang and keep in order.

Cover For Medicine Glass
Cover a round of pasteboard cut just a little larger than an ordinary tumbler with cretonne or chintz, pasting the fabric nicely over the circle. This will make a nice little cover to place over the glass in which medicine is placed.

A Hatpin Holder
A long narrow bottle is used to make this useful gift. Fill the bottle half full of sand so that it will not upset easily and to the top tie a little silk cushion stuffed with wool.

HOW TO DESTROY THE DANDRUFF GERM

BY A SPECIALIST
That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of scurf, tarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you. 4 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavone de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly and after standing half an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger tips. If you wish it perfumed, add a teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. While this preparation is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.
Caution: Do not apply where hair is not desired and be sure to avoid lotions containing poisonous wood alcohol.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS WOMEN MAKE MISTAKE

That Children Can Make in Spare Time In Not Caring for Clothes in Time

There comes a time with the best of clothes when they begin to look the worse for wear. It is a mistake many women make of going on wearing them just as they are, with the apology that it is better to "rag them out," as they are not worth the trouble and expense of renovating. A little care would probably make the bedraggled members of the wardrobe into citizens of good standing.

The back of the skirt, especially the back of a tight skirt, has an unhappy fashion of getting shiny and crushed. You can cure this if you are willing to take the trouble of rubbing over it on the right side a little ammonia, and water, equal parts of each, and then ironing it on the wrong side while it is damp. The ammonia will take away the shiny appearance, and the ironing will smooth out the creases.

Be careful not to wear the skirt until it is quite dry or it will crease worse than ever. Sometimes a shiny garment is beyond the help of ammonia, for it has been worn until all the pile is rubbed off the surface of the cloth or serge. In this case you should lay it out flat on the table and pass a piece of fine sandpaper over it gently in the shiny places.

The sandpaper will roughen up the material again and make it look quite nice, but you must not rub too hard or you will wear holes in the stuff.

As soon as you notice a spot of ink or stain on any of your clothes you should immediately try to get it out. If you leave the stain on for a few days it will settle into the material and be very difficult to remove. Ammonia will take out fruit, wine or mud marks. Milk will remove ink stains. After the garment has been soaked in milk it should be laundered with water which contains a little ammonia.

Salt of lemon is also good for ink stains that have been allowed to remain on the material for some time, but it is best to try the effects of milk first, as salt of lemon tends to rot the material.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Clinton S. Dow, a New York broker, testified on Wednesday before Judge Erwin in Jersey City that he did not owe the Fairmount hotel of that city $30, that the hotel management seriously objected to babies, but had no objection to dogs, and that, when he was a proud and happy expectant father, he was informed that he had better take his wife and dog to other quarters and make ready to greet his heir apparent.

YOUR HAIR IS FLUFFY, BEAUTIFUL AND LUSTROUS IN A FEW MOMENTS

Girls. Get a 25 cent bottle of "Danderine" and try this. Also stops falling hair.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oiling in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. Besides beautifying the hair at once, had been told little babies and big babies were nuisances about a hotel. That mixed chorus, Assn., tonight.

KNUCKLES USED TO CRACK AND BLEED

Hands Chapped, Suffered Terrible Pain. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment Five Weeks, Hands Fine.

674 Park Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.—"My hands used to chap and bleed and they pained me very much. When I put them in water they used to burn terribly, especially in hot water. My hands looked dirty; that was because they were so chapped. The knuckles used to crack and bleed and I suffered terrible pain. I tried different remedies but they never did any good. A friend told me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I got some and made a lather from the Cuticura Soap and bathed my hands, then I dried them and put the Cuticura Ointment on and put on a pair of old gloves. I was surprised to see how my hands were healed. They used to be red and rough and now they are soft as velvet. I tried the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for a week and they got fine. I have no more trouble with my hands since I always use Cuticura Soap and I can't praise it enough to all my friends." (Signed) Mrs. M. Waterman, Dec. 22, 1911.

For pimples and blackheads the following is a most effective and economical treatment: Gently smear the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment, on the back of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue bathing for some minutes. This treatment is best on rising and retiring. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

As Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

WILSON AND BRYAN

How Agreement for Conference Was Made

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Dec. 6.—The story of just how the engagement for the approaching conference between President-elect Wilson and Mr. Bryan came to be made was told yesterday.

It seems that just before Mr. Wilson's departure from Princeton, word came to Mr. Bryan that Mr. Wilson was going to Florida. It happened that Mr. Bryan immediately had made plans to visit Miami, and in writing the president-elect casually mentioned the fact, adding that he might drop in on the next president some day if the latter happened to be nearby.

The letter was received by Mr. Wilson after he arrived in Hamilton. In reply he said that he would be pleased to meet his distinguished friend when he returned to the United States. This is the extent of the correspondence. The president-elect is not permitting himself to be troubled over predictions of factional differences.

"I know that there have been all sorts of criss-crosses," he said yesterday, "but there is not going to be any trouble. Why, it would be downright stupidity to start trouble in the present state of things and those who expect it are going to be fooled, and badly fooled, too."

Immediately upon his return home Mr. Wilson will meet many of the party leaders, though no engagement other than that with Mr. Bryan has been made.

Mr. Wilson has not permitted affairs of state to dull his sense of humor. Asked to sit in a chair at a local shop, which is said to have been occupied by President Cleveland and President Hayes, the president-elect obliged. As he rose one of the party asked, "Did you feel any sensation?"

"No," was the laughing reply. "I guess they forgot to turn on the switch."

WE ARE GOING TO MAKE OUR FIRST XMAS IN YOUR MIDST ONE TO REMEMBER

Our sales at Christmas time have always been enormous. Why? Because a piano is the best gift you can give to the children. Nothing gives them so much pleasure. Isn't it better that your child should be happy at home instead of loafing around the streets? In these days, also, a musical education counts a whole lot. We have made thousands of homes happy. We sell pianos, all the world's best makes, at prices you can afford to pay. We sell pianos, not "pianos plus expenses." We have no high rent to pay, no "gilded" fixtures, no salesmen on the road, etc., to have you pay for when you buy your piano. Have you been in our salesrooms yet? You'll feel "at ease" the minute you enter. Do your duty towards your children and pay us a visit. You'll be just as welcome whether you purchase or not. Let us have a personal talk with you. We are offering some wonderful bargains this week. We want to set a "Xmas record in sales" to work on in "future years" and our prices are "extremely low." Go visit other dealers first and then come here and see the difference.

CLEAR NAME OF CITY

Lawrence Citizens Have Unique Plan

LAWRENCE, Dec. 6.—Continuing the campaign to clear the name of the city of Lawrence from the shadow cast upon it by the disorder attending the big textile strike of last winter, the citizens committee plans to issue stamps, similar to Christmas seals, which residents will be asked to attach to all letters and packages placed in the mail. A prize has been offered for a suitable design for the stamp. The campaign of the committee was started on Columbus day with a long parade in which every person carried an American flag. This display was followed by a request that all citizens wear a small American flag on their coats and that stores and public buildings fly the Stars and Stripes conspicuously until Thanksgiving. On Thanksgiving day a number of patriotic mass meetings were held.

The Lovable Girl

She manages to avoid all ill natured gossip without appearing to reprove the gossippers or being in the least degree priggish herself. She has a positive genius for discovering agreeable traits in the most unlikable people. Tell her that a certain young man is lazy and will never amount to much in this world and she will almost surely tell you that this same man is an invalid.

All her young friends may laugh and ridicule the manner in which Miss Fleming (who has more years than charms to her credit) dresses her hair, striving to look young again, and this girl whom everyone likes will smile and ask her chattering companions if they remember that it was Miss Fleming who organized their own beloved

"book club," loaning them her rare but cautious in expressing dislikes of volumes and helping with her kindly other people or things. Her friendship efforts to make the club a real success, gives more than it expects, and her She is frank in her likes, this girl, love will be pure and true.

GEO. E. PUTNAM & SON 207 MARKET STREET

Just now many housekeepers are being pestered to death with men trying to sell flour.

Many of the kinds are not known and are being pushed for no other reason, it seems to us, than to get one of the many prizes offered, which vary from a five cent nickel to a trip to Panama. ARE YOU GETTING THE QUALITY WHILE THEY ARE GETTING THE PRIZES? We leave that for you to judge. COMPARE IT WITH

"Occident Flour"

AND YOU WILL SOON SEE WHO PAYS FOR THE PRIZES. WE HAVE THE OLD WHEAT OCCIDENT FLOUR and it is no trouble to try it, while most other flours are giving so much trouble. OCCIDENT FLOUR can be bought of any grocer in Lowell. If they refuse to get it, Telephone to

Colonel Goethals, Panama Canal Chief, May be Made a General

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—For his splendid work in building the Panama canal Colonel George W. Goethals, chairman of the isthmus canal commission, may be advanced to a full generalship in the army, with title and rank corresponding to that in the navy now held by Admiral George Dewey. The promotion would be for life and not subject him to retirement for any cause. Prominent among men who favor conferring this honor is Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, minority leader of the house, who recently made an inspection of the canal zone. Mr. Mann is enthusiastic, almost extravagant, in his praise of the canal chairman. He declares that the very least reward that can be bestowed is that of general for life in the army. This honor of enjoying the rank of full general has fallen to only four other men in the history of the American army—Washington, Grant, Sherman and Sheridan.

CHRISTMAS SALE HELD

By Women of First Unitarian Church

A Christmas sale was held in the vestry of the First Unitarian church yesterday, and the affair proved to be a great success. The sale opened in the forenoon and closed at 5 p. m. A very fine luncheon was served at noon and about 150 people enjoyed the delicious meal.

The tables did a very thriving business and over 1000 Red Cross stamps were sold at the Christmas card table. Practically all of the tables were sold out at 5 o'clock. Everyone present enjoyed themselves.

Those who took part in the sale are as follows:—Fancy table—Miss Jennie Allen, Mrs. George R. Chandler, Mrs. C. T. Billings, Mrs. Edward Coburn, Mrs. C. H. Hobson, Mrs. W. F. Clark, Miss Annie Baker, Miss Emma Hosmer, Mrs. A. H. Morton, Mrs. J. A. Hunnewell, Miss Helen Bowers, Mrs. Arthur Mansur, Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. A. S. Gullid. Domestic table, aprons and handkerchiefs—Mrs. E. H. Scribner, Mrs. Geo.

Sideboard Scarf of Fillet and Madeira Work is a Very Charming Gift for the Housewife

Russian lace and madeira embroidery have been effectively combined in this rich scarf for a sideboard. Sometimes square motifs of machine embroidery are combined with the Russian fillet squares with good effect, cluny entre deux being used to join the pieces. This idea could be carried out in less expensive laces and would make a charming gift for the housewife.

ELECTION OF CAPTAIN

For Harvard Football Eleven for 1913 Was Postponed Until After Holiday Vacation

CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 6.—The selection of a captain for the Harvard football team for 1913 was, as usual, postponed until after the holiday vacation today. The election is causing considerable interest throughout the college. Two players prominently mentioned for the position are H. R. Hittcock of Haverhill and R. T. Storer of Brookline, juniors who played right and left tackle respectively on the variety team throughout the season. Storer had the honor of making the first touchdown for Harvard against Yale in eleven years. The question of a coach for next season is expected to be settled about the time that a captain is chosen. The engagement of P. D. Haughton expired with the present year and a movement has already been started to induce him to remain in charge of the Crimson teams for another five years.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Held at Meeting of Court St. Paul, C. O. F., in C. M. A. C. Hall Last Night

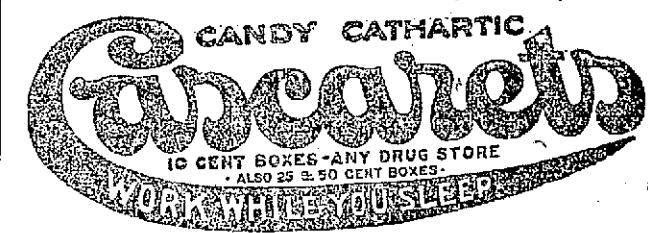

The regular meeting of Court St. Paul, C. O. F., was held last night at C. M. A. C. hall with a large attendance. Chief Ranger Raoul H. Monier occupied the chair and considerable business was transacted. The feature of the evening was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Paul T. Charbonneau, chief ranger; Raoul H. Monier, past chief ranger; Laurent Richard, vice chief ranger; Albert Gellinas, recording secretary; J. Arthur Robillard, financial secretary; John Robillard, treasurer; Arthur Lavoie, orator; Adolphe Sylvestre, Omer Ducharme and Etienne Raymond, trustees; Napoleon Ayotte and Joseph Forget, conductors.

The past chief ranger, Raoul H. Monier, was elected delegate to the state convention of the order, which will be held next June, and Arthur Lavoie was chosen as alternate. The installation of officers will be held on Thursday, Jan. 2, at which time a social evening will be given to the members.

Boy Chauffeur Sends Auto Through Gates
Bowlers Scattered the Pins Last Evening

WATERBURY, Dec. 6.—The brakes of his automobile refusing to respond when he tried to apply them, Walter Morse, a 17-year-old high school student, sent the machine through the gates at the Alt. Auburn street crossing of the Boston & Maine railroad about a year ago, directly in front of a moving train.

The conductor of the locomotive hurriedly ordered the rear wheel of the automobile. Spectators gazed in amazement, expecting that the machine would be struck and its occupants injured if not killed. A speedy dash alone saved him.

ALDERMAN BARRETT HOME AGAIN

He Talks of Tractors Used to Help Fire Engines to Climb Steep Hills

Alderman Barrett is back from Washington, where for one day, he attended the convention of the National Rivers and Harbors congress, and it is stated that his return is due to a telegram which he received advising him of certain political advertising that should have his attention.

Mr. Barrett did not say that he had received a telegram advising him to come home. "I am not bothering with anything except the water and fire departments," he said, when asked if he was going to say anything about the advertisement in question and having to do with the purchase of a car of lead.

"I did not leave Lowell for Washington and I did not come home any sooner than I intended. I am interested in the subject matter of the convention now being held in Washington and I had the privilege of voicing my sentiments at one of the meetings and I talked with several men who will have to do, finally, with the proposition. That was all I could do and having said my little piece I came home."

"Where did you go when you left Lowell if you did not go direct to Washington?" queried the reporter.

"I went to Springfield and from there to New York," replied Mr. Barrett. "and," he added, "I was busy every minute."

New Fire Apparatus

Mr. Barrett visited the Knox company's plant in Springfield. The Knox people are building a combination hose and chemical for the fire department of Lowell and the machine will be delivered before the first of January. It will cost $2500 and it was one of three that has been ordered by the city. The other two machines will be of a different make. One will be a Seagrave and the other a Robinson. The former is made in Columbus and the other in St. Louis. The Knox machine will be the first to be delivered and the others will arrive a little later.

After leaving Springfield Mr. Barrett went to New York and visited the fire department there. "I had one particular purpose in view in going to New York," said the alderman, "and I am very glad I went. I have made up my mind that horses are too slow a purchase for fire engines, and I am looking for something better."

Chief Hosmer, I think at the last convention he attended, met Chief Keaton of the New York fire department and they had a long talk. Mr. Hosmer spoke of the difficulty of times experienced with horse-drawn steamers especially where it is necessary to climb hills as is the case in this section of the country. He said that the New York fire department had overcome that difficulty by using tractors on their engines. Chief Hosmer was very much interested and repeated to me his conversation with Chief Keaton. The thing appealed to me, too, and I decided that when I found time I would investigate. I found that the Christie tractor is being used by the New York fire department and that it was not adopted until all other makes had been used in competition. The New York fire department does not buy anything off the bat, so to speak. The department is in New York all right but when it comes to purchasing anything the department is from Missouri.

Motorizes the Steamer

"The tractor is an automobile minus a wheel or two. The Christie tractor has two wheels and there are other makes that have three wheels. They are very powerful, 90 horse power, or thereabout, and they cost somewhere in the vicinity of $2500. The tractor is attached to the two front wheels of the steamer and when she starts, believe me, there's something doing. We need tractors for the Centralville steamer, the hose over, and the aerial ladder. I went over to Hoboken, N. J., where the Christie tractor is manufactured and, more out of curiosity than anything else, I asked what would be the earliest date they could supply a tractor. Their answer rather surprised me. They told me they would not think of taking an order before April 1.

About Fire Hose

The hose question is a very important question, too, as Chief Hosmer has often times declared, and I looked into the hose question while in New York. I talked with officers of the National Fire Protection Association of America relative to the different grades of hose and I got some very valuable information on that point. The underwriters and host concerned in the association has distributed some literature that is much interesting. They doated to some of the fire hose concerns and when it comes to calling a spade a spade the National Fire Protection Association is it. There is one thing that the association is very much opposed to and that is the usual guarantee that goes with hose such as is used by the fire department of this city. The association allows that such guarantees do not amount to much and that they do not improve the quality of the hose. If a hose bursts at a fire the guarantee that says it will stand 100 pounds more pressure than the amount of pressure that burst it is a very worthless piece of paper and the aim of the association is to have the manufacturers make the kind of hose that will stand the test without a guarantee. The bursting of a hose at a fire is a very serious affair and we need a whole lot of new hose right here in this city."

Waterways Outlook Good

After having finished with his talk on fire apparatus, Mr. Barrett told of his day's stay in Washington.

"Do you think there is much chance of an appropriation for the deepening of the Merrimack river channel?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, I do," replied Mr. Barrett. "The Massachusetts delegation," he continued, "has made a very favorable impression in Washington. They are standing shoulder to shoulder and are offering very persuasive arguments in favor of the development of waterways in this section of the country. I talked with men from the west and south and they did not talk as though they wanted to keep the waterways in this section of the country. They listened attentively to what the Massachusetts delegation had to say. I feel sure that something will be done on the Merrimack river. I don't know how large that something will be, but I imagine that we will be given a very large appropriation in the beginning, but once a start is made there'll be nothing to it."

DIED OF HIS INJURIES

William McHugh Who Fractured His Skull Sunday, Passed Away at St. John's Hospital Last Night

The many friends of William McHugh of 186 Middlesex street, will be pained to learn of his death which occurred last night at St. John's hospital, where he was removed after fracturing his skull by falling at his home.

The accident occurred Sunday afternoon and the injured man was taken to the hospital. In an effort to save his life the physicians performed trepanning through the soft bone of his skull. He seemed to rally well from the operation but within the last few days he weakened and his death last night was not entirely unexpected.

Deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Frederick Lyman, city and Mrs. White of New York; three sons, James of Jersey City, N. J., Robert of New York and William, linotype operator at The Sun, who was employed at the Kitson Machine shop for a number of years and was a prominent member of Court Gen. Shute, P. of A. His body was removed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frederick Lyman, 71 Mammoth road by Undertakers C. H. Molloy & Sons.

BARBERS CELEBRATED

They Observed 25th Anniversary of International Union—Affair Was Held Last Night at 22 Middle Street.

The local lodge of the Barbers' union observed the 25th anniversary of the inception of the international union last night, the affair being held at their quarters, 22 Middle street. President Costello presided over the assembly and a very pleasant evening was spent.

A musical and literary program was rendered, those taking part being as follows: Commissioners James E. Donnelly and Lawrence Cummings, Andrew Purus, Joseph Clark, John Y. Myers, Frank Lescaud presided at the piano. There were also addresses on unionism by Charles E. Burns and the officers of the Trades and Labor council. A light luncheon was served.

CONGRESSIONAL APPROPRIATION

Of $50,000,000 Annually for Waterway Improvement is Recommended

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—An annual congressional appropriation of at least $50,000,000 for waterway improvement was recommended in a resolution adopted by the closing session of the ninth annual convention of the national rivers and harbors congress. Another resolution urged the creation by congress of a department of public works of which the corps of army engineers would be a part. The waterway congress also passed a resolution congratulating congress "upon its grant of immunity through the recently enacted Panama canal law from suits upon ships engaged in our coastwise trade and upon the protection to waterborne commerce afforded by said law against railroad ownership or control of water lines."

Actual Business Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Delegates to the ninth annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors congress after two days of speeches got ready for actual business today. While President Taft and other noted speakers had discussed the broad question of waterway improvement, scores of others attending the meeting had imported Senator-elect Joseph E. Ransdell, president of the organization and chairman of the convention for an opportunity to talk on the subject. These delegates today were given five minutes each in which to submit their views.

Chief interest centers today in the reports of committees and the secretary. Vice presidents, one from each state, will be named by the various state delegations and the convention is scheduled to close with a general statement by President Ransdell.

The meeting of the women's national rivers and harbors congress, in session in conjunction with the larger organization, also adjourns today.

FORTY LIVES MAY BE LOST

DULUTH, Minn., Dec. 6.—"The weather is bad; outlook dark," were the last words heard from the steamer Easton of the Booth line, which is hanging suspended from the rocks 35 miles east of this side of Port Arthur, Ont. Fifteen passengers and a crew of 25 are aboard, according to the last information from the scene of the accident. The Booth company here, early this morning, declared that tugs were standing by and that they had received both passengers and crew. Other and private information denies this and declares that the Easton is in a precarious position. The scene of the wreck is at Thunder Bay. All last night a stiff northeast gale raised mountainous waves while snow fell heavily.

A report early this morning was abroad that there had been loss of life and the local wireless station made every effort to substantiate or deny but without success. The weather is clearing.

All the way between Salt St. Marie and the American head of the lake are ships of various burden and cargoes making their way through rough seas. Most of these are coal laden. Vessels here today were apprehensive about these heavy craft. In the fleet are some of the best known craft on the great lakes.

COLORED MAN HANGED

100 Witnessed Execution of Wesley Miles

PRINCESS ANNE, Md., Dec. 6.—In a grove of pine trees on the county almshouse farm near here Wesley Miles, colored, was legally hanged at dawn today for criminal assault upon the 15-year-old daughter of former Sheriff W. G. Phillips of Somerset county last May.

The execution was witnessed by a crowd of about 100 men and boys who had torn down the board enclosure surrounding the gallows but there was no other interference with the officers of the law.

EVILS OF THE USE OF ALCOHOL

Baffling Obstacle to Progress in Military Organization, Says Col. Mervin Maus

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The use of alcohol among officers of the army and navy is declared "the most baffling obstacle to progress" in a report by Col. Mervin Maus, chief surgeon of the eastern division of the army. The report is made public in the Journal of the Military Service, published by the officers at Governors Island. Dr. Maus recommends that "no one who uses alcoholic beverages should be appointed to important positions, civil or military, to the command of military or naval forces or any other position of importance and responsibility."

In reference to the evils of the use of alcohol in a military organization, he says:

"It lessens working capacity, marching endurance, accuracy and rapidity in rifle firing, ability to command troops and solve military problems to

HOW TO ENJOY GOOD MEALS

Without Suffering From Stomach Troubles and Heartburn

It is a well recognized fact that he who habitually dines too well, who eats too heartily or too fast, will sooner or later become the victim of chronic stomach acidity. These bad American habits are the cause of most of the heartburn, indigestion, gas, belching after meals, etc., from which so many suffer. In a recent medical article on the subject of this condition, the constant creation of this acidity is exceedingly dangerous and that it should never be permitted to remain in the stomach because it irritates the stomach walls, causing ulcers very often being the direct cause of cancerous growth. Too many people who suffer distress after eating are accustomed to call it indigestion and to form the habit of taking after meals an artificial digestant—peppermint pills or tablets. These pills do not extract from the stomach the food just eaten, thus giving temporary relief, but from lack of natural exercise, the stomach soon loses the power to work by itself and a genuine and often incurable chronic dyspepsia is thus developed.

The formation of acids in the stomach is a wholly natural result of the way we eat and live and does not of itself prove the existence of dyspepsia at all. A perfectly healthy stomach may suffer from acidity or heartburn. In such event this physician recommends the use of ordinary magnesate Compound, which is a natural and safe remedy. Just a half teaspoonful taken before meals in a quarter glass of water will almost instantly neutralize any acid that the food may form. No stress will therefore be felt and the stomach will go ahead in its natural way of digestion just as Nature intended it should.

Although Magnesate Compound is so simple a remedy that the unthinking might question its efficacy, the following medical report tells of a lady who had suffered for a long time, from what had been diagnosed as cancer of the stomach, whom it completely cured in a few weeks' time. As Magnesate Compound is very inexpensive and can be obtained at almost any drug store, we hereby publish the experience of the doctor's account of his experience, for the benefit of readers who enjoy eating well without suffering bad after effects.

NEW HARNESS RECORDS

Nineteen Were Made During 1912 Season

The light harness racing season, which just recently came to a close, was not only the most successful in many years, but was the most productive of records, is shown in the list of records that fell in 1912.

Nineteen new world's trotting and pacing records were established. It was a peculiar fact in so successful and productive a year that the horses were all slow in getting into the form they later displayed and that all the record breaking was done in the last quarter of the season.

Uthman, with a mark of 1.58, established himself as king of the harness horses for any gait, sex or age, while Evelyn W. set a new world's low mark for a heat paced by a mare by clipping a full second off the previous record of 2.02, held by Lady Maud C. The same good daughter of The Spy, by the same performance, reduced the best record for a second heat, formerly held by Prince Albert, in stepped in 2.04 in 1901.

Evelyn W. also goes into the table as a third time as holder of the honor of the fastest two heat race by a mare, by miles in 2.03 1/4 and 2.00 1/4, the former record being the 2.03 1/4 and 2.02 1/4 of Durley Hal, and yet a fourth time as winner of the fastest five heat race in existence, the time of which was 2.01 1/4, 2.03 1/4, 2.04 1/4, 2.05 1/4, 2.06 1/4.

The following is a list of the records established during the season:

FASTEST FOR AGE AND SEX
Gelding—Uthman, from 1910, 1.58 1/2 to 1.58.

Yearling colts—Aldred (Wilbur Lou, 1910, 2.19 1/2), 2.15 1/2.

FASTEST SINGLE HEATS
Fifth heat—Helen Stiles (Brace Girdle, 1911, 2.07 1/4), 2.03 1/4.

Sixth heat—Marrietta (Demarest, 1910, 2.09), 2.07 1/4.

FASTEST RACES
Four heats—Dudie Archdale (Soprano, 1911, Grace won first heat in 2.05 1/4, Soprano next three in 2.05 1/4, 2.05 1/4, 2.05 1/4. Billy Burke won first heat in 2.03 1/4, Dudie Archdale next three in 2.06 1/4, 2.04 1/2, 2.06 1/4.

Five heats—Grace (Brace Girdle, Billy Burke, Halvorby, 1911), Dudie Archdale, 2.05, first; Billy Burke, 2.06, third; Grace, 2.04 1/2, 2.05 1/2, second, fourth and fifth heats.

MILES—TROTTERING TEAMS
One mile—Uthman and Lewis Forest (The Monk and Equity, 1904, 2.07 1/4), 2.03 1/4.

TROTTERING—HALF MILE TRACK
Two-year-old—Novaday Girl (Eloy Belle, 1911, 2.19 1/4), 2.16 1/2.

PACING—FOR AGE AND SEX
Three-year-old colts—Impetuous Palmer (Klatavah, 1903, and Jim Logan, 1905, 2.05 1/4), 2.05 1/4.

Four-year-old colts—Braden Direct (Online, 1904, 2.04), 2.02 1/4.

FASTEST FOR AGE
Four-year-olds—Braden Direct (Searchlight, 1898), 2.02 1/4.

Sixth heat—Rabe (Planet, 1897, 2.05 1/4), 2.04 1/4.

FASTEST RACES
Two heats—Evelyn W. (Darkley Hal, 1909, 2.03 1/4, 2.02 1/4), 2.03 1/4.

Five heats—Evelyn W. (Mifnor Heir, 1909), The Ed winning third and fourth heats, 2.01 1/2, 2.01 1/2, 2.01 1/2, 2.01 1/2, 2.01 1/2.

Earl Jr., winning second and third heats.

PACING TEAMS
One mile—Minor Heir and George Gaho (Hedgewood Boy and Lady Maud C, 1909, 2.02 1/4), 2.02.

OUR OWN LUNG PROTECTOR FACTORY

We are the only retail druggists in the country manufacturing our own Chamamois Vests and Lung Protectors. The goods in this department are well known for the perfection of their workmanship, their perfect fit, and the excellence of the materials used in them. They are by no means cheap garments, but absolutely the very best in every detail, sold to you at one profit. We charge you the manufacturer's profit only and you save the profit which the jobber and retailer would ordinarily make. Our purpose in starting and maintaining a factory of our own was because we believed there was much opportunity for improvement over the ordinary class of goods put out by the average manufacturers. And the articles we produce are sufficient proof that we have attained our purpose. We doubt very much if any other manufacturer is so particular in the selection of materials. We know that better, more honest or more skillful workmanship could not be employed. There is no skimping, every garment cut to measure and an assured perfect fit. All the chamamois used in our lung protectors and vests is imported and made from specially tanned selected skins. The felt used is manufactured exclusively for us and is of a superior heavy quality.

Sequel to Hotel Suicide

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Wilfred J. Litchfield, the genealogical writer, who has a large private fortune, was sentenced to 15 months in the house of correction yesterday by Judge Brown in the Suffolk superior criminal court on his plea of guilty to a statutory offense. Litchfield was arrested a short time after Frederick M. Whitaker was found dead in Litchfield's apartments at the Hotel Navarre, Columbus avenue. Whitaker took cyanide of potassium in capsule form and it was while the police were investigating his death that Litchfield was arrested.

BAY STATE WATERWAYS DISCUSSED

Effort to Line Up New Englanders Against Appropriations for Aid of Mississippi

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—There was a wide variety of activities yesterday among the Massachusetts delegates to the Rivers and Harbors congress. Their day was concluded with a conference in the New Willard hotel, where Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania sought to "line up" New England against voting for appropriations for the Mississippi river. This attitude of hostility is becoming emphatic. The conference adopted resolutions against diverting rivers and harbors appropriations to schemes of "Irrigation and Conservation."

Two meetings were held in Representative Gardner's room at the capitol yesterday morning, which had to do with proposed improvements. The first of these meetings was one of the Merrimack Valley Improvement Association, with ex-Representative W. S. McNary, Judge Charles C. Paine, Lewis A. Hovey, Charles Sutherland and Representative Phelan of Lynn, present. There was discussion of appropriations which will be asked by congress for that project on the river and harbor bill about to be framed.

Plan for Connecticut

This meeting was followed by another, which members of the special commission on the Connecticut river and Representative George P. Laurence attended. Those present went over the details of a bill proposed by the Connecticut river company, for taking over the power at Windsor Locks on the Connecticut river, constructing locks and turning these over to the government.

It is claimed that the provisions of this bill are likely to prove satisfactory to all concerned. Senator Burton of Ohio, an influential member of the commerce commission, approves of the idea but is to be shown the bill today. There will be other conferences also today, including some with improvements of Boston harbor, all with a view to acquainting members of the rivers and harbors committee of congress with projects in which Massachusetts is interested.

Representative Peters yesterday offered a bill for a survey by army engineers to determine the feasibility of a continuous waterway inland where possible, between Boston and some suitable point on the coast of Maine. The bill also would extend the survey now being made from Boston south to Beaufort, N. C. under the act of 1899. It is proposed that the army engineers shall report on the probable expense of constructing these canals, and to make recommendations as to the necessity for the establishment for commercial and military purposes.

Railroads Need Waterways

Senator Potendexter of Washington, in an address before the Rivers and Harbors congress, declared that the time had come for the development of every resource in this country and emphasized waterway development as one of the country's most important needs. He asserted that the railroads need waterway transportation aid, not so much to have competition but because the rail lines cannot handle the trade. He spoke also of the importance of carrying through to completion river improvement work on which large sums already had been spent so that the returns on the investment would not be delayed.

That private enterprise and control never would give proper water terminal facilities was a declaration of George Norris, director of the warves, docks and ferries of Philadelphia. He advocated public ownership of water frontage.

Harold P. McCormick, vice-president and treasurer of the International Harvester company, expressed the opinion that as with the Panama canal large bond issue should be created for the purpose of improving on a large scale the waterways of the country.

F. W. Donnelly of Trenton, N. J., advocated that the interstate commerce commission be given jurisdiction over the inland and intracoastal waterways and the coastwise shipping of the country.

Secretary of War Simpson scored the promiscuous granting of valuable water rights to private interests.

"Taxpayers of this country should get the benefits of these resources," he declared. "I am greatly interested in the question of building levees on the Mississippi river. I thoroughly believe this should be a national question. It was brought to my attention by the recent floods down there when the war department went to the relief of hundreds. The control of the Mississippi comes nearer to us than the work at Panama."

Ask Aid for Levees
Liberal appropriations for Mississippi river levees were urged before the house committee on rivers and harbors today by a large delegation from the river and harbors congress. The committee was hearing arguments preliminary to making its final draft of the river and harbor bill, the total of which may reach $50,000,000.

The delegation argued that the Mississippi valley agricultural districts had put up $66,000,000 for levees against $26,000,000 contributed by the federal government. They asked to have the government contribute $2 for every $1 paid in by the taxpayers along the river.

Although expressing his deep sympathy with the movement looking to the improvement of the water ways of the Mississippi valley, President Taft, in addressing the White House a delegation from the lakes to the Gulf association, referred to what he termed the "formidable difficulties" in the way of carrying out the project. The president declared, however, that if the members would "press and press, the solution in a satisfactory form will be had."

To the more than one hundred delegates the president expressed his thanks for conveying to him "that delicate compliment which comes from the intimation by a man that he has the power to confer on you the benefit you seek and this in view of the fact that the sceptre of any power I may have had is soon to pass from me."

Nevertheless, it is appropriate that these resolutions be properly passed on by me to my successor. In that way he may acquire a knowledge of the needs of the Mississippi valley that he has not now because his attention may not have been directed to it."

Woman Believed to be One of the Cleverest Bogus Check Workers That Ever Operated in New England
BOSTON, Dec. 6.—A woman, believed one of the cleverest bogus check workers that ever operated in New England, is being sought by the police of Boston, Salem, Lowell, and other cities throughout New England. She is apparently about 35 years of age and has conducted her operations under the name of "Mrs. C. H. Hart, Natick, N. W. C. A."

It was learned yesterday that her latest victims were two prominent Salem merchants and other disclosures from Salem victims are expected shortly, as it has been the woman's custom to make a "clean-up" in each city before moving on.

Dressed in black, she entered the coal offices of George W. Pickering and ordered a ton and a half of coal to be sent to "18 South Pine street." She paid the bill with a $15 check on the Savings bank of Lowell, signing the same as "Mrs. C. H. Hart." It was later learned that there is no "18 South Pine street" in Salem. Later she entered the clothing store of Talbot & Co., and made purchases amounting to $25, paying with a $35 check on the Savings Bank of Lowell.

The Lowell bank notified the Salem authorities that the checks were worthless and that similar checks had been coming in to the bank from all over New England, every one of them from a "Mrs. C. H. Hart."

The woman's operations have extended throughout many cities and towns. She was nearly apprehended in Nashua, N. H., but escaped.

CHURCH GETS PIANO
L. A. N. Baraca Class Presents Fine Instrument to Fifth Street Baptist Church

At a social given by the L. A. N. Baraca class at the Fifth Street Baptist church, last night, the class presented the church a fine piano. Led by the class president, presented the piano and the acceptance was by Dr. A. E. Shaw. On the front panel of the piano is a sterling silver plate inscribed as follows:

"Presented to the Fifth Street Baptist church by the L. A. N. Baraca class, Dec. 5, 1912. A very delightful program was given under the leadership of F. Leslie Mills, the church musical director, and a member of the class. The program numbers were as follows:

Selections by the Calvary Baptist church orchestra; songs, Miss Flaxton; Chorus; whistling solo, William Carr; violin solo, Arthur Laverne; piano solos, Mr. Miles.

TRUST ALLEGED
Springfield Coal Consumers' League Holds Meeting—To Buy Direct From Mines

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 6.—The Springfield Coal Consumers' League, organized to defeat high prices for coal, was addressed today by Pres. John P. Clark and Sec. William Hayhurst of the association, the meeting being held on Benton lawn of the armory.

Pres. Clark contended that Springfield dealers have organized a trust which has the power to fix the price of coal beyond the reach of the laboring classes. Sec. Hayhurst followed, stating that he had bought two tons of coal at $8.50 a ton, which is $2 under the price for coal asked by local dealers, who are charging about $3 a ton. He said the league has decided to buy coal direct from the mines and that the organization intends to enroll 1000 members in Springfield. Membership cards were distributed.

Donovan Silent About Husbard
BOSTON, Dec. 6.—James Donovan of Malden, president of the James Donovan Slipper company of Everett, which was yesterday petitioned into bankruptcy in the United States district court, declared last night that if it had not been for recent "unfortunate occurrences" he would have been able to meet all obligations and settle with the creditors of the company in full.

"Only a Frog" Says Witness
St. Louis, Dec. 6.—Two implement dealers testified yesterday afternoon at the hearing of the government's suit to dissolve the International Harvester company that they had been forced to return car lot shipments of independent companies' machinery in order to obtain more supplies from the International.

William H. Green of Greighton, Neb., who testified this morning that his supply of international machines had been taken from him because of his anti-trust views, on cross-examination this afternoon was asked why he was inimical to so-called trusts. "I considered I was only a frog in a tub," Green replied, "and had to jump when the international got after me, to protect myself or it would drive me into bankruptcy."

TO PRESERVE NATIONAL SAFETY

United States Must Have Bigger Navy, Says Secretary Meyer in Annual Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The United States must have a bigger navy and must be prepared to meet any chance of war in the opinion of Secretary Meyer of the navy department, if it is to preserve its national safety. In his annual report, made public today, Secretary Meyer pleads for three new battleships this year, and declares that this country must fall from second to fourth place in the relative standing of naval powers, if it continues the policy of building only two ships each year.

International peace has been brought nearer, the secretary declares, as far as a limitation of armaments is concerned. To guard its coast and protect its commercial activities, the United States needs a permanent navy of 41 capital ships—battleships and battle cruisers—according to Secretary Meyer. The present strength of the navy in battleships is about 23, but four ships will soon be retired as obsolete.

Secretary Meyer's report is a recital of the development of the navy during the year, with few recommendations beyond those contained in his former reports. He gives chief emphasis to his recommendation that the navy be increased according to a program that will keep the nation in its present position among the world powers; and the suggestion that congress remove the limit upon the amount of money that can be spent for aviation and permit the navy to compete with the like establishments of other nations in developing aerial methods of defense.

For the coming year the secretary of the navy urges that congress appropriate money for three battleships of the Dreadnaught class and for two battle cruisers, sixteen destroyers, six submarines, two gunboats, and a fleet of auxiliaries to include transports, supply ships, tugs, tenders and a drydock. The navy general board recommends four battleships, and Secretary Meyer points out that even though this number should be authorized it would mean no real increase in the navy as four ships are soon to be retired because they will have passed the age of 20 years.

Secretary Meyer expresses skepticism as to the abolition of war in the near future. Wars come with little or no warning, he says, and only by the possession of an efficient fleet of adequate size will the country be safe from attack and free to work out its own destiny in peace and without hindrance.

"The history of all times, including the present, shows the futility and danger of trusting to the good will and fair dealing, and even to the most solemn binding treaties between nations for the protection of a nation's sovereign rights and interests," he says, "and without doubt the time is remote when a comparatively unarmed and helpless nation may be reasonably free from attack by ambitious, well-armed powers, especially in a common-cial age, such as the present. The economical system of a great commercial nation is so delicately balanced that even a threat of war is very disturbing and harmful while a war with any other great power would cause incalculable damage.

"To avoid war and insure peace the country must be prepared for any. No person of intelligence who has studied international policies can be blind to the fact that the possession of great wealth, resources and population, does not carry with it immunity from attack should the nation's interests clash with those of another power prepared." The opening of the Panama canal will in no sense double the American fleet according to Secretary Meyer. While it will increase its efficiency by facilitating its passage from one coast to the other, this condition has been fully considered in calculating the naval program. Without the canal, says Secretary Meyer, experts figure that the United States would need a fleet double that of a country whose coast line is continuous.

The secretary estimates that a total of 41 battleships, with a proportional number of other fighting and auxiliary vessels, is the least that would place this country on a safe basis in its relations with other world powers. This fleet should be secured as rapidly as practicable, he said, and its strength should be maintained by replacing obsolete vessels with new ones by a uniform annual program. While the navy department would welcome more torpedo boats and submarines, the secretary says the best policy is to build more of the old battleships and place it is wiser to build battleships than smaller vessels.

As to the need of light cruisers, the secretary says the best policy is to build the swifter ships of the first line of defense. Secretary Meyer quotes the naval general board:

"The United States has no vessels of this type. They have a military value not possible to obtain from other types or combinations of types. To further neglect their necessity is to deliberately weaken our naval strength. The paramount need of the navy is however for battleships, and the board does not recommend any modification of the building program by which preference in building is given to battleships or other fleet units and auxiliaries, which will interfere with the ultimate battleship strength."

Battle practice has brought the existing fleet to a state of complete readiness for instant service, says Secretary Meyer in commenting on the navy's condition. Reserve as well as active vessels are kept in condition for any contingency, and the navy's gunners have during the year made records that more than sustain the high standards of the service.

Aeroplane equipment is entirely inadequate at the present time according to Secretary Meyer. He points out that while the United States spent only $10,000 for this purpose last year, Japan spent $600,000 and five European nations spent individual sums ranging from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000, the latter being the expenditure of France. Secretary Meyer says there should be no limitation upon the progressive development of naval aviation.

He recommends the creation of a naval reserve of about 50,000 men and 25,000 to be secured from the honorably discharged men of the navy, the naval militia and various mechanical trades of civil life. The other 25,000 from among sailors of the merchant marine.

The application of the eight-hour law to all shipyards says Secretary Meyer will probably cause an increase in the appropriation necessary to build ships of a given type. As to shipyard work, Secretary Meyer makes no definite recommendations for their abolishment, but suggests that if the American fleet is to spend part of its time on the Pacific coast after the Panama canal opens some of the navy yards on the eastern coast will automatically close from lack of work. As to the first class yards he adopts the recommendation of the general board that all their channels be deepened to a depth of at least forty feet and a minimum width of 750 feet.

THE LIGHT FANTASTIC

Tripped at Lincoln Hall Last Night by Men and Women From the Maritime Provinces

Lincoln hall was the scene, last night, of the first annual concert and ball by the Maritime Province club. The hall was prettily decorated in pink and white bunting, the colors of the club, and a big basket of crimson, white and yellow roses was suspended from the central chandelier. There was a large attendance and everybody had a good time. There was music by Kittredges orchestra and the dance order of 16 numbers was thoroughly enjoyed.

The officers of the club, who formed the reception committee, are as follows: President, Wm. A. Kelly; vice presidents, Patrick Bator and John Borton; recording secretary, James W. Hogan; financial secretary, A. McDonald; treasurer, Arthur Trainor; James Gordon, chairman; Joseph Malone, R. S. Curran, Thomas Osborne, John Mallon, Peter McGuire, G. H. Joyce, James Cassidy, John Bent and Charles Trainor.

The officers and committee in charge of the arrangements for this dance were as follows: General manager, William A. Kelly; assistant general manager, James W. Hogan; assistant floor director, Michael A'Hearn; chief aid, Peter E. Hogan; aids, John McDonald, Charles Trainor, James Cassidy, Joseph Malone, William A'Hearn, William Lester, Ralph Harrison, James Whalen, Ernest Hillman, John Doyle, Frank Carragher, John Britton, Joseph McGuire, Arthur Trainor, William Lord, William Doyle, Ambrose Greener and J. E. Lyle; secretary, A. McDonald; treasurer, Arthur Trainor.

GAMBLERS TO TESTIFY

Golf and Whitman Agree on Plan for Getting More Gilt Evidence Against New York Police

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Gamblers awaiting trial in this city are to be brought before the special grand jury which inquired into the murder of Herman Rosenthal, and be requested to testify regarding alleged business connections with members of the police department, according to an agreement understood to have been reached at a conference yesterday between Supreme Court Justice Goff and District Attorney Whitman.

The gamblers will be asked to give the names of the landlords of the buildings where gambling resorts have been in operation and to furnish other information relating to vice conditions. If the state can get evidence to warrant proceedings will be begun against several high police officials suspected of levying tribute, as well as against many real estate owners, whose premises are declared to be used for gambling purposes.

In return for any valuable testimony certain men now charged with conducting gambling houses would be granted immunity. Gambling trials on the court of general sessions calendar will, under the reported agreement, be transferred to the extraordinary terms of the supreme court, where Charles Becker and the four gang men were convicted and sentenced for murder. Justice Goff sits in this term.

THE WORST BLIZZARD IN YEARS

Has Swept Lake Superior -- Passenger Steamer With 50 on Board Wrecked

DULUTH, Mich., Dec. 6.—The passenger steamer Easton of the Booth line with 50 people on board, lies today on the rocks of Iroquois reef, 30 miles west of Port Arthur, exposed to the fury of one of the worst blizzards that has swept Lake Superior in years.

She was reported by wireless last night with her stern out of the water but hoisting together.

Rumors of heavy loss of life on the vessels are persistent but the local manager of the line says that so far as learned all members of the crew and passengers are safe.

A wireless from Port Arthur early today states that two tugs are beside the vessel and the passengers and crew are being removed.

You Can Have Strong Nerves

If you are a nervous sufferer and are willing to help yourself there is no reason to become discouraged.

Good, pure blood, fresh air, nourishing food and a fair observance of the laws of health are all that you need to restore the strength and health of your nerves. Live up to these conditions and the nerves, brain, stomach, kidneys, heart and liver will keep in perfect working order. It is not new nerve tissue that is needed, but plenty of nourishment. Anything that you can do to build up your general health will strengthen your nerves. You will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People the greatest help. Free from any harmful or habit-forming drug, they start to work at once cleansing and enriching the blood, strengthening the stomach and carrying nourishment to every nerve, tissue and tiny cell throughout the body. Why not choose health now by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a thorough trial?

Mrs. P. G. Gardner, of No. 3 Seely street, Adrian, Mich., says: "I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after I had given up all hope of ever having my strength back again. I became run down through overwork and worry. I was in bed and helpless for two weeks. My limbs from my knees down felt numb and I had no use of them. I had terrible pains in the top of my head and creeping sensations in the back of the neck. All summer and fall I doctored. We gave up house-keeping and boarded, as I thought, I would gain faster, yet many mornings I could not get breakfast for I would wake up feeling faint and light-headed. Then I made up my mind to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began with them and gradually increased the dose until I was taking three pills after each meal. I used the pills until my nerves were steady, my appetite and sleep good and I felt entirely well. My daughter has since taken the pills for thin blood and poor color with good results."

Write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are highly recommended for neurasthenia or nervous debility, neuralgia, sciatica, nervous headaches and St. Vitus' dance. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Unfortunately FOR THE EXPRESS COMPANY one of our largest shipments en route to us was caught in one of the recent NEW HAVEN & HARTFORD RAILROAD WRECKS. The crates and boxes were smashed to splinters and hats tossed about. THEY SETTLED FOR THE ENTIRE SHIPMENT AT OUR TERMS. Only a few hats were damaged—but the entire hat and trimming stock obtains the benefit of the enormous reduction we demanded and OBTAINED!

THE EXPRESS COMPANY'S LOSS IS YOUR GAIN

There was nothing to be done on the part of the ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY but to stand the loss. BEAR IN MIND THE STOCK OF HATS AND TRIMMINGS is still in first class condition and the most of the damage was done to the packing cases and boxes. But as the express had to settle in full, you are now able to buy an extra hat or so for the winter at a big reduction!

GOVERNOR C. L. BLEASE

Punish Lynchers

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 6.—Governor Cole L. Blease of South Carolina takes a radical stand concerning the lynching of negroes for "the usual crime." In addressing the convention of governors here he said: "I have said all over the state of South Carolina, and I say it again now, that I will never order out the militia to shoot down their neighbors and protect a black brute who commits a crime against a white woman. Therefore, in South Carolina, let it be understood that when a negro assaults a white woman all that is needed is that they get the right man, and they who get him will neither need nor receive a trial."

FRAUD IN EGG SHIPMENT

Keith and Rottenberg Indicted on Charge

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Herbert J. Keith, treasurer of H. J. Keith & Co., 72 So. Market street, dealers in eggs, and Samuel Rottenberg of New York were indicted yesterday by the federal grand jury on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government in the shipment of 49 cases of eggs from New York to Boston. The indictment was returned in the United States district court before Judge Morton. The accused deal in frozen and dried eggs. The eggs, it is alleged, were adulterated, putrid, decomposed and contained filthy animal substance.

It is alleged the accused deceived the pure food inspectors by marking the boxes in such a manner as to convey the impression that the eggs were to be used for tanning purposes and not for food. This was done, it is alleged, so that the food inspectors would not examine the contents. The eggs were shipped Nov. 29.

It is claimed the folks were separated from the whites of the eggs, and that the yolks were then prepared and sold to bakeries and the white part sent to the tanneries.

Big Assemblage of Owl-dom in Local Nest

OFFICERS NOMINATED TO BE ELECTED NEXT MEETING.

Political Birds Mingled with the Owl Species and Hooted as Skillfully as Though Native to the Nest

Elks hall was crowded last night and the enthusiasm was unbounded. It was a big meeting of the Owls. It was big in every sense, for it seemed as though every Owl in Lowell must have been hooting during the evening. A royal welcome was given to all and good fellowship prevailed during the whole evening. A generous collation was served and cigars were passed.

A program of musical and literary numbers were rendered and the "birds" were delightfully entertained every moment of the time.

The business of the evening included a class initiation and the nomination of candidates for the various offices of the nest for 1913.

The following candidates were placed in nomination: President, J. W. Powers; vice president, J. E. McCallum; invocator, D. A. Hartnett; recording secretary, J. H. Rogers; treasurer, J. A. Bailey; sentinel, William Fitzel; warden, W. E. Bowles; picket, William Hollingsworth; trustees, three years, R. J. Flynn and J. Leathern; physicians, Drs. Wesley Sawyer, H. B. Plunkett and M. A. Fitch; sick and relief committee, P. R. Monahan and J. D. Willman.

The election will take place at the next regular meeting of the nest, which will be held Thursday evening, Dec. 13, and the installation on Thursday evening, Dec. 20, 1913.

JOHN E. MACCALLUM.

A letter regret from Bro. Hon. James E. O'Donnell was read. The mayor is absent from the city attending the National Rivers and Harbors conference which is now being held in Washington, D. C. His honor is a member of the Lowell nest.

The concert program which consisted of many numbers was successfully carried out under the direction of Toastmaster J. E. McCallum. It was as follows: Songs, Commissioner James E. Donnelly, James McManus and J. V. Myers; recitation, J. E. Donnelly, J. H. Rogers, J. E. McCallum, J. V. Myers. An original poem entitled "Our Dugger Staff" by J. E. McCallum was recited by the "young poet." Short addresses on fraternalism and matters pertaining to owlism were made by Senator-elect Henry J. Draper, Commissioner George H. Brown, Past President Edward M. Powers, Treasurer A. Bailey, Pres. C. W. Richards and Richard J. Flynn, chairman of the board of trustees.

Bros. Joseph Kiveler and Harold B. Plunkett, M. D. were the accompanists for the evening.

Bros. John E. McCallum was the toastmaster and did his part well. Trustee, H. J. Flynn in charge of the commissary department.

Past President Edward M. Powers has been honored by Mayor James E. O'Donnell by an appointment as a delegate to the National Rivers and Harbors congress now being held at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Powers' appointment was confirmed by the Mass. Real Estate Exchange of Boston under whose auspices the Mass. delegate went to Washington. Mr. Powers was unable to attend owing to previous business engagements.

LOWELL MAN MISSING FROM HOME

Away From Lowell

ROBERT SHANKS

Robert Shanks, a well known young man of this city, and a former chauffeur in the employ of the Conway Transfer Co., has been missing from home for the past five months, and his family are at a loss to know where he is. The young man who has a wife and two children, left home last July and has not been seen or heard from since. It was at first believed that he had gone to Detroit, Mich., but inquiries in the latter city disclosed the fact that he has not been to Detroit, or at least has been seen there.

Mr. Shanks, who is 27 years of age, was living at 30 Perkins street, and was working as chauffeur for the Conway Transfer Company. On last July 2, he left home in the morning with his dinner pail, saying he was going to work. A short time later in the forenoon his employer sent someone to Shanks' home to find out what the trouble was as he had not reported at work. The wife at the time did not pay much attention to this, as she thought her husband might have taken a day off and waited until the evening, but then she realized that he had gone away.

Mr. Shanks during the year of 1910 had worked in the E. M. P. automobile factory in Detroit and it was believed he had come back to his old place, and accordingly a number of letters were sent to his former boarding house in the western city and also to the factory where he had previously been employed, but the replies were that Shanks had not been seen in Detroit. Mrs. Shanks then went to Lebanon, N. H., where the couple had lived before coming to Lowell, but there again nothing had been seen of Shanks.

The wife said the husband was always complaining that his wages were rather small to support a family, and she is of the opinion that he is working somewhere out of town. She now makes her home with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Mercer, in Lily avenue, while her oldest child is living with the grandmother, Mrs. Pitre in Suffolk street. When Shanks left home he wore his working clothes which consisted of a brown cap, gray trousers, black shirt and dark coat. He is a smooth faced man and of medium build. He had about $20 in his pocket when he left Lowell.

Asks $50,000 For Injuries
BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Elizabeth P. Kilham of Somerville, for the injuries mental and physical she suffered by the wreck of the Quincy express on Aug. 8 in South Boston, which killed eight people, filed suit yesterday against the New Haven railroad for $50,000. Her husband, John J. Kilham, filed a suit for "consequential" damages for $25,000.

Miss Bessie Yoakum, Daughter of
R. R. Pres., Shoots Wild Hogs

MISS BESSIE YOAKUM

KINGSVILLE, Tex., Dec. 6.—Deserted by her guide in the face of a pack of enraged javalinas, or wild Mexican hogs, Miss Bessie F. Yoakum, daughter of Benjamin F. Yoakum, head of the St. Louis and San Francisco and other railroad systems, proved her courage and saved her life by slaying five of the animals. Miss Yoakum has been in this vicinity for several days on a deer hunt. She is an expert shot, fearless in the chase and is often separated from others of the party to seek game with only the aid of a Mexican guide. It was on one of these lonely expeditions that she imparted her life and proved her courage. After a ride of two hours through the wild country Miss Yoakum and the guide came suddenly on the pack of javalinas. They were on the lookout for the animals, as their ferocity is well known, and when several of the beasts rushed from the thicket toward Miss Yoakum and her guide, the latter became panic stricken, leaped from his horse, dropped his gun and dashed for a tree. At the same moment Miss Yoakum also leaped from her horse and fired while the first wild hog was a score of yards away. Miss Yoakum killed two more of them with as many shots. Then her rifle failed her, and she ran for the gun the guide had dropped. With this rifle she killed two more of the hogs and then sent random shots into the underbrush, into which the remaining animals had fled.

Red Cross Seals
Secretary Breen of the Knights of Columbus has caught the spirit of the Red Cross in using the stamps upon all mail matter sent out to members. Today he sent out several hundred envelopes addressed to members and on the back of each was a Red Cross seal. If every society in Lowell adopted this course the result would be a large sale of the seals and a goodly sum realized for the fight against tuberculosis to which this money is applied. The Lowell Guild is the local agency for the stamps and they are for sale at all drug and department stores. They should be freely used with the approach of the Christmas time to help along the work of the Women's Guild in fighting the White Plague. The local fraternities can do a great deal by following Secretary Breen's example.

FINED FOR ASSAULT AND BATTERY

Two Paid for Fights in Police Court Today—Mary Ann
Won Her Case

Two assault and battery events which required the medium of an interpreter to present the evidence to the court occupied a long period in the police court session this morning.

The principal trial and that which at least bore the distinction of taking up the most time was that of Mike Zigaldo and Walter Szybok, who faced a charge of two forcibly impressing their opinions on one John Wesely last Saturday night. Somewhere or other the word kille crept into the testimony and the spectators looked interested. They were disappointed, however, when each and every witness denied seeing any knife in the hands of the alleged assaulters.

Mike Zigaldo pleaded guilty to the charge, and Szybok said not guilty. Each team had a few witnesses. A barroom, bartender, drinks, etc., figured prominently in the statements. It seems that the defendants were in a saloon on the night in question and the complainant happened to stroll into the same place. Zigaldo struck Wesely. The former said that he merely gave him a significant slap on the side of the face. Still one of the witnesses claimed to have had a vision of blood flowing profusely from the neck of the complainant. Attorney George Allard represented the defense, while Joseph Laughlin appeared on behalf of the government. Judge Enright acquitted Szybok and ordered Zigaldo to pay a fine of $1.

Troubles of Mary Ann

According to the testimony of one Mary Ann Riehl, she had been the victim of a blow from the unmerciful hand of John Szybok and thereby being a tale, Mary Ann said that her brother had gotten into trouble at a barroom on Merrimack street and that she had gone to look for him. In the pursuit of this noble resolve she took her stand outside the barroom in question and there she was met by Szybok and his associates as to the whereabouts and condition of her brother. Szybok, she alleged, came out of the saloon, and for some reason or other struck her. Lawyer Allard appeared for the defendant, John.

Now, Mary Ann had a witness, and the latter stated that he had seen the defendant strike the lady. Hearing this, Mary vigorously nodded assent and gave vent to expressions either of satisfaction or in attempts to add something to the statements of the witness, until she was finally warned to cease lest she tire herself all out. Others said that the plaintiff had been stopping everyone that passed or came out of the saloon to make troublesome inquiries of them. The defendant himself agreed to this and alleged that he had been one of the unfortunate ones whom she had accosted.

After the smoke of the battle cleared away, the judge found John to be in the wrong and reduced his financial importance by a V spot. Thus it was that Mary Ann won her case.

Stubbish Child

Laura Pickard was in court this morning to answer to a charge which alleged her to be a stubborn child. The defendant pleaded not guilty and the trial was suspended until Wednesday morning.

Scandalous Behavior

John H. Moore had imbibed too freely, said a complaint, and had attacked his wife, tearing her clothes, abusing and threatening her. It did not take long to find the man guilty and he was placed under $100 bonds to keep the peace.

Mary Heaps and William Monahan were each sentenced to serve four months in jail for a drunk. Thomas F. McCabe was sent to the state farm, Thomas Keating received permission to board and room at the jail for five months, and Frank Foster paid the court $5.

EXCELLENT TALENT SECURED

For the Recital To Be Held by the Choral Society Which is Now Holding Rehearsals

Lowell music lovers are displaying a great deal of interest in the Choral Society which is now holding its rehearsals in the new hall of the Y. M. C. A. building. New members are added at every session and at the present time the membership roll has reached 150. It is the intention of those who are interested in the organization to bring the membership up to 200 and undoubtedly their efforts will be realized in the near future.

The committee having the concert details in charge has secured the following talent as soloists: Miss Marie Stoddart of New York, soprano; Miss Rose Bryant of New York, contralto; Lambert Murphy of New York, tenor; Charles N. Granville of New York, bass. These with the grand chorus of the society, supported by the Boston Festival orchestra, will present two works of high merit, viz: "The Swan and the Sk. Park," by Goring Thomas, and "The First Walpurgis Night," by Mendelssohn, and as an interlude between the two works a select program by the solo artists and the orchestra will be inserted.

in Which He and His Family
Enjoy Vacation

(Hamilton Cor. N. Y. Evening Post)

The life at the governor's villa has been exceedingly peaceful. It is not the seclusion of an Oyster Bay or a Beverly, where the house is protected by a belt of private grounds. William Dean Howells, Mark Twain and sundry other literary folk have remarked that Bermuda is more like Italy than like America. And the neighborhood where the governor lives is especially so. His house is at close quarters with a dozen others on a tiny peninsula. Most of the houses are a solid white, with brilliantly white-washed roofs. But some have been stained in ochre. They stand by the water's edge and their yellow walls and rust-green shutters are reflected on the calm surface of the cove. They are picturesquely dilapidated, these ochre houses, and are inhabited by negroes. But what makes the peninsula seem almost like a bit of Italy, after the islands and the exquisite coloring of the bay have been taken into consideration, is that nearly everything—the houses, the crooked lanes going up and down, the walls along the lane and around the yards, overlooking by the red pedars, the china berry and the hibiscus—nearly everything that man has created here is white or gray. And the reason for this is (without going into a long dissertation on building and public works in Bermuda) is that everything is built out of white coral, which is not the ivory like substance of which beads are manufactured, but of soft, whitish stone of the general consistency of maple sugar.

"Glencove" is the name of the governor's house. It belongs to Captain Young, a retired miner, who is now in the customs service in Hamilton. The Youngs live in a basement division of the house, but they leave the rest to a Mrs. Peck, an American woman, Mrs. Peck, being an old friend of the Wilson family, and not being in Bermuda at present, she has the cottage furnished. The proprietor of the general store in Paget says that his uncle, Josiah T. Darrell, who was consul here from Civil war days to the administration of Grover Cleveland, lived all that time in the very cottage the president-elect is occupying now.

The house is of the bungalow type, and has a piazza across the front, facing south across the cove toward the Paget hills. From one end of the piazza, one can look westward through the labyrinth of coral islands, which dispute the entrance to Hamilton harbor. There is a square aperture, a frame for the picture at this end of the piazza, and the governor stands there lost in amazement at the brilliant striped blue of the water, which is colored beyond all possibility of imagination by the debris of the coral artists, whose boxes, so the governor says, do not contain pigments of a sufficient brilliancy to reproduce it.

As one enters the house there is a hall in the centre, a parlor on the left, with windows commanding the bay, and a dining room on the right. There is nothing of the bungalow or the craftsman about the furniture, which is a tasteful mixture of old mahogany and ornate newer pieces. A piano stands at one end of the parlor and a fireplace at the other. The walls are white, but pieces of chintz with bright colored, antique patterns, are hung in the larger spaces and lend a sprightly air to the rooms. None of the rooms is big. The governor with some glass shows how his own chamber leads off from the hall through a door and down a miniature winding staircase of half a dozen steps.

In the rear is a spacious kitchen, and behind that the water supply reservoir. All the drinking water in Bermuda is caught from these dashing white rocks (the sanitary law requires that they shall be white-washed at least twice a year). There are some other chambers on the rear of the house and some separate buildings which are used by the servants.

The governor's household consists of Mrs. Wilson, two daughters, Jessie and Eleanor, and three servants whom the governor brought from New Jersey. The governor's stenographer and a secret service man have quarters elsewhere.

As early morning is the best time of day in Bermuda—although it is hard to improve on the bright moonlight nights of the present fortnight—the Wilson family rise early. Usually the governor has called immediately after breakfast from the coronation, but there is no fixed appointment. Each day this week the family has gone out about the middle of the morning. The walks about the island are fascinating. Not the least delightful feature of this pastime is that there are no sidewalks—except in Hamilton. Pedestrians and people in carriages and people on bicycles all use the same thoroughfare. But such a thoroughfare! Roads of coral, miraculously smooth, inviting the cyclist on irresistibly over one hill after another. "The governor and his daughters have hired bicycles. They are all enthusiastic riders. But when they want Mrs. Wilson to go, too, they either walk or telephone over to Hamilton for a carriage."

Leading down from the back lawn, where the linen is spread out to bleach, is a little stairway cut in the coral. It takes one to a tiny landing at the water's edge; and here the family go in bathing in water so clear that the bottom positively cannot have any secrets from the outer world. In front of the house hang some rowboats, and the harbor is full of attractive sloops that can be hired at a moderate price.

"AS WE JOURNEY THROUGH LIFE LET US LIVE BY THE WAY."

Pictures reflect the remaining influence of the home and are constant reminders of noble ideals and beautiful thoughts of the great masters of art and literature.

Those who do not cherish the beautiful and artistic live in vain. Great men and noble women who mold the destiny of nations find time during a busy career to adorn their homes with beautiful pictures that are a constant source of help and inspiration. As they journeyed through life they lived by the way.

Ordered to Cart Rock Lumber

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Dec. 6.—The Woonsocket carting company which had been carting lumber from points along the Southern New England railroad's extension between Woonsocket and Providence to Saylesville for storage has been told to hold itself in readiness to carry out the instructions to cart back the lumber to the points along the line from whence it had been taken during the past month. People here construe this step as an indication that the Grand Trunk will resume building the Providence-Palmer line. The orders to the teaming came to the O'Brien Construction Co., contractors in charge of Grand Trunk work in Rhode Island.

MORE DOCTORS OF HEALTH NEEDED

Dr. Dresslar of United States
Bureau of Education

"We need more doctors of public health than mere doctors of medicine," says Dr. F. B. Dresslar in a bulletin: "The duty of the state in medical inspection of schools," just issued by the United States bureau of education. Dr. Dresslar pleads earnestly for the kind of medical inspection that seeks to promote health rather than that which looks for ill-health. "Our system of paying doctors to do something for us when we are sick ought to be largely discarded for the Chinese system of paying them to keep us from getting sick."

Dr. Dresslar justifies the state's intervention in the health of its citizens on broad grounds of public policy. He feels that the community has as much right to demand good health in its children as it has to demand that they attend school; as much right to preserve the community against the contagion of disease as it has to demand that they be educated. The chief asset of any state is physical stamina, guided by wholesome, moral ideals and broad minded intellectual power, and Dr. Dresslar contends that medical inspection and health supervision are indispensable agencies for conserving this asset.

In answer to the question: Has medical inspection as now organized proved useful? Dr. Dresslar shows conclusively that medical inspection has called attention in a startling way to the danger of school children in transmitting disease; it has already lessened actual illness and consequently secured better school attendance; and best of all, medical inspection in the hands of carefully trained men with the right spirit has proved to be an educational agent of great value by stimulating parents to give more attention to food, clothing, sleeping rooms and general home sanitation, and by disseminating better ideals of hygienic living.

It is in this increased knowledge by the people as a whole concerning the personal care of health that Dr. Dresslar finds the greatest ultimate good of medical inspection. He notes that great numbers of our people are still in gross ignorance and superstition regarding health and disease, since many of them constantly attribute to divine Providence deaths from illness, diseases directly due to filth. "Our chief duty lies in removing the causes which contribute to physical unsoundness and disease. As long as we herd our children in schools where they must breathe impure air, bend over insanitary school desks, work at books when they need physical exercise, just so long shall we be paying for our own errors."

Dr. Dresslar concludes that we need health officers whose chief delight is in finding and developing beautiful cases of physical perfection rather than in finding some obscure and rare disease; health officers whose philosophy is based on the gospel of physical vigor, on the sanctity of personal purity and the godliness of clean living; "doctors of health" in very truth, who will be concerned with exhibiting, not a long list of the physically defective and diseased, but a large list of healthy, well developed children.

Insurance Men's Convention

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Frank Hardison, insurance commissioner of Massachusetts, delivered the principal address before the insurance men in convention here today. He urged his hearers to make their insurance policies fit the circumstances and needs of the insured and not burdens beyond their financial means to pay the premiums.

Other speakers today were Darby Day, manager of the Chicago department of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., and David Parks Packler, senior executive of the Actuarial Society of America.

$1,072,409 Laid Out on Boston Streets

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—According to the figures furnished by James H. Sullivan, the division engineer of the highway division, $1,072,409 has been spent for paving to date out of the $3,170,000 appropriated for the fiscal year by the Boston city council. The division has also $200,000 available for new streets, which is to be apportioned by the street commissioners.

HEAVY TRADING

IN UNITED STATES STEEL WHEN MARKET OPENED TODAY

Steady Improvement During the Afternoon and Market Closed Easy—Downward Tendency Exhibited

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Heavy trading in United States Steel started when the market opened today. In the first three transactions, 11,000 shares changed hands at 67 1/2, a decline of 1/2. The list as a whole was irregular with a majority of small declines. National Biscuit lost 1/2 and Can. Pac. 1/4.

Steady improvement occurred in the afternoon. Reading sold 1/2 above yesterday's close and full recoveries were made by Union Pacific, Amalgamated, Northern Pacific and other shares. Wabash, Union Pacific and Pittsburgh Terminal were forced down three points.

Prices of important stocks went below yesterday's low figures when the market opened today. Activity was on a large scale while prices were crumbling although there was less of the widespread liquidation of minor specialties which was a feature of yesterday's slump.

Banks still scanned the rapidly but the forced selling yesterday apparently disposed of large holdings of the less stable securities.

The selling movement spent its force around midday and there were recoveries of 1 to 1 1/2 which reduced the loss in the leaders to fractions. London bought largely on the break, taking fully 30,000 shares.

The market closed easy. Towards the close, short interests purchased steadily and restored prices quite generally to a parity with yesterday's closing in the last few minutes, however, the market exhibited a downward tendency.

REPUDIATE REMARKS OF BLEASE

Sweeping Resolution Adopted by Governors' Conference in Richmond Today

RICHMOND, Dec. 6.—A sweeping resolution repudiating the remarks of Gov. Blease of South Carolina in support of lynch law was adopted by the governors' conference today, by a vote of 11 to 1.

Governor Blease defending himself, snapped his fingers in the faces of the other governors and declared he cared not one whit what the conference did or left undone.

"Four times this morning has my life been threatened for my utterances," declared Gov. Blease. "I was quoted yesterday as saying 'To hell with the constitution.' I say now to all the governors of all the states and to all the people of the country what I said then."

"I hold in my hand," said Gov. Blease, "the paper which I have just signed, and I have just now signed it. I did not know and it was addressed to me in the care of the governor of Virginia."

"I know nothing of the letter," said Gov. Mann of Virginia. "I have just now signed it. I did not know and it was addressed to me in the care of the governor of Virginia."

"It doesn't matter," continued Gov. Mann. "I have just now signed it. I did not know and it was addressed to me in the care of the governor of Virginia."

Suits Against Boston Elevated

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Suits aggregating nearly $100,000, all of which are for personal damages received on the company's cars, were yesterday filed at the clerk of the superior courts' office, East Cambridge, against the Boston Elevated Railway company.

Top of His Head Blown Off

TAUNTON, Dec. 6.—An investigation of the death of Theodore Bobbett, a North Raynham farmer found today with the top of his head blown off, was made today by Medical Examiner Atwood. Dr. Atwood declined to make a public statement and reported his findings to District Attorney Kenney of New Bedford. Local officials said the shot which killed Bobbett appeared to have been fired from behind.

Patterson Trial Continues

CINCINNATI, Dec. 6.—Cross examination of Joseph Warren, an automobile dealer of Cincinnati, formerly an employee of the National Cash Register Co. of Dayton, O., was again taken up today when the trial of John Patterson, with 20 other officers and former officers of the company for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law was resumed in the United States district court.

Heated Debate in House Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—An attempt led by Rep. Bartlett to strike a $2000 civil service item from the legislative bill as a protest against President Taft's recent order placing about 30,000 fourth class postmasters in the classified service failed in the house today after a heated debate in which Rep. Mann charged the democratic members to pass it and "place themselves on record for the spoils system."

Hard Coal Freight Rates Advanced

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Hard coal marine freight rates from New York to Boston were advanced 15 cents a ton today. The higher rates affect vessels owned by the big anthracite companies. Increased cost of operating the barges is the reason given for the higher charge.

Russian Actress Married

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The theatrical section of New York was surprised to learn today of the marriage of Alfr. Kadmova, the Russian actress, to Charles E. Bryant, who has been a member of her company since the beginning of the present season. No announcement of their engagement had been made.

Opium Seized

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—A large quantity of opium, valued at between $5000 and $10,000 was seized in a raid in Chinatown by federal officers early today. A Chinese laundryman was probably fatally injured when he fell three stories from the window of his room as the officers burst in the door. Two other Chinese were arrested.

BOOTH 13

Lowell Food Fair

Yes, 13 is ours. Unlucky? Never. For Today and Saturday there will be a lady demonstrator at Booth 13, to show you that you'll not be unlucky if you visit us.

"Dustbane," the Sanitary Sweeping Compound, what it will do for you in caring for hardwood floors, carpets, rugs; why they use it at the Armory; how any woman can not well afford to do without it if she has the care of a home—all this will you learn if you call at our exhibit.

Just as like as not, you might be the one to draw one of our ends, the lucky one to receive a valuable X-mas present. When you visit our booth, ask for one.

A REPUBLICAN CONFESSION

We predicted a day or two ago, that republican leaders in advocating immediate reform of the currency would belie their former statements and charge up to the present currency system the panics of the past twenty years. Now comes the report of Secretary MacVeagh of the treasury doing that very thing. Other leaders have mildly stated what MacVeagh here emphasizes, to wit, that the present system promotes and develops panics and that the federal government in permitting this system to exist is responsible for the commercial, industrial and social disasters which flow from panics and attack directly or indirectly every home in the nation.

Mr. MacVeagh enumerates some of the reforms which he holds necessary to overcome present evils. First and foremost, he lays down as the prime essentials of our national currency, "never failing reserves, and never falling currency and the perfect elasticity and flexibility of both," together with the permanent organization and organized cooperation of the banks which are now suffering and causing the nation to suffer by reason of their unorganized state; a central agency, independent banking units, utilization and fluidity of bank assets, scientific development of exchanges, domestic and foreign; and, finally, that the United States treasury go out of the banking business.

As to the qualities our currency should possess Mr. MacVeagh is right, but as to the means of securing these qualities, those who are opposed to Wall street control will disagree with him. He favors a central agency which is but another name for Aldrich's central bank and if the treasury department relinquishes its control and supervision of the banks then the latter would exercise the function of issuing an asset currency which is deemed a dangerous source of inflation. Thus Wall street would be enabled to control the business of the country. The present system of currency has proved adequate to move a great harvest; but not to withstand gigantic gambling operations in Wall street at the same time.

There is no doubt as to the need of currency reform. It is a great problem with which the republican party has experimented since 1872, and today a republican official is authority for the statement that it is but a breeder of disastrous panics, which is true.

The problem is thus put forward for settlement by the democratic administration; but the money power will fight every attempt to curtail its influence or its control of the financial affairs of the country. Thus the problem is more difficult than that of the tariff and to radically change both about the same time would be quite hazardous.

THE WHIPPING POST

Governor Baldwin of Connecticut would have the whipping post restored for the punishment of certain criminals. For the wife beater, the burglar who uses torture to compel people to give up their money, the wretch who violates childish innocence and some other criminals, Governor Baldwin says the whipping post should be revived and we do not know but he is right. If a man steals a horse he is sure of punishment, if caught, but if he commits murder, he stands a fairly good chance of escape. The use of the whipping post instead of prolonged imprisonment would be preferable in some cases in the opinion of Governor Baldwin.

Judge Hadley when on the bench in the Lowell police court, often found cases of such depravity that he felt the whipping post alone could affect the desired change. A sentence to jail, to the reformatory or any penal institution has no terrors for the habitual criminal, the wife beater or the degenerate.

FALL RIVER CONTESTS

The city of Fall River had some hot contests to decide last Tuesday. The republicans elected the mayor, four aldermen-at-large and six of the nine ward aldermen, while the democrats secured control of the school board for the first time in the history of the city. The democrats claimed they had been unfairly treated by the school board in the past and they probably were; but it remains to be seen now whether they will adopt a policy of narrowness or set an example of conducting the business of the public schools upon merit, in order to secure the best educational results for all the people.

NO MORE FREE LUNCHEES

What a glorious thing is the referendum as applied in Los Angeles, where the people have decided by an emphatic majority against the free lunches in saloons. Now, suppose the falconists stand upon their constitutional rights to give away their lunches or their beer or their money, what effect will the mandate of the people have? To be sure the licensing power can take away a man's license if he refuses to follow the prescribed regulations, but this particular application of the referendum seems to be a degradation of a high prerogative of direct legislation.

THE PURE FOOD FAIR

The pure food fair now in progress in the armory should afford the people an opportunity to learn something about the method by which to distinguish pure food from that which is adulterated. The course of lectures is quite instructive to those who hear them, and as for the exhibits they are quite as good as some that have been displayed in the pure food fair in Boston and other cities. The local exhibits are quite creditable, the merchants showing a commendable spirit in trying to help the movement along.

MUST NOT MARRY FOREIGNERS

The Kaiser issues an edict forbidding German diplomats to marry foreign women. Just as soon as any German in the diplomatic service marries a foreigner, he is dropped from the service on the ground that his marriage is an indication that he does not wish to remain longer in the service. This is a revival of Bismarck's stern decree in regard to the diplomatic service. The Germans, as a rule, do not make a specialty of seeking foreign heiresses in marriage.

ENFORCING THE WIRELESS ACT

It is refreshing to find the United States government enforcing the laws for safety of passengers on trans-Atlantic liners. The captain of the Numidian at New York was arrested on the charge that his ship was not complying with the act of congress specifying the wireless equipment for ocean liners. This will cause other liners also to look to their wireless outfit.

President Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford is getting some hard knocks from the New York and Boston papers on account of the proposed alliance with the Grand Trunk. President Mellen had many projects on hand for the improvement of his own lines before this proposition came up and in all probability before the investigation is over he will find it to his advantage to proceed with these, letting the Grand Trunk take care of itself.

The whole of Massachusetts will say amen to the statement of Mayor Fitzgerald, that the United States government should own the coal mines. The present exorbitant prices paid by the coal operators or somebody for them should bring about a change that would make a repetition impossible.

The Interstate Commerce commission is to investigate the exorbitant price of coal. This body has the power to reduce the price, and it will earn the gratitude of the entire nation if it lowers the price and makes some provisions by which the annual hold-up will be prevented.

When the constitution is changed to allow the popular election of U. S. senators the electoral college by which the will of the majority in this country is often overruled should be abolished. The president and vice president should also be elected by popular vote.

Very few have any sympathy for the men and women who lost vast sums on the book swindle. Had they been asked to expend their money for some charitable purpose, they would have promptly refused to contribute.

"Muscular Christianity" as illustrated in boxing bouts is the latest form of amusement at a Hempstead, L. I. church club. The despatch does not state whether the umpire opened the bouts with prayer.

Seen and Heard

James Oliver, Curwood, author of "The Flower of the North" tells the following story about the men to be found in the country about Hudson Bay, where the scene of his story is laid.

"I was at Prince Albert," he says, "sitting on the veranda of the little old Windsor hotel, facing the Saskatchewan. During the few days previous a number of factors, trappers and half-breed cowboys had come down from the north. One of these men had not been down to the edge of civilization for seven years. Three of the others had not been down in a year, and this was the annual trip of the other eight—for there were just 13 of us sitting there together."

"We were smoking and talking when a young woman turned up the narrow walk leading to the veranda. Immediately every voice was hushed, and as the woman came up the steps those 12 roughly clad men of the wilderness rose to their feet to a man. They stood silent and with bowed heads, until the young woman had passed into the hotel. It was the most beautiful tribute to womanhood I had ever seen. And I, the man from civilization, was the only one who remained sitting, with my hat still on my head."

The distinction of being the first clergyman to travel by aeroplane is likely to be a dying man, says the New York Sun, falls to Fr. Andre, a French priest serving with the troops in Morocco.

He was busy in the hospital at Laghouat when a young aeronaut, Lieut. Gregard, entered his room and asked him if it were possible for him to come with him by aeroplane in order to give the sacrament to a dying officer who had been shot by the enemy.

Two were heartily cheered by the soldiers when they descended in the French camp.

The wounded man when told he must die had said: "To die is nothing; but to die without the consolations of religion is sad." Lieut. Gregard had

SIMPLE WAY TO BANISH HEMORRHOIDS

DISTRESS QUICKLY RELIEVED AND THIS MOST PERSISTENT DISEASE CONQUERED

Why should you suffer longer, when in every druggist's of consequence in Lowell and vicinity you can secure a physician's home treatment for hemorrhoids or piles that has been wonderfully successful in practice and that is highly recommended by physicians and pharmacists?

This effective process is known as ENGLISH HEMORRHOID TREATMENT and the instructions are so easy to follow that the disease can be privately and quickly overcome right in your own home.

The ENGLISH HEMORRHOID TREATMENT consists of three separate formulae, all put up in one package. In one box you will find suppositories; in another an ointment; and in still another a box of tablets to be taken internally. Each box of each can be obtained at 50 cents.

Each of these formulae serves its purpose perfectly and the result is prompt relief, followed by complete disappearance of the distressing disease or your money back.

Bear in mind that the ENGLISH HEMORRHOID TREATMENT is a complete cure. It has been used for years in the practice of many physicians with remarkable success and is now offered direct to sufferers by pharmacists who know its value.

The dying man was still alive when the priest arrived. He made his confession and received communion and a few minutes afterward died.

SILLY WILLIE

Willie the silly was eager to fight. He longed to get into a row. He boasted and blustered by day and by night.

He wished to gain glory somehow. When he found a big boy who was ragged and thin, And sickly and awkward and meek, With a wild wallop Willie the silly satled in.

And gave him a slap on the cheek. Then Willie the silly half bursting with pride, Went onward still looking for gore; Like the best that has tasted of blood, Willie sighed.

For a chance to be fighting some more; He found a small boy who was full of dismay. A wail who was scared half to death, And Willie the silly went snatching away.

Depriving the other of breath. So Willie the silly forgot to be coy, And he stepped upon smaller boys' toes; He imagined that he was the cleverest boy.

That ever had battered a nose; But it happened one day as he strutted along, That a boy with strong muscles was met.

Now Willie the silly things fighting is, And his nose has a scab on it yet. 'Tis important to win, but if we're to hold.

The places we gain at the top There's a thing that is better than pride or (just gold). And that is to know when to stop.

home at Indianapolis. The poet says he knew Kretschmar well and still is his friend. The letter is a literary gem. Kretschmar killed Jones on Feb. 2, 1909. At the trial he pleaded self-defense. A jury fixed his sentence at 18 years in the penitentiary. Just before he entered the prison he tried to take his life by cutting his throat.

Riley's letter to Governor Hadley is as follows:

"Word has just reached me that everywhere the friends of Herman Kretschmar are making an earnest effort to secure, by petition, Kretschmar's release from the Missouri state penitentiary. As one who knew him well, who admired him greatly, who was ever won to him by his endearing personality and who is still proud to call him friend, I wish to add my plea to those already presented.

"Were I able physically I should consider it a privilege to journey to Jefferson City that I might make my application in person. But this is denied me and I must ask you to read into this letter the warmth and urgency of the spoken word."

"That my friend has, or ever had, any guilt in his soul is as unthinkable to me as that vice and virtue are one and inseparable. If ever an honest, straightforward eye sparkled in the head of a true man it sparkled in the head of Herman Kretschmar."

"If punishment was the object of his incarceration, has it not been amply accomplished?"

"If he was to be made a warning to others, has not the lesson been fully driven home?"

"If the protection of society was contemplated, can there now be any fear of danger from a man whose good record and good friends alike plead for clemency?"

"And so, my dear governor, I ask that the poor fragments of my friend's unhappy life be given into his own keeping, believing in all sincerity that he will weld them into a golden whole, to his own peace, and to the benediction of him who grants them."

"With great respect, believe me, faithfully yours,

Athletes and Climatic Conditions

Experts have long contended that climatic conditions play a prominent part in athletics. Alfred Shrubb says the English climate is more conducive to distance running than the climate in other parts of the world. "Bad"

Moulton, who trained and developed George Horine, the remarkable high jumper, says the climate in the east kept Horine from making the showing he made in California. Moulton says eastern athletes would show a big improvement in jumping if they contested in southern California.

When Bart Kerrigan of Seattle, the high jumper, was in the east in 1903, he said he was good for an inch better in Seattle than he could get out of himself in New York. Forrest Smithson while discountenancing Dan Kelly's alleged 100 yard performance in 9.5 seconds in Spokane in 1906, said there was no doubt but that a sprinter could run faster in some parts of the west than he could in the east.

Charles E. Holway, the famous professional sprinter, who is an especially keen student of athletics, recently said:

"In South Africa the climate is very hot. While there I could not produce my best results consistently, although at times I ran faster in Johannesburg than I ever ran in my life. Without a doubt in that city, which is 6000 feet above the sea level, a man can run two yards faster in a hundred than he can run in Europe or America, which is probably due to the same rarefied air I should imagine the same results could be obtained in Denver or some of our western cities of high altitude and dry air."

BANKER ROSS

Arguments in Case of Man Sentenced to 700 Years Imprisonment Heard by Supreme Court Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The case of T. T. Ross, the Portland, Ore., banker, sentenced to imprisonment for 700 years in the county jail unless he paid a fine of $76,853.74 and who underwent a five years imprisonment in the state penitentiary, was on for his appeal today before the supreme court. Ross was president of the Title Guaranty & Trust Co. in Portland in 1906. He and other bank officials were charged with larceny. The sentence had been set aside by the supreme court of Oregon as being excessive.

Ross' attorneys claimed that the Oregon court lost jurisdiction over the case because three days before sentence was pronounced on him, the state adopted a constitutional amendment substituting indictments for informations as the proper form of accusing persons of crime.

Of the Tewksbury Board of Trade

Hold Last Evening—Annual Meeting Will Be Held in January

The members of the Tewksbury board of trade held a very interesting meeting last night at the town hall in the Centre. The meeting was presided over by President H. M. Lawrence, M. D., and was more in the form of a

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Warnis, Charged With Murder Given Hearing

LAVERGNE, Dec. 6.—Joseph Warnis, charged with the murder of Mrs. Veronica Brennan, was given a preliminary hearing in police court this morning before Judge Mahoney. The court found probable cause and bound the defendant over to the grand jury without bail.

The annual meeting of the board will be held on the first Thursday of January at which time the election of officers will take place for the ensuing year. It is expected that all of the officers will come up for re-election.

An important question to be taken up by the members of the board is that of having the roads leading to Lowell put in proper condition. There is a stretch on Rogers street near Westmont which is not as it ought to be and this will soon be remedied providing other roads such as one part of Gorham street are also put in good condition. This matter will probably be taken up at the next meeting and the members of the board have decided to use all their influence to have these roads repaired for they claim they are a menace to the public as well as to automobiles or wagons.

The meeting last night closed with interesting remarks by several members who spoke on matters concerning the board and its future.

GIRL ELOPER ASKS AID

Boston Girl Appealed to N. Y. Police Chief

Refuses to Quit Her Husband on Mother's Offer to Supply Funds for Her Return to Boston

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—How the magnetic spell exercised over her by a former beach professional high diver remained unbroken despite a fond mother's bitter opposition and his apparent worthlessness, inability to provide a home and subsequent desertion was revealed yesterday when the former Miss Celestine Mauduit, of 115 Charles street, West end, appealed for aid to the chief of police of Watertown, N. Y.

The girl arrived in that city Wednesday accompanied by the man she secretly married in Boston last August, having left Boston a week ago to join him at Syracuse. Leaving home she was provided with funds more than enough to last her for the week and to pay her return fare to Boston.

To Chief of Police Baxter of Watertown, she declared she was without friends and without a dollar and asked that a wife be hurried for relief. Wednesday night Chief Baxter received a message from the girl's mother saying that she would wire enough money for transportation and Pullman accommodations for her daughter if she would leave the man and return home. This the girl refused to do and stated that she would stay with her husband at any cost.

Worried over her daughter's plight, Mrs. Mauduit sought the advice of a lawyer and yesterday he forwarded sufficient funds for her return to Boston to Chief Baxter, instructing him that they were to be given to the girl only if she gave up her husband.

Late last night the girl's mother when seen at her home said she would freely forgive her daughter if she would return home, but stated that under no consideration would she aid her if her husband remained with her.

Mrs. Mauduit said, was unprincipled and was endeavoring to live on what he could obtain from the family.

Friends of the family say the girl, who is now 22 years old, first met the man when he was a high diver at the beach, more than a year ago. He was then known as Frank Rosborough, and shortly after meeting the girl he was away from her continuously up to last August. It is said that he had been sent to prison for a year.

During this time a correspondence was kept up and when he responded they were secretly married. Later they went to New York where funds provided by the girl's mother and shortly after he is said to have enlisted in the army, leaving the girl unprotected for. Since was thought to have come to a realization of his worthlessness and last week asked for funds to go to Watertown to institute divorce proceedings.

At Watertown according to dispatches her husband is known as C. Madeline. He was well dressed and on joining his wife said he was a vaudeville performer but that he would accept any kind of employment. The girl, attired in a large picture hat and wearing a neat tailored suit trimmed with ermine, created a bit of excitement when she pleaded for aid.

A collection was taken up by the police and the girl and her husband were quartered at the Weldon House. The former Miss Mauduit admitted that she had married against the will of her mother but emphatically refused to leave her husband.

Jailed for Using Bad Checks

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—James H. Murray, the Norwood house painter who pleaded guilty to two counts of cashing worthless checks, drawn on the Norwood bank and signed by himself, was sentenced yesterday to 10 months in the house of correction in Dedham by Judge Emory Grover of the Dedham district court.

Verona Cameron, Norwood, who was with Murray at the time the checks were cashed, also pleaded guilty and was put on probation for one year.

Boston Fire Chief Sues for Divorce

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—District Chief Edwin A. Perkins, one of the most popular and efficient officers in the Boston fire department and in charge of the 6th district, South Boston, has brought suit for divorce, alleging desertion, against Isabel D. Perkins, also living in this city.

The district chief and his wife have been separated for 17 years, and in his suit filed yesterday at the court house, the lieutenant sets forth that his wife deserted him on Oct. 1, 1895. They were married on Sept. 7, 1882, and lived in the South and West ends while the fire fighter was winning his spurs in the department, which he entered as a call man on May 7, 1876.

When seen at his quarters at Fourth and Dorchester streets last night Chief Perkins at first refused to talk about the case, but finally made this brief statement:

"The separation sought will be mutual and agreeable to both parties, and will not be contested. I don't think it is necessary to say anything further than that."

In view of the fact that the couple have been living apart so many years, hardly any one seen last night in the South Boston district knew that the district chief was a married man, although he has been in charge of the district since March 1, 1901.

District Chief Perkins was born in (Himington, N. H., on May 11, 1855. He came to Boston in 1862 and after leaving school learned the carpenter's trade, which he followed until he joined the fire department. He has won his way in the present office step by step by means of efficiency and personal bravery and has had many narrow escapes from death at fires in his 36 years of service. He lives at 8 Linden street, South Boston.

Adams Express Co. Suffers Loss

In one of the recent wrecks of the New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co. in the vicinity of Waterbury, a special shipment of millinery from the headquarters of the Broadway Wholesale Millinery Co. was badly damaged, and as the goods were being carried by the Adams Express Co. they were compelled to take the entire loss. They have made a prompt settlement with the Broadway Wholesale Millinery Co. in full and the shipment now goes on sale at a mere fraction of actual wholesale value. Of course the Express company takes the loss, and the selling which is to commence tomorrow morning, according to the announcement of the Broadway Wholesale Millinery Co., should prove to be one of the biggest bargain events in the history of sales in Lowell. This well known concern's local salesrooms are prominently located at 133 Merrimack street, up one flight.

Civil Service Examinations

The civil service commission announces that competitive examinations for positions in the classified service will be held as follows during month of January, 1913:

Jan. 13: Clerks, messengers, class 3.

Jan. 15: Janitors and engineers of public buildings, class 24.

Jan. 17: Engineers in the service of Lowell employed in positions where, by law they are required to hold first and second class licenses, class 26.

Jan. 17: Foremen of laborers, inspectors of work, class 22.

Jan. 22: Policemen, class 15.

Jan. 22: Firemen, class 21.

Blank for the above listed examinations may be obtained by applying to James L. Carmichael, secretary of the board of civil service examiners for Lowell and when filled out should be filed with him at once.

Applicants for Lowell civil engineering service will be examined Jan. 1st, 1913, in Boston.

EDUCATION NOTES

Two-thirds of the high schools in the United States now have complete four-year courses.

A compulsory school attendance law for Alaska is urged by Dr. T. P. Clayton, United States commissioner of education, who has charge of the schools for natives in the territory.

Of 22,224 school children recently examined by medical inspectors in a large city-school system only 28,721 were free from physical defects, the remaining 33,503 were found physically defective in one or more particulars.

Instruction in elementary mining is recommended by the British board of education for schools in mining districts. It is suggested that such instruction can be most effectively given, not in separate and detached lessons, but in connection with the regular school subjects.

Separate Schools

Separate schools are necessary for the proper solution of the vocational school problem in the United States, according to Edwin G. Cooley, of Chicago, special investigator of vocational education. These schools says Mr. Cooley, must not be regarded as substitutes for the present schools, which are doing satisfactorily a necessary work, but as supplementary to them.

There is a high school over a store at Norris, Missouri. Four families who wanted their children to have a high-school education without going to town for it established such a school over the village store. The course of study is that of standard Missouri high schools, and the work is fully approved by the state authorities. Other country high schools of the same kind are planned.

Nearly two thousand titles of books and articles on children appear in the "Bibliography of Child Study, 1910-11," compiled by the library of Clark university and just issued for free distribution by the United States Bureau of Education. Such topics of current interest as the Boy Scouts, Binet tests, exceptional children, crime among minors, infant mortality, eugenics, open-air schools, medical inspection, sex education, and vocational training are included in the titles listed.

A unique feature of the "Deutsche Haus" of Columbia university is the library, which is unlike any other in that it combines itself to current German literature since 1871. Director Tombo is making the library of the "Haus" essentially a repository of a material of immediate interest, and the result is a collection of books, articles, newspaper clippings and other fugitive material that is not available at any other library or university.

GRACE CHURCH SUPPER RATES FOR COMMUTERS

The Men Proved Agreeable Hosts Recommended by State Railroad Board

The men of Grace church showed themselves to be excellent hosts and waiters last night when they prepared and served a delicious turkey supper to a large number of people.

Last night was men's night at the church, and the supper and entertainment were given under their direction. It has always been the custom at the church for the men to give one supper and entertainment each year. The ladies have charge of the supper given during the year with the exception of this one. The men were all dressed in white aprons and appeared to be expert waiters. Dr. Wiley himself could not have complained of the meal.

Those who were in charge of the dining room were Dr. G. Forrest Martin and John W. Stott. The waiters were as follows: Henry H. Harris, C. Arthur Abbott, William M. Sherwell, James Stuart Murphy, Frederick W. Farnham, Arthur J. Dixon, Clarence Moore, Charles Perham, Chas. N. Woodward, Alanson Gray, Fred W. Maxwell, Dr. C. F. Harris, William B. Potter, Perry D. Thompson, C. W. Alford, F. H. Safford, J. B. Sutton, Chas. S. Tewksbury, Frank B. Kenney, H. W. Morse and Charles H. Hanson. As a waiting combination this probably excels anything ever brought together in Lowell.

It is estimated that 300 sat down. At 7:45 o'clock the young ladies of the Pawtucket Congregational church presented "A Modern Sewing Society," a one-act entertainment in which there was much humor. The cast was as follows: President, Miss Laura Bellamy; "Mrs. Wise," Mrs. L. A. Ayer; "Mrs. Short," Miss Ida Cummings; "Mrs. Truthful," Mrs. R. E. Dodge; "Mrs. Knowall," Mrs. A. S. Park; "Mrs. Brown," Miss Hortense Taber; "Mrs. Gossip," Miss Helen Rivet; "Mrs. Green," Miss Helen Mansfield; "Miss Fort," Mrs. J. V. B. Colburn; "Miss Simple," Miss Ina McKinley; "Miss Flutter," Miss Luella Conley; "Miss Chatter," Miss Amella Raelcoot; "Mrs. Jones," a visitor, Miss Rita Henderson, and "Miss Small," the new teacher, Miss Helen Bulfinch.

Additional entertainment was furnished by John Dalton, tenor, who gave several numbers and who was roundly applauded. And Dr. James Kelly of Somerville, whose Scotch songs in costume constituted one of the evening's highlights. James Stuart Murphy and F. H. Safford had general charge of the entertainment.

NEVER SUSPECTED KIDNEY TROUBLE—GAINED FIFTY POUNDS IN WEIGHT

Some time ago I was suffering from what I supposed was rheumatism. I became so bad that I could hardly get on my feet from a sitting position. I ran down in weight from 135 to 145 pounds. I tried different kinds of medicine but received little or no help. I saw Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root highly recommended for kidney trouble but I never had any idea that my kidneys were affected. I thought I would try a fifty-cent bottle of Swamp-Root and see what the effect would be. I commenced taking it according to directions and in a few days I saw that it was helping me. I used the thirty-cent bottle and then bought three more dollar bottles and they completely cured me. I have gone back to my original weight—135 pounds—and I am a thorough advocate of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as I believe it to be a remarkable preparation for what it is recommended to do.

WILLIAM H. PARTCH, New Haven, Ct.

Personally appeared before me this 1st day of September, 1909, William H. Partch, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

D. A. ROULEAU, Justices of the Peace.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention The Lowell Sun. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

2 of Chapter 463 of the Acts of 1906. "These recommendations are to become effective on Jan. 1, 1913, or as soon thereafter as practicable."

THE 45TH ANNIVERSARY

Div. I, A. O. H., Held Smoke

Talk Last Night

Hibernian hall was the scene of a festive event last night when Division I of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held the last meeting of its 45th year.

A large gathering of members was present at the business meeting and smoke talk and a delightful program was prepared for the evening's entertainment.

The business session opened shortly after 8 o'clock and at this a number of new members were initiated. President Daniel Hogan was in the chair as the presiding officer.

A social was then held in the form of a smoke talk, and there were many enthusiastic speeches, after which refreshments were served. President Hogan acted as toastmaster, and members of the municipal council and school board delivered addresses. The principal numbers were furnished by the well known 20th Century Bachelor club of this city, and through their efforts these present were royally entertained. The following program was well rendered: Song, "Don't Be Ashamed You're Irish," El Shea; song, "The Land of My Golden Dreams," John J. Dalton; "Dear Old Dec," John Devlin; "Medley-Burlesque," Walter Davies; song, "James Rose," song, Henry Curry; "I'm the Guy," William Warren; song, James E. Donnelly; and "The Star Spangled Banner," by the entire company. Richard J. Noonan was accompanist of the evening. Sheehan's orchestra furnished music during part of the evening.

The officers of Division I are: President, Daniel E. Hogan; vice president, Michael F. Casey; recording secretary, George Stewart; financial secretary, James Sheehan; treasurer, Thomas McCann.

St. John's, No. Chelmsford

A triduum in honor of the Immaculate Conception opened last evening in St. John's church, No. Chelmsford, and with a large congregation in attendance. Rosary and instructions were given followed by benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The services will be held this evening at the same hour as also the services in honor of the Sacred Heart.

Skull Fractured

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 6.—A man believed to be John Boland, connected with a private detective agency of New York and Chicago, was found last night with his skull fractured in a cafe on upper Third avenue. The police have been unable to find anyone who knows anything of Boland or his business here. At the city hospital it was said his injuries were serious.

Guilty of Violating Neutrality Laws

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Dec. 6.—Miguel Quiroga, who acted as secretary to Gen. Bernardo Reyes, when the latter was in San Antonio preparing to launch an expedition into Mexico last year, was found guilty in the federal district court yesterday of violating the neutrality laws. Sentence will be passed today. Quiroga was indicted with a number of his countrymen last January.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS WOMEN MAKE MISTAKE

That Children Can Make in Spare Time In Not Caring for Clothes in Time

A four leafed clover teapot holder is something any child of seven or eight years of age and over could make for mother's Christmas present. It may be cut from velvet and bound about the edges with silk or ribbon. The holder should be neatly lined with silk and between the velvet and silk a layer of wadding should be placed to give sufficient thickness.

A Set of Cheesecloth Dusters

This gift may be made from a yard of cheesecloth in several different shades. Brier stitch the edges of the cloth and applique an initial in the corner. Blue, green and pink combined in a set makes a nice, cheerful present. A loop fastened to the corner of the duster makes it easy to hang and keep in order.

Cover For Medicine Glass

Cover a round of pasteboard cut just a little larger than an ordinary tumbler with cretonne or chintz, pasting the fabric nicely over the circle. This will make a nice little cover to place over the glass in which medicine is placed.

A Hatpin Holder

A long narrow bottle is used to make this useful gift. Fill the bottle half full of sand so that it will not upset easily and to the top tie a little silk cushion stuffed with wool.

HOW TO DESTROY THE DANDRUFF GERM

BY A SPECIALIST

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power to live. There are, particularly, pleased to give here, with the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found easily and to the top tie a little silk cushion stuffed with wool.

White Veil With Beauty Spot Latest Whim of Mme. La Mode

The latest whim of Mme. la Mode is the white veil with a black beauty spot, which comes wherever the ordinary beauty spot of court plaster would be chief, becoming or daring. This velvet hat and beauty spot veil accompany a blouse of orange velvet and white machine-embroidery veiled with chiffon.

BABIES NOT ALLOWED

In New York Hotel, Says
Broker

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Clinton S. Dow, a New York broker, testified on Wednesday before Judge Erwin in Jersey City that he did not owe the Fairmount hotel of that city $50, that the hotel management seriously objected to babies, but had no objection to dogs, and that, when he was a proud and happy expectant father, he was informed that he had better take his wife and dog to other quarters and make ready to greet his heir apparent.

YOUR HAIR IS FLUFFY, BEAUTIFUL AND LUSTROUS IN A FEW MOMENTS

Girls. Get a 25 cent bottle of "Danderine" and try this. Also stops falling hair

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Put what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drugstore or toilet counter, and just try it.

KNUCKLES USED TO CRACK AND BLEED

Hands Chapped, Suffered Terrible Pain. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment Five Weeks, Hands Fine.

674 Park Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.—"My hands used to chap and bleed and they pained me very much. When I put them in water they used to burn terribly, especially in hot water. My hands looked dirty; that was because they were so chapped. The knuckles used to crack and bleed and I suffered terrible pain. I tried different remedies but they never did any good. A friend told me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I got some and made a lather from the Cuticura Soap and bathed my hands, then I dried them and put the Cuticura Ointment on and put on a pair of old gloves. I was surprised to see how my hands were healed. They used to be red and rough and now they are soft as velvet. I tried the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for a week and they got fine. I have no more trouble with my hands since I always use Cuticura Soap and I can't praise it enough to all my friends." (Signed) Mrs. M. Weisman, Dec. 22, 1911.

WILSON AND BRYAN

How Agreement for Conference Was Made

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Dec. 6.—The story of just how the engagement for the approaching conference of President-elect Wilson and William Jennings Bryan came to be made was told yesterday.

It seems that just before Mr. Wilson's departure from Princeton, word came to Mr. Bryan that Mr. Wilson was going to Florida. It happened that Mr. Bryan already had made plans to visit Miami, and in writing the president-elect casually mentioned the fact, adding that he might drop in on the next president some day if the latter happened to be nearby.

The letter was received by Mr. Wilson after he arrived in Hamilton. In reply he said that he would be pleased to meet his distinguished friend when he returned to the United States. This is the extent of the correspondence.

The president-elect is not permitting himself to be troubled over predictions of factional differences.

"I know that there have been all sorts of cross-crosses," he said yesterday, "but there is not going to be any trouble. Why, it would be downright stupidity to start trouble in the present state of things, and those who expect it are going to be fooled, and badly fooled, too."

Immediately upon his return home Mr. Wilson will meet many of the party leaders, though no engagement other than that with Mr. Bryan has been made.

Mr. Wilson has not permitted affairs of state to dull his sense of humor. Asked to sit in a chair at a local shop, which is said to have been occupied by President Cleveland and President Hayes, the president-elect obliged. As he rose one of the party asked, "Did you feel any sensation?"

"No," was the laughing reply. "I guess they forgot to turn on the switch."

FRANKLIN, N. H., Dec. 6.—The sixth annual poultry show of the Winnipesaukee Poultry Association closed its three days' session last evening at the Opera House.

Olus Daniel of Milton, with a bronze turkey weighing 50 pounds, took first prize in that class. His bird, the heaviest in the state, is named for Woodrow Wilson.

James S. Diamond exhibited a hen that was seen to lay two eggs within 10 minutes.

Dr. Charles H. Cutler of Peterboro had the highest scoring bird in the show with a silver duckling game.

Died on Street Car
HAVERHILL, Dec. 6.—John D. Long, aged 66, was stricken ill and died almost instantly on an electric car while returning to the home of his daughter, Mrs. John McCusker, at 50, Groveland, last evening. Death was due to heart failure.

WE ARE GOING TO MAKE OUR FIRST XMAS IN YOUR MIDST ONE TO REMEMBER

Our sales at Christmas time have always been enormous. Why? Because a piano is the best gift you can give to the children. Nothing gives them so much pleasure. Isn't it better that your child should be happy at home instead of loafing around the streets? In these days, also, a musical education counts a whole lot. We have made thousands of homes happy. We sell pianos, all the world's best makes, at prices you can afford to pay. We sell pianos, not "pianos plus expenses." We have no high rent to pay, no "gilded" fixtures, no salesmen on the road, etc., to have you pay for when you buy your piano. Have you been in our salesrooms yet? You'll feel "at ease" the minute you enter. Do your duty towards your children and pay us a visit. You'll be just as welcome whether you purchase or not. Let us have a personal talk with you. We are offering some wonderful bargains this week. We want to set a "Xmas record in sales" to work on in "future years" and our prices are "extremely low." Go visit other dealers first and then come here and see the difference.

Special Notice to Piano Dealers!

Your old Piano, Organ, Phonograph, Typewriter, Furniture, Desks, Jewelry or anything else of value taken as payment. No pianos will be sold to dealers or makers for a less price than marked for public sale. Each piano is marked a selling price to cover expenses, and in no case can a maker of dealer get a lower price than an individual. This applies to a dealer's or manufacturer's own make or any other make.

We want you to know that we have no extra charges if you pay for your piano as you agree. In case of sickness or loss of work we do not look for payments. In case of death we give a clear bill of sale to relatives, no matter how little has been paid. We do everything within reason to have all our customers satisfied and we may say that we are here to stay.

CLEAR NAME OF CITY

Unique Plan

LAWRENCE, Dec. 5.—Continuing the campaign to clear the name of the city of Lawrence from the shadow cast upon it by the disorder attending the 187 textile strike of last winter, the citizens committee plans to issue stamps, similar to Christmas seals, which residents will be asked to attach to all letters and packages placed in the mails. A prize has been offered for a suitable design for the stamp. The campaign of the committee was started on Columbus day with a long parade in which every person carried an American flag. This display was followed by a request that all citizens wear a small American flag on their coats and that stores and public buildings fly the Stars and Stripes conspicuously until Thanksgiving. On Thanksgiving day a number of patriotic mass meetings were held.

Colonel Goethals, Panama Canal Chief, May be Made a General

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—For his splendid work in building the Panama canal Colonel George W. Goethals, chairman of the isthmus canal commission, may be advanced to a full generalship in the army, with title and rank corresponding to that in the navy now held by Admiral George Dewey. The promotion would be for life and not subject him to retirement for any cause. Prominent among men who favor conferring this honor is Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, minority leader of the house, who with a party of other congressmen, recently made an inspection of the canal zone. Mr. Mann is enthusiastic, almost extravagant, in his praise of the canal chairman. He declares that the very least reward that can be bestowed is that of general for life in the army. This honor of enjoying the rank of full general has fallen to only four other men in the history of the American army—Washington, Grant, Sherman and Sheridan.

CHRISTMAS SALE HELD

By Women of First Unitarian Church

A Christmas sale was held in the vestry of the First Unitarian church yesterday, and the affair proved to be a great success. The sale opened in the forenoon and closed at 5 p. m. A very fine luncheon was served at noon and about 150 people enjoyed the delicious meal.

The tables did a very thriving business and over 1000 Red Cross stamps were sold at the Christmas card table. Practically all of the tables were sold out at 5 o'clock. Everyone present enjoyed themselves.

Those who took part in the sale are as follows:

Fancy table—Miss Jennie Allen, Mrs. George R. Chandler, Mrs. C. T. Billings, Mrs. Edward Coburn, Mrs. C. H. Hobson, Mrs. W. B. Clark, Miss Annie Baker, Miss Emma Rosmer, Mrs. A. H. Morton, Mrs. J. A. Hemenway, Miss Helen Jowers, Mrs. Arthur Mansour, Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. A. S. Guild. Domestic table and Mrs. A. H. Scribner, Mrs. Geo.

Sideboard Scarf of Fillet and Madeira Work is a Very Charming Gift for the Housewife

Russian lace and madeira embroidery have been effectively combined in this rich scarf for a sideboard. Sometimes square motifs of machine embroidery are combined with the Russian fillet squares with good effect, cluny entre deux being used to join the pieces. This idea could be carried out in less expensive laces and would make a charming gift for the housewife.

ELECTION OF CAPTAIN For Harvard Football Eleven for 1913 Was Postponed Until After Holiday Vacation. CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 6.—The selection of a captain for the Harvard football team for 1913 was, as usual, postponed until after the holiday vacation today. The election is causing considerable interest throughout the college. Two players prominently mentioned for the position are H. J. Hitchcock of Hopedale and H. T. Storer of Brookline, juniors who played right and left tackle respectively on the varsity.

team throughout the season. Storer had the honor of making the first touchdown for Harvard against Yale in eleven years. The question of a coach for next season is expected to be settled about the time that a cap- tain is chosen. The engagement of P. D. Haughton expired with the present year and a movement has already been started to induce him to remain in charge of the Crimson team for another five years.
